

FEDERAL RESERVE BODY
AT CRISIS OF CAREER

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1929 by Post Pub. Co.

Washington—The federal reserve board has reached the crisis of its career of 15 years. Originally designed as a protection against money control by Wall Street, the federal reserve board now faces a challenge by the speculators aided by important banks—and that challenge will be met by drastic action if necessary to compel conformity to its policies.

The board has been disturbed not so much by the action of Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City bank, in pegging, so to speak, the call money rate at 15 per cent by a willingness to lend $25,000,000, but by the quoted statement of Mr. Mitchell in which he said "We feel that we have an obligation which is paramount to any federal reserve warning or anything else to avert so far as lies within our power any dangerous crisis in the market."

Naturally Mr. Mitchell had to borrow the $25,000,000 at the federal reserve bank in New York and by agreeing to lend this money, the New York institution by inference acquiesced in his action for the federal reserve was only interested in breaking down speculation and not in forcing a situation in which money could not be had by anybody at any price.

CRITICISM OF BOARD?

The words of Mr. Mitchell, however, have been studied here for their significance in relation to the prestige of the federal reserve board. Mr. Mitchell is a director of the federal reserve bank of New York having been elected by members of the board. To the extent that the board of directors of the federal reserve bank of New York are presumed to have been acting in harmony with the federal reserve board in Washington, which has the power of review of its actions, the statement by Mr. Mitchell is regarded as unfortunate in that it may be construed by the banking world as a criticism on his part of the famous

Turn to Page 2, Col. 3

FIVE PERSONS KILLED
IN AIRPLANE SMASHUP

Riverside, Calif.—The sheriff's office reported Saturday that an airplane carrying five persons had crashed at Beaumont, near here, killing all the occupants. The victims had not been identified. The officials said the Southern Pacific transmissal plane at Beaumont reported that the gas tank of the plane had burst and that it crashed in flames against the side of a mountain.

TWO DIE IN MEXICO

Mexico City.—(AP)—Pilots H. D. McLean and H. A. Peterson, paymaster of the Transcontinental Petroleum company, both Americans, were killed Saturday in the crash of a Mexican Aviation Company airplane near Tampico. A third unidentified man was injured.

LAKE NAVIGATION OPEN
FOR U. S. AND CANADA

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—(AP)—The ferry Agomog opened navigation on St. Mary river Saturday when it began its scheduled run between the American and Canadian Saults. Ferry service also started between this city and Sugar Island.

The coast guard tug Chippewa broke out ice in the river Friday. Some parts of the ice was 20 inches thick.

Lake Superior is nearly a foot above its normal level for March but despite resulting flood menace on the lower river, the opening of the five gates of the international compensation treaty above the falls of St. Mary was ordered.

State ferries will probably be in operation Monday at the Straits of Mackinac which are clear of solid ice.

VIRGINIA VAN WIE
WINNER AT TOURNEY

Southern Pines, N. C.—(AP)—Miss Virginia Van Wie Saturday was the holder of the 1929 Midwest Women's golf championship won Friday from a field of leading feminine stars.

The Chicago girl finished the two days' play yesterday with a card of 162, a margin of three strokes over the field. Trail her in second place was Miss Glenna Collett of Providence R. I., the national champion.

DR. FRANK CONDEMNS
RACIAL PREJUDICE

Madison.—(AP)—Nordic race prejudice might be the downfall of western civilization. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, told 500 persons attending the international weekend here in an address Friday night. He urged improvement of all races by the methods of modern science and added that science has not made findings sufficiently definite to justify any one race considering itself superior.

QUEEN AT BURIAL OF HER SISTER-IN-LAW

Windsor, England.—(AP)—Queen Mary joined members of her family at Windsor castle chapel Saturday at funeral services for a noted figure of the old regime—her sister-in-law, the Dowager Marchioness of Cambridge.

CONE MURDER TALE PROVED LIE

INTEREST IN VOTE CENTERS
ON DRY LAWS

Both Sides See Referendums as Influence of Prohibition in State

Milwaukee.—(AP)—Viewed by both sides as having an important bearing on the state's future course in the enforcement of prohibition, Wisconsin neared the close of another wet and dry fight which will be decided at the polls next Tuesday.

In an effort to gain the decision on two prohibition questions proposed by the wets, both schools of thought have conducted an intensive campaign during the past few weeks, in which national leaders of their organized forces have participated.

By a "yes" and "no" vote, the state's citizenry will express its attitude toward the Severyn law, state prohibition enforcement act and a proposal to eliminate the penalties for manufacture and sale of beverages of not more than 2.75 alcoholic content.

Bills have been introduced in the legislature to carry out both proposals should the people issue such a

FORMER PARTNER
LAUDS LA FOLLETTE

Bob, Sr., Made Measures Stand Test of Constitutionality in Courts

Madison.—(AP)—Robert M. LaFollette's knowledge of constitutional law was responsible for the fact that this progressive legislation stood the test in the courts, Gilbert E. Roe, New York attorney, declared in a memorial address before the supreme court Saturday. Mr. Roe was a law partner of LaFollette from 1890 to 1900.

If, through carelessness in preparing his legislation, it would have been necessary for the supreme court to overrule any of the LaFollette measures, the Progressive movement in Wisconsin would have been retarded for generation, Mr. Roe said.

Justice Christian Doerflinger read a memorial to LaFollette on behalf of the supreme court. "His citizenship was not limited or restricted by state and national lines, but by the world at large, wherever mankind, civilized or uncivilized, had its abode," Justice Doerflinger said of Wisconsin's former senator.

Relatives, friends and political allies and opponents of LaFollette filled the court chamber. Among them was his son, Phil LaFollette.

CHICAGO COP KILLS

ONE, NABS FOUR MORE

Chicago.—(AP)—Joseph Mazzia, 18, was shot and killed Friday night by policemen after an exciting automobile chase. One of his companions was probably fatally wounded and the four others, all youths in their teens, were captured.

The car in which the boys were riding had been stolen several hours before. Police were called by a filling station attendant who feared a hold-up. When the squad car approached, the boys sped away and stopped only when crowded to the curb. They then attempted to flee when the police opened fire.

Frank Danzica, 14 years old, was shot through both forearms and in his back and chest. He was not expected to live.

Here's A Good Wild West
Yarn, But It's All Bull

Chicago.—(AP)—A big bull buffalo, a dozen cowboys with lariats, horses and wild yells, and a detective bureau squad car all arrived at the county hospital Saturday almost simultaneously.

The buffalo was bent on entering the hospital via the front door, the cowboys were trying to prevent its entry, and the detective bureau squad car just came along to satisfy more skeptical members of the squad who were unable to believe a real wild west buffalo hunt was in progress in the middle of Chicago.

It all started when the frisky buffalo jumped out of a cattle car at the door of the new Chicago stadium where a circus is to open Saturday night. The animal loped west on Madison street, dodging street cars and automobiles, turned south to W. Harrison street and made straight for the county hospital.

On the way it passed a squad car filled with crime-seeking detectives. "Buffalo, men," shouted the excited sergeant in command and gave chase.

A dozen cowboys joined the procession. At the hospital a doctor in white uniform emerged from the en-

Succeeds Curtis

HENRY J. ALLEN

Allen Will Take Curtis
Senate Job

Former Kansas Governor Appointed After Conference With Hoover

Washington.—(AP)—Henry J. Allen, former governor of Kansas and prominent figure in national politics and journalism for many years, will succeed Charles Curtis in the senate, filling out the four years of the unexpired term relinquished by the latter when he was elevated to the vice-presidency.

Decision to appoint Allen to fill the vacancy was announced by Gov. Clyde M. Reed of Kansas, after a conference Friday with President Hoover, which also was attended by Secretary Good of the war department, and James Francis Burke, counsel for the Republican national committee. The appointment will be made, he said, as soon as he returns to the state capital at Topeka.

Curtis and Allen have long been at odds politically, but President Hoover counts each as a friend. Allen was one of the few Kansas Republicans who supported Hoover for the presidential nomination prior to the Kansas City convention, at which the entire state delegation stood as a unit for Curtis, and he served as publicity director for the Republican national committee in the subsequent campaign.

Reed was Allen's secretary when the latter was governor, and during his primary campaign it was suggested that, if elected, he could be expected to give his former chief and close friend the senate appointment. Allen announced that he did not desire the appointment, but it was assumed here that he would accept it.

BANDIT TRIO ESCAPES
WITH $2,500 IN CASH

Milwaukee.—(AP)—A trio of youthful bandits entered a saloon here late Friday night, held up four men as they were playing pinocchio and escaped with $2,500 in currency, an amount which had been placed in a drawer to cash checks for the Glor Steel Tubes company employees.

No one else was in the room when the robbery took place. One of the bandits entered and sauntered over to the card table. He whipped out a pistol and soon after two more gunmen entered.

Unable to find the key, the men pried open the cash drawer with a steel bar. They escaped in an automobile.

CHICAGO COP KILLS

ONE, NABS FOUR MORE

Chicago.—(AP)—Joseph Mazzia, 18, was shot and killed Friday night by policemen after an exciting automobile chase. One of his companions was probably fatally wounded and the four others, all youths in their teens, were captured.

The car in which the boys were riding had been stolen several hours before. Police were called by a filling station attendant who feared a hold-up. When the squad car approached, the boys sped away and stopped only when crowded to the curb. They then attempted to flee when the police opened fire.

Frank Danzica, 14 years old, was shot through both forearms and in his back and chest. He was not expected to live.

CHICAGO COP KILLS

ONE, NABS FOUR MORE

Chicago.—(AP)—Joseph Mazzia, 18, was shot and killed Friday night by policemen after an exciting automobile chase. One of his companions was probably fatally wounded and the four others, all youths in their teens, were captured.

The car in which the boys were riding had been stolen several hours before. Police were called by a filling station attendant who feared a hold-up. When the squad car approached, the boys sped away and stopped only when crowded to the curb. They then attempted to flee when the police opened fire.

Frank Danzica, 14 years old, was shot through both forearms and in his back and chest. He was not expected to live.

REBELS MOVE TO COMBAT IN NACO REGION

Outposts Separated by Only Eight Miles and Battle Is Expected

Juarez, Chihuahua.—(AP)—A government airplane was shot down early Saturday at San Jose mountain, six miles south of here, moving slowly toward this federal garrison. It also was reported that General Romon Yucupilli's 1,200 Indian rebel troops had broken camp eight miles east of Naco, and were joining the train forces, believed to be under the command of General Fausto Topete, for an attack on this city.

Allen Will Take Curtis
Senate Job

Former Kansas Governor Appointed After Conference With Hoover

Washington.—(AP)—Henry J. Allen, former governor of Kansas and prominent figure in national politics and journalism for many years, will succeed Charles Curtis in the senate, filling out the four years of the unexpired term relinquished by the latter when he was elevated to the vice-presidency.

Decision to appoint Allen to fill the vacancy was announced by Gov. Clyde M. Reed of Kansas, after a conference Friday with President Hoover, which also was attended by Secretary Good of the war department, and James Francis Burke, counsel for the Republican national committee. The appointment will be made, he said, as soon as he returns to the state capital at Topeka.

Curtis and Allen have long been at odds politically, but President Hoover counts each as a friend. Allen was one of the few Kansas Republicans who supported Hoover for the presidential nomination prior to the Kansas City convention, at which the entire state delegation stood as a unit for Curtis, and he served as publicity director for the Republican national committee in the subsequent campaign.

Reed was Allen's secretary when the latter was governor, and during his primary campaign it was suggested that, if elected, he could be expected to give his former chief and close friend the senate appointment. Allen announced that he did not desire the appointment, but it was assumed here that he would accept it.

CHICAGO COP KILLS

ONE, NABS FOUR MORE

Chicago.—(AP)—Joseph Mazzia, 18, was shot and killed Friday night by policemen after an exciting automobile chase. One of his companions was probably fatally wounded and the four others, all youths in their teens, were captured.

The car in which the boys were riding had been stolen several hours before. Police were called by a filling station attendant who feared a hold-up. When the squad car approached, the boys sped away and stopped only when crowded to the curb. They then attempted to flee when the police opened fire.

Frank Danzica, 14 years old, was shot through both forearms and in his back and chest. He was not expected to live.

CHICAGO COP KILLS

ONE, NABS FOUR MORE

Chicago.—(AP)—Joseph Mazzia, 18, was shot and killed Friday night by policemen after an exciting automobile chase. One of his companions was probably fatally wounded and the four others, all youths in their teens, were captured.

The car in which the boys were riding had been stolen several hours before. Police were called by a filling station attendant who feared a hold-up. When the squad car approached, the boys sped away and stopped only when crowded to the curb. They then attempted to flee when the police opened fire.

Frank Danzica, 14 years old, was shot through both forearms and in his back and chest. He was not expected to live.

CHICAGO COP KILLS

ONE, NABS FOUR MORE

Chicago.—(AP)—Joseph Mazzia, 18, was shot and killed Friday night by policemen after an exciting automobile chase. One of his companions was probably fatally wounded and the four others, all youths in their teens, were captured.

The car in which the boys were riding had been stolen several hours before. Police were called by a filling station attendant who feared a hold-up. When the squad car approached, the boys sped away and stopped only when crowded to the curb. They then attempted to flee when the police opened fire.

Frank Danzica, 14 years old, was shot through both forearms and in his back and chest. He was not expected to live.

CHICAGO COP KILLS

ONE, NABS FOUR MORE

Chicago.—(AP)—Joseph Mazzia, 18, was shot and killed Friday night by policemen after an exciting automobile chase. One of his companions was probably fatally wounded and the four others, all youths in their teens, were captured.

The car in which the boys were riding had been stolen several hours before. Police were called by a filling station attendant who feared a hold-up. When the squad car approached, the boys sped away and stopped only when crowded to the curb. They then attempted to flee when the police opened fire.

Frank Danzica, 14 years old, was shot through both forearms and in his back and chest. He was not expected to live.

CHICAGO COP KILLS

ONE, NABS FOUR MORE

Chicago.—(AP)—Joseph Mazzia, 18, was shot and killed Friday night by policemen after an exciting automobile chase. One of his companions was probably fatally wounded and the four others, all youths in their teens, were captured.

The car in which the boys were riding had been stolen several hours before. Police were called by a filling station attendant who feared a hold-up. When the squad car approached, the boys sped away and stopped only when crowded to the curb. They then attempted to flee when the police opened fire.

Frank Danzica, 14 years old, was shot through both forearms and in his back and chest. He was not expected to live.

CHICAGO COP KILLS

ONE, NABS FOUR MORE

Chicago.—(AP)—Joseph Mazzia, 18, was shot and killed Friday night by policemen after an exciting automobile chase. One of his companions was probably fatally wounded and the four others, all youths in their teens, were captured.

The car in which the boys were riding had been stolen several hours before. Police were called by a filling station attendant who feared a hold-up. When the squad car approached, the boys sped away and stopped only when crowded to the curb. They then attempted to flee when the police opened fire.

Frank Danzica, 14 years old, was shot through both forearms and in his back and chest. He was not expected to live.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

Rebel Head Says Morrow
Is Calles' Propagandist

Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico.—(AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, was described as a "propaganda agent" for the Calles regime by General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, in a message to the rebel diplomatic mission now in Washington.

General Escobar asked the mission to communicate the message to the state department and to the American people.

"Ambassador Morrow has obvious business connections with General Calles which prevent him from realizing the regrettable error he makes by invading the jurisdiction of the Mexican people, thereby prejudicing American interests not only in Mexico, but in all Latin-America," the message said.

"The ambassador, by converting himself into a propaganda agent by sanctioning in his official character the Calles version of imaginary federal victories and absurd defeats and flights of the revolutionary army . . . seriously offends the Mexican nation . . ." the declaration continued.

ALL TIME PEAKS ARE ENJOYED BY SOME INDUSTRIES

Seasonal Holidays Are Only
Check to Business
Throughout Country

BY J. C. ROYLE
Copyright 1929

New York—The inevitable check which holidays of any description interpose in the path of industry was encountered again this week. This was seasonal and expected and was compensated for by the smooth progress of retail trade sales.

The situation has its counterpart in the automobile racing track. The driver, circling the track and coming into the first turn lifts his foot for an instant from the accelerator while the car coasts safely with undiminished speed; and before the impetus is lost the engine is again driving the wheels at top speed. Momentarily there is a gathering of cash incident to payment of first quarter obligations. Dividend payments probably will exceed those for the first three months of any year. There is in consequence a slight tightening of funds but the fact that big banks and financial houses are willing to pour millions into the market indicates that they will supply legitimate requirements for industry, commerce and trade.

STEEL AT HIGH RATE
Outside of the holiday check, the steel industry seldom has been at such a high rate. This has resulted not only in firmness of prices but in advances in quotations for some ferrous products. Operations are rated at 95 to 100 per cent of normal capacity and there is little doubt March output has equaled all previous monthly periods. Moreover, with some of the railroads just beginning to show the buying rash with which they normally break out once each year.

Jupiter Pluvius, as usual is now shaking his fist and making threats at the farmers but the strength of the latter is indicated by the disposition to buy agricultural machinery with astonishing freedom. Current orders on the books of the farm equipment manufacturers are well above those at this time last year. The automobile production in the first quarter is conservatively estimated at forty per cent higher than in 1928. The actual total of cars and trucks turned out in January and February in Canada and the United States was 219,600 and the conservative estimate for March is 500,000, or a total for the quarter of 1,419,600, a record for all time. This may be the peak and some reduction may show in April, but if there is a decline it is expected to be small. Foreign business is 45 per cent heavier than a year ago.

Parts makers are worked to the limit and tire production is expected to be 20 per cent above that for the first quarter of last year. Airplane engine manufacturers have shown equally impressive gains and there have been increases in plane output and commercial routes operated. Demand for machinery and machine equipment reflects these activities and is of unusually heavy volume. Road making is active and especially in the purchase of electrical machinery by industrial plants have been of unprecedented volume, as have orders for central station equipment and railroad electrification.

COPPER STILL STRONG
Copper is still strong in technical position and price. As yet the high prices have not sufficed to curtail demand from consumers. Lead prices have been rapid and sustained, owing to the tight situation, and this has also done better. Radio sales are unusual for this time of the year and are expected to run something like forty per cent ahead of those of 1928.

Railroad car loadings, as is natural, have shown a slight drop such as is expected at the time when winter changes into spring, but the passenger traffic around Easter seems likely to be of record proportions. The betterment in things itself in the earnings in a most satisfactory way. The apparel trade has been excellent. Cotton goods are moving well. Shoe manufacturers, after the spurt for Easter preparation, are moving into production for summer trade at a fair pace. Price cuts have had a somewhat unsettling effect on rayon and while raw silks have shown strength, the silk manufacturers are not operating at wide profit margins. Coal, paper and sugar are still in the doldrums.

COMMODITY NOTES
Automobile
Detroit—In the first half of March the Hudson Motor Car company established the greatest fourth quarter sales record in its history with retail sales of 17,353 cars. Sales represented 90 per cent of actual shipments for the period.

Rice
New Orleans—Rice experts which were very heavy in 1928, totaling 2,342,901 pockets of 100 pounds each, are being sent from this country at an even higher rate than at this time last year. Contracts for April shipments already are larger than the April 1928 shipments.

Machine Equipment
Cleveland—The Thompson Products Company is exceedingly busy with requirements for steering gear equipment which it makes for Buick, Hudson, Studebaker, Essex and Nash cars. The Cleveland plant is being enlarged where most of the operations consist of the manufacture of valves for automobile and airplane engines.

Livestock
Portland, Ore.—First spring lambs received sold at $18 per hundred pounds at the stockyards, the highest price since 1922, when an initial lot sold for $20. There is a great scarcity of sheep at 4 lamb offerings.

"Little Paris Millinery"
Special! 1 Hour Sale 7-8
Hats, values to $8.50.
Choice $2.95.

BRIDGE TENDERS, STREET SWEEPERS TO RESUME WORK

Three bridge tenders and nine street sweepers will go on duty Monday morning for another season, according to R. H. Hackworthy, street commissioner. All have been employed by the city in similar capacities before.

Two bridge tenders have been engaged for each of the three bridges in the city. The tenders at the Onondaga bridge will be James Vanderheyden and Fred Cavert. Tony Smith and Peter Kline will take care of the Lawes bridge, while Albert Elms and Otto Eake will be stationed at the John bridge. Each tender will work 12 hours a day, and will change shifts with his partner once every week.

The principal task of street department employees just now consists of repairing holes and taking out irregularities in street surfaces, according to Mr. Hackworthy. Approximately 45 men are in the employ of the department, excluding those who will start to work Monday on the streets and bridges.

BRITANNIA WAVES ARE THE RULE IN TALKIE CLASSES

Magnates Have Job Trying to Teach Oxonian English to Actors

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright 1929 by the Consolidated Press Association

New York—The Massachusetts bishop who wrote a thesis on "Shall We Speak Hebrew in the Land of the Blessed?" had a less immediate and urgent problem than the talking picture magnates, trying to teach Oxonian English to talkie actors.

Word has come from England that the U. S. A. idiom is pretty much of a "flop" with English audiences. Movie fans and newspaper critics pick up the slightest touch of what they term "provincial" speech and making it appear that such solecisms are an assault on venerable British traditions.

Possibly the I'm Alone incident and other recent aggravations have soured the British ears for trouble and all this will pass, but at any rate the producers are listening to every tick of the cable, and some, as far back as three months, set to work to make the screen robots pipe down on their rough hewn native speech and work in at least a touch of Grosvenor Gardens in their mechanical discourse.

When the talkie first began making headway, it was realized that, not being bilingual, it would complicate the foreign sales problem and that possibly several versions of a talking film would have to be made in different languages. England, naturally, seemed to present no difficulties, but the difficulties arose in two forms. There was a big mobilization of British capital for production in England and the sudden and unexpected revelation that Great Britain finds that American speech is not quite English. Producers here are hinting that British producers are sitting up the criticism of American speech, but at the same time they are taking steps to make it more acceptable to British audiences.

TEACHING BOSTONIAN LINGO
Frederick Randolph, of London, has been at work here and in Hollywood for several months coaching moving picture actors, not exactly in the English accent but in something like the Bostonian lingo, which he believes would be an acceptable compromise for international film usage. Mr. Randolph began his professional career as a specialist in correcting speech defects and later became an amateur actor, continuing his studies of speech problems.

"It is true," said Mr. Randolph, "that much of the American speech sounds strange to Englishmen, as no doubt our speech does to you. We lampoon your speech in our caricatures of the Yankee who always talks through his nose, and you come back with your 'bally ass' Englishman. Both, of course, are extreme and exaggerated types and typical of neither country. My observation is that educated Englishmen and Americans aren't so far apart in speech, or at any rate the differences are not such as to justify any worthwhile criticism.

"It would be foolish, of course, to try to teach American actors to talk like Englishmen. Even the most accomplished stage imitations sound queer to English ears. My study of film speech is partly technical and we find that sophisticated and correctly spoken English best suits the mechanical needs of sound pictures, regardless of its artistic importance. Frankly, I think British speech, with its somewhat slower and clearer enunciation, is better suited to sound reproduction and I foresee that the trend will be somewhat toward this speech in the talking pictures of the future.

"I feel that in the first rush of making the talking pictures the producers have had to rely on experienced film actors who were, however, virtually untied in dialogue. This is a trying ordeal for even the average well-spoken person, as dramatic speech is a highly technical art. I have an idea that the British audiences are not objecting so much to the distinctly American quality of the film speech as they are to the fact that it isn't up to standard of the legitimate stage-British or American."

Be this as it may, movie actors are out behind the barn, practicing "stardom," and words like that. In the talkie classrooms Britannia waves the rule.

PRETENDERS MEETING
The Pretenders club will meet at the home of Louis Waltham, Jr., E. Eldorado-st., Monday evening. A social hour will follow the discussion of regular business matters.

Falls 60 Feet to Death in Grain Pit

The picture above shows the man of the corn pit in the Western Elevator Co. elevator into which Edward J. Kuck, a partner in the business, fell 60 feet to his death Friday noon. The light spot in the upper picture, designated by an arrow, is caused by the tiny window in the very peak of the elevator, pointed out by the arrow in the picture on the right, and indicates the length of the fall. The bottom of the pit is about on a level with the top of the street level doors in the elevator. It has not been determined how Mr. Kuck fell into the pit. He was dead from suffocation when the corn was taken out of the pit and the body released about an hour after he was missed.

RESERVE BOARD AT CRISIS OF CAREER

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

federal reserve board warning on Feb. 14. The fact that Mr. Mitchell is president of a bank with deposits of more than a billion dollars makes the situation one that it is difficult for the federal reserve board here to overlook, though in the interest of harmony and in its desire to avoid anything that might appear as a personal issue it is possible no action will be taken, as to this specific incident.

The statement by Senator Glass of Virginia, one of the principal authors of the federal reserve act, calling for Mr. Mitchell's resignation as a director of the federal reserve bank of New York is looked upon as foreshadowing further controversy in congress when the special session convenes. Being made by Senator Glass, who was so intimately identified with the origin of the federal reserve system and who is known to guard zealously the prestige of the board it may have the same effect as if the board itself were to say something publicly about the incident.

WATCH FOR EFFECTS
It was not what Mr. Mitchell did but what he said that caused discussion in official quarters here and for that reason the board itself is not likely to raise an issue at this time. In fact Mr. Mitchell's point of view was outlined at Thursday's meeting of the directors of the federal reserve bank in New York which was attended by representatives of the federal reserve board of Washington. In situations like this the federal reserve board gets in personal touch with the directors of the federal reserve banks in New York and elsewhere in order to save time and get firsthand information and impressions. Co-operation from other money centers has been forthcoming in the last few days to such an extent that the board now feels the necessity of preserving the ground that has been gained and if the Mitchell statement does not start a reversal of sentiment among banks, so to speak, the board will feel that progress is being made.

There is nevertheless in the background a determination on the part of the board to go to the limit of its powers. In discussions thus far no decision has been reached as to the next step to be taken. The fact that the board points to the language of the federal reserve act which says rates of discounts shall be fixed to accommodate "business and commerce." Is speculation with in that category? The board has been advised that it is not.

Congress, it is asserted, set up a banking system for commercial credit, and not for stock market gambling. The raising of the re-discount rate is the normal weapon used but in a situation like the present which is abnormal something more drastic than a mere raising of the re-discount rate is talked about. It is, in a nutshell, the ordering of the federal reserve banks and branches to refuse to rediscount at all the paper of members banks when presented to get funds to loan for speculative purposes and a commercial credit but the burden of proof would be on the banking institution and the mere announcement of the order or regulation, it is felt here, would be sufficient to tell the speculative element that the federal reserve board is in earnest and will not be defied.

LANGLADE-CO BAR NOT RECOMMENDING JUSTICE

Antigo—The Langlade-co association will not endorse anyone to fill the vacancy in the Wisconsin supreme court caused by the death of Chief Justice Vinje. It was announced after a recent meeting.

SPECULATORS ARE AGAIN DISPLAYING CALM CONFIDENCE

Wall Street Leaves for Another Weekend Convinced of Strength Revival

BY CHARLES F. SEARE
Copyright 1929

New York—Financial Review and Outlook—Wall Street left on its extended weekend holiday after the close of the stock market Thursday, soothed by a convincing demonstration of strength in prices and signs that normal credit conditions were developing as far as the day-to-day call market was concerned.

Calm confidence seemed to have replaced the hysteria produced by the sensational successive advances in money rates from a 9 per cent renewal figures at the beginning of the week to 20 per cent a day later, the dearest borrowing cost in nine years. The strong pressure against the excessive use of speculative loans which such a condition indicated brought about a drastic liquidation of all classes of securities and a situation very nearly resembling demoralization.

At the close of the trading week the outstanding incident was a sudden relaxation of the money reins as banks came to the rescue of speculation. Funds which had been difficult to borrow even at the prohibitive 20 per cent level were freely offered and were obtained at 8 per cent in the open market. The fact that the recovery in the market started with the cost of capital higher than it has been since 1920 showed that this alone will not discourage the public or the professional stock market trader from buying stocks purely for money-making purposes. It must be borne in mind in the final analysis of the money strain that end-of-the-month settlements were a factor in maintaining rates at their high levels.

However, it is reasonable to suppose that lower rates will prevail next week, but not easy money. This week's federal reserve member bank loans on stocks showed a drop of $14,000,000, a rather surprisingly small drop considering the light of recent events. Loans for "others" were reduced $136,000,000 and those of out-of-town banks $38,000,000 so that of the total only $20,000,000 actually represented member bank operations.

A disquieting note was struck into the situation Friday by the report from Washington that Senator Glass of Virginia, plans to introduce a measure in the special session of congress, which convenes April 15, giving the federal reserve board greater power to curb excessive speculation. Verbal clashes between members of congress and Wall Street bankers, is in Senator Glass' attack on Charles L. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank, for extending aid to stock market borrowers, are not conducive to restful nerves in the financial district.

Graham-Paige Parade — Sun.

FARMER ARRESTED FOLLOWING RAID BY SHERIFF'S SQUAD

Eight gallons of whisky were found by a group of deputy sheriffs who raided the home of Bernard Vandenberg, who lives on County Trunk N about a mile south of the village of Kimberly, about 9 o'clock Friday evening. Vandenberg was arrested and is to appear in municipal court Monday morning before Judge Theodore Berg to answer charges. The raid was directed by Sheriff Fred W. Giese who had received a number of complaints that Vandenberg was selling whisky. That Vandenberg really was in the business was indicated when the raiders found several thousand pint and half-pint bottles in his home. The liquor was found by the raiders in the pantry and the basement.

RUNAWAY YOUTH BEING HELD BY POLICE HERE

A 15-year-old farm youth, living about two miles from Fond du Lac, is being held at the police station here pending the arrival of his father who will take him home. The boy was picked up Friday night at a farm near Appleton where he had stopped. The farmer was suspicious of the youth and called the police. The boy had a bicycle which he confessed stealing near Neenah. The wheel is to be returned to its owner. The youth ran away from his home several days ago.

ST. JOSEPH FREE THROW TEAM PICKED AT MATCH

Boys of the St. Joseph Junior high school tossed the ball in the Hi-Y free throw contest at the Y. M. C. A. Friday afternoon. Five boys were selected to represent their school in the final contest for Junior high school teams at the association building, Saturday afternoon. The St. Joseph team is composed of Carl Feuerstein, C. Wettengel, W. Weber, P. Grieshaber, and R. Stephenson. Feuerstein led his group by sinking 9 out of 15 shots. Wettengel was second with 6, Weber 7, Grieshaber 6 and Stephenson 5.

DELIVER NEW PHONE BOOKS NEXT WEEK

New telephone directories are to be distributed the early part of next week, according to F. N. Belanger, acting district manager of the Wisconsin Telephone exchange. Directories are issued twice a year in the fall and spring, according to Mr. Belanger. The new spring issue went to press several weeks ago.

Triangle Club Meetings
The Sophomore and Freshmen Triangle clubs of the Appleton high school will hold meetings at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 Monday evening, according to C. C. Bailey, boy's secretary of the association. Each of the groups will arrange plans for coming social activities, and discussion of regular club business matters.

RADIO COUNT WITH NATIONAL CENSUS IS SUGGESTED NOW

Leaders in Industry Urge Questionnaire to Determine
Number of Listeners

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright 1929 by the Consolidated Press Association

Washington—A nation-wide census of radio listeners and receiving sets to be undertaken as a part of the national census of population for 1930 is urged by leaders in the radio industry and has the unequivocal support of all interests identified with the art, governmental as well as commercial.

Such an accomplishment would be of inestimable value to every branch of radio. It would establish a sound basis for radio administration and service to the public; supply the industry with the information it has long sought for marketing, give the advertiser or political campaigner an accurate account of the audience he reaches by using a particular station, and, in effect, show conclusively to what extent the people use the radio.

At best, the only information now available as to the "radio population" of the country is the result of haphazard guesswork. The latest of these estimates places the number of receiving sets of all kinds in the United States at 9,640,000, and the number of listeners at 45,000,000. This survey, made by a leading radio publication, showed that approximately 1,000,000 of the more than 28,000,000 homes in the country are without radios.

The house-to-house census of radio would substitute for this approximate data, obtained by valiant but hopelessly futile efforts actual statistics. The most of the radio census would be negligible, in the opinion of its sponsors. The tremendous organization which is the population census could very readily obtain the additional information for the radio census, they point out.

PLAN IS SIMPLE
By merely appending two or three additional questions to the population census itself would provide a portion of the information. The radio questions probably would be whether a particular household has a receiving set. If not, the question would end there. Should it have a receiving set, the second question might relate to the number of tubes in the set and in that manner it could be ascertained whether the receiver is a crystal or loud speaker type, and whether it is modern or obsolete. Information as to the number of listeners for a particular receiver naturally would be had in reply to the population census question as to the number of residents in the household.

Plans for the population census now are being made by the census bureau of the commerce department. Under law a census is required every ten years, the last one having been as of 1920. Inasmuch as the 1930 census must be undertaken at that year there now is current a report that legislation will be requested at the special session of congress, which convenes next month, for authorization and an appropriation for the work. A provision for the radio census could be included in the legislation.

The population census has as one of its objectives the re-apportionment of representation in the house of representatives, based on population of particular areas throughout the country. The radio census, which would divulge the actual number of listeners and receivers in every village and hamlet in the country, might precipitate a re-apportionment of radio facilities, with the areas of greatest radio population afforded facilities commensurate with their needs, and the sparsely-radio sections with correspondingly small facilities. The present radio law provides for equal distribution of radio facilities among states and zones, irrespective of size or population, but much opposition to this provision exists. Only this weekend National Association of Broadcasters, meeting in Chicago, went on record against the zone system of administration, charging that it is responsible for the great majority of evils which have developed in radio since the passage of the law in 1927.

First Mortgage Bonds
5 1/2 ... Bonds ... 6%
HACKETT, HOFF & THIERNANN
Inc., Milwaukee
Appleton—Ins. Bldg.
A 100% Record of Safety Since 1899

BIKE RIDING NO PLEASURE IN FACE OF MARCH WINDS

The March wind was up to its tricks Wednesday morning and selected as its victims four Appleton boys who are students at the Roosevelt Junior high school. Cyrus Maxwell, Harold Ross, Earl Briggs and John Carter started out on their bicycles early Wednesday morning. Unmindful of the time the boys rode on and on and finally at a farmhouse they discovered they were 17 miles from home. The boys turned around and then the wind made itself known. It slapped their faces, blew them back and made riding impossible, so the four boys trudged back to Appleton and arrived home wearily at 6 o'clock.

MATH CLASSES ARE KEEN ABOUT WORK

It's All in Approaching Students Right, Teachers Point Out

We've heard of mathematics teachers and mathematically-minded persons enjoying triangles, 10-cipered figures and fractions, but it took cold facts to prove that whole classes in math at Roosevelt Junior high school were wrapped up in their work. "It's all in the approach," say educators, so the teachers, Miss Florence Penske and Mildred Schultz, realizing that all children are interested in their future careers, tied up their math project work with that ever interesting topic, "What I Should Like to Be," by suggesting booklets on "How Mathematics Can Be Used in My Profession." The resultant booklets were a conglomerate collection on everything from housekeeping to aeronautics.

Some of the better booklets were "Mathematics in Aeronautics," Kenneth White; "Mathematics in Dances," Beatrice Bosser and Betsy Rosenbaum; "Mathematics in the Life of an Illustrator," Hazel Gately; "Mechanical Engineering," Benjamin Henzel; "Antiques," Dick Davis; "Housekeeping," Olive Miller, and Mary Lou Mitchell; "Mathematics in the Nursing of Children," Betty Buchanan; "Engineering," Karl Sager; "Art," Constantine Garrison; "Journalism," Walter Wright; "Nursing," June Kaufman; "Reaching Mathematics," Bertha Rorke; "Electrical Engineering," Ray Herzog; and "Coaching," Sidney White.

SCHMIEGE SCHOOL BILL GETS COMMITTEE OKEN

A bill introduced by Assemblyman Oscar J. Schmiede, Appleton, providing that school children living more than four miles from the district school may have their tuition paid to a nearer school by their own district, was approved by the assembly committee on education this week.

"This will leave the decision of whether it would pay to transport children from the far corner of the district to the school or to pay their tuition to the closer school, entirely up to the school board, said Assemblyman Schmiede.

In some countries where the topography is exceedingly rough, and the winding road that is common to that type of terrain, makes the distances the children have to cover greater than to the school of another district, it is obvious that it would be profitable for the district to pay these pupils' way to the other school, he said.

GOVERNOR THINKS LAW MAKERS NEED HIGHER SALARIES

Approves Proposed Constitutional Amendment Providing More Pay

Madison—Gov. Kohler, who has allowed himself to be interviewed several times in favor of the salary increase for legislators and who has spoken of the matter repeatedly, has issued a final statement before the referendum on the question of allowing the legislature to get the salaries to be given during later sessions.

His statement, on the subject in which he has exhibited profound interest, follows:

I am heartily in favor of the constitutional amendment regarding legislative salaries, which will come before the voters as a referendum in the election Tuesday.

There is no question that the present salary of $500 for the two year term, which was established in 1881, is wholly inadequate to meet necessary living expenses. On that ground alone it is highly desirable that legislative salaries be increased.

But the matter goes deeper than this and involves representative government. For unless sufficient compensation is provided, many men of ability and public spirit, but of modest means, will find it impossible to serve in the legislature.

Legislative salaries should not be so large that they become a factor in candidacies, but neither should they be so small as to impose a hardship.

Since 1881 a majority of states have increased legislative salaries, but Wisconsin, though it has raised the salaries of State officers and employees, has failed to make adequate provision for legislators.

Under the proposed amendment, no legislature could increase the salaries of its own members, an increase would not apply until the following regular session. In the interval there would be an election at which the people could retire any legislator who had voted for what was deemed an unwarranted increase, and they like wise could retire the governor if he had signed a bill which unduly increased legislative salaries.

In view of these safeguards and because it is my belief that it would be for the best interests of the state, I hope the voters will pass the proposed amendment by an overwhelming majority.

CONSIDER DAHLIAS AT FLOWER GROUP MEETING

Dahlias will be the subject of the second group meeting of the Appleton Flower and Garden society in the conference room of the Appleton Post-Crescent, Thursday evening.

Mary Catlin, who has specialized in the growing of dahlias for many years, will conduct the meeting. Mr. Catlin is an authority on dahlias and all members of the society who are interested in this particular flower will gain much for the leader's knowledge of the subject.

The purpose of the group meetings of the society is to make it possible for members to attend specialized meetings about the particular form of horticulture in which they are interested. Meetings will be held later on other varieties of flowers.

CHILD COUGHS Stopped quickly and SAFELY with a swallow of THOXINE

Special for Monday

Hamburger
Steak

19c
lb.

HOPFENSBERGER BROS. Inc.

THE LIFE INSURANCE TRUST

"Life Insurance is rightly accepted as an essential plan for family protection.

That an adequate amount should be carried is vital.

The Life Insurance Trust is a simple and effective means to assure that your insurance will fully accomplish the purposes for which you carry it."

Talk this over!

FIRST TRUST COMPANY

OF APPLETON

TRAINING COURSE FOR SCOUTLEADERS TO OPEN APRIL 3

Three Hikes in Addition to Nine Indoor Meetings Are Planned

Plans for the scout leader's training course which will get underway in the club rooms of Armory G at 7:30 next Wednesday evening, have nearly been completed by the committee in charge, according to M. G. Clark, valley scout executive. The course which is being presented under the five year progressive training program of the National Council of boy scouts will include nine meetings, two Saturday hikes and one overnight hike.

The course is open to scout leaders and other persons interested who some day expect to apply the knowledge in boys' clubs, according to Mr. Clark. The purpose of the course is to give the students taking it a general knowledge of the aims and content of the boy scout program, with stress on the methods which can be used to teach the program to boys. It is intended to give the new scoutmaster a logical viewpoint of scouting and a systematic basis upon which he may build his future activities with boys.

The classes will be conducted in such a manner as to make it as much like a real boy scout troop as possible. The students will be organized into a troop, with definite patrol organization. Each patrol will have its patrol leader, name yell, song and other features which go to make up a successful group.

The troop will have a scoutmaster, senior patrol leader, scribe and other officers needed. Troop and patrol leaders will meet with the scoutmaster in a patrol leader's council, either before or after each meeting, to practice on the subject matter for the coming session.

All exhibition materials obtainable will be used to illustrate the particular subject matter under consideration, as well as to show what scouting has done and can do. The students will have several projects of various kinds to carry out, which will be added to the exhibits. These will be judged and made the basis for various contests through the course.

On the opening evening of the school, Herb Holm, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, will explain all preliminary exercises and outline the course. Other talks probably will be presented by troop committeemen and scoutmasters.

POPULAR NON-FICTION BOOKS AT LIBRARY

Particularly fast-moving non-fiction books at the public library are the story of Schuyler Heim by Lawton, "Columbus" by Andre and Jesus by Case. Other new and popular non-fiction volumes include "West-running Brook," Frost; "American Furniture and Decoration," Holloway; "The Fabulous Forests," Minnegerode; "Architecture of the Renaissance in Italy," Anderson; "Roads to the North," Brooks; "Destiny Stories of 1928," O'Brien; "O'Henry Prize Stories for 1928," "Win-erwords," Thomas Hardy; "The dilemma of American Music," Mas-son; "Life of Hardy," Florence Har-ry; "Book of Indian Crafts, and In-Indian Lore," Salomon; "American In-Indian and Other Folk Dances," Shafer; "Mont-Saint Michel and Char-les," Adams; and "Color Schemes for the Home and Model Interiors," Rohne.

CHURCH PLAYERS TO GIVE BENEFIT PLAY

"A Southern Cinderella," a benefit play, will be given at St. Theresa's church hall Friday evening, April 5. Members of the church congregation, Mrs. James Koeha, 1016 N. Mor-son-st. is director of the produc-tion.

Prior to the play a pantomime, "Swanee River" will be presented by members of the congregation. and this will be preceded by a violin solo, "Southern Memories," by Don-d Alferi.

Between acts Miss Marie Alferi and Mrs. Koeha will sing, with Miss amona Wood playing the piano accompaniments.

Valley Queen opens Easter un. with an 8 piece Hot Band.

Dance, Old and Young. Cors, Mon., April 1st. Good music. Free lunch.

Have us remove the scale, sediment, rust, etc. from our radiator NOW and have properly cooled engine this season.

An expert inspection and cleaning means a watertight radiator that will function RIGHT if we do the work.

APPLETON
AUTO RADIATOR &
METAL WORKS
215 N. MORRISON ST.
PHONE 2498
AUTHORIZED SPRING CLEANING
ON RADIATOR, RADIATORS

PAID ADVERTISEMENT

Authorized and published by the Wisconsin Division Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, 21 East 40th Street, New York City. Amount of $10.00 has been paid to The Post-Crescent.

SMASH PROHIBITION STATE BY STATE

New York, Maryland, Montana and Nevada are already on the Honor Roll—they have disowned Prohibition. It is now Wisconsin's turn—she must not fail. Other States Will follow and then National Prohibition Will Crumble because it cannot endure without State support.

Voters of Wisconsin WAKE UP---
Read What The National Executive Committee
of The Association Against The Prohibition
Amendment Thinks of Our Wisconsin Fight---

State Prohibition Came First. National Prohibition Followed. State Prohibition MUST GO FIRST. National Prohibition WILL FOLLOW. THE WAY TO NATIONAL REPEAL IS THROUGH STATE REPEAL. Repeal of State Dry Laws Means Repeal of National Prohibition. Don't Let Anyone Fool You By Telling You "It Can't Be Done." It CAN Be Done. It IS BEING DONE. NOW WISCONSIN IS UP FOR HER VOTE: AND IF YOU ARE AGAINST PROHIBITION

Vote "YES!"
Tuesday, April 2

On The Question:

"SHALL THE STATE PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT ACT, GENERALLY KNOWN AS 'THE SEVERSON ACT' BE REPEALED?"

If you are against Prohibition it is VITALLY NECESSARY that you go to the polls Tuesday and Vote — VOTE "YES" ON THIS IMPORTANT QUESTION. Don't stay away from the polls. YOUR DUTY IS TO VOTE.

Concentrate the Wet Strength By Voting Yes on the Third Question: If You Wish You Can Vote on the Fourth Question ALSO And Your Vote on BOTH QUESTIONS Will Be Legal and Counted.

SAMPLE Official Referendum Ballot

If you desire to vote for any question, mark a cross (x) or other mark in the square after the word "yes," underneath such question; if you desire to vote against any question, make a cross (x) or other mark in the square after the word "no," underneath such question.

Shall Section 21 of Article IV of the constitution relating to the salary of members of the legislature be repealed?

Yes ☐ No ☐

Shall amendment to Section 1 of Article VI. of the constitution, authorizing sheriffs to hold office for not more than two terms, or parts thereof, in succession, be adopted?

Yes ☐ No ☐

Shall the state prohibition enforcement act, generally known as the Severson Act, be repealed?

Yes ☒ No ☐

Shall the state prohibition enforcement act, generally known as the Severson Act, be amended so that the state shall not arrest or fine anyone for the manufacture, sale or possession of beer of not more than 2.75% alcohol by weight?

Yes ☐ No ☐

THIS IS A SAMPLE OF THE OFFICIAL BALLOT. CUT IT OUT NOW... AND TAKE IT WITH YOU TO THE POLLS TUESDAY AS A GUIDE.

ASSOCIATION AGAINST THE PROHIBITION AMENDMENT

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

PIERRE S. du PONT, Chairman
BENEDICT CROWELL
HENRY H. CURRAN
IRENEE du PONT
GRAYSON M.P. MURPHY
CHARLES H. SABIN
WILLIAM H. STAYTON
JAMES W. WADSWORTH, Jr.

HENRY H. CURRAN, President
21 East 40th Street, New York City
CHARLES H. SABIN, Treasurer
21 East 40th Street, New York City
EMMET DOUGHERTY, Secretary
National Press Building, Washington, D. C.

March 23rd, 1929.

Dr. J. J. Seelman,
Director, Wisconsin Division,
Association Against the Prohibition Amendment,
Milwaukee, Wis.

Dear Doctor Seelman:-

Our Executive Committee asks me to inform all our Wisconsin members and friends that the vote to be taken April 2nd, on the repeal of the Wisconsin State Prohibition Law, is of vital national importance.

The dries will try to fool the voters into the belief that the referendum is no use. We warn you against this.

Prohibition was won State by State. Only twelve States had gone bone-dry when National Prohibition came.

One direct and practical way of repealing the National Prohibition Law is first to repeal the State Prohibition Laws, State by State. Already New York, Maryland, Montana and Nevada have said "NO" to the demand that they concur with the Volstead Act on the dotted line.

Your fellow Americans need Wisconsin, a great and influential State. With her example before them, other States will assert their rights. Then National Prohibition will crumble.

Very truly yours,

Henry H. Curran,
President.

---Will you as an American Citizen let Prohibition run and ruin America---or will you exercise your right as a citizen and---

VOTE "YES!" Tuesday, April 2nd

SPORTS

NEWS OF NEENAH AND MENASHA

SOCIETY

BASKETEERS WIND UP UP TOURNEY WORK

High School Cage Team Leaves Tuesday to Play in State Meet

Neenah—The high school basketball team held its last practice of the week Friday evening at Roosevelt gymnasium, working out with the Appleton high school team. The last practice before leaving for the tournament city will be held Monday evening when Coach Ole Jorgensen will select the team to make the trip. The team will leave Tuesday afternoon and will play its first game at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with Ladysmith.

LEGION SCHEDULES ANOTHER STAG DINNER

Neenah—The next stag dinner and banquet to be given by James P. Hawley post American Legion, will be at 6:30 on the evening of April 6 at the Valley Inn, according to arrangements made Friday evening at the post executive committee meeting. The event will be in commemoration of the anniversary of entry into the World war. The dinner will be for members of the Neenah post and friends. The committee on entertainment is busy arranging a program of short talks and music for the occasion.

CANTATA IS PLANNED AT VESPER SERVICE

Neenah—"The Lighted Cross," a cantata, will be given at 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon at a special vesper service by the Presbyterian Sunday school and church choir. Other activities at this church include the "Boys' Brigade" annual camp supper which will be served at 6:30 on the evening of April 2 at the church dining room; the Men's Bible classes annual egg supper Tuesday evening; the church selected to prepare the supper for H. M. Brown, Harry Bishop, Charles Madison, W. C. Stetson, Charles Sherman and Cleo Cannon. The annual meeting of all departments of the Sunday school will be held Friday evening, April 5, following a dinner served at 6:30. The mission circle will meet at 6:30 Wednesday evening with Mrs. Clara Bloom at her home on N. Doty Ave.

ASSEMBLYMAN WILL DISCUSS GAME BILLS

Neenah—Director of the Twin City Sportsman's club will meet Monday evening with Assemblyman Nels Larson at the city hall. Three bills to come before the legislature in the near future will be discussed by Mr. Larson. One bill proposes changing the opening of duck hunting season from Sept. 16 to Oct. 1 which is opposed by the members of the Sportsman's club. The others are a bill for fishing licenses and spring trapping regulations.

NEENAH SOCIETY

Miss Margaret Runde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thad Sheerin of Neenah, and Lorrin Lobb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lobb of Milwaukee, were married at 11 o'clock Saturday morning at the Sheerin home on E. N. Wadsworth. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. U. E. Gibson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in the presence of the immediate families. The young couple was attended by Miss Marjorie Runde and Harry Drysdale, the latter of Milwaukee. A dinner was served after which Mr. and Mrs. Lobb left for Chicago where they will spend a few days before returning to Milwaukee to make their home where Mr. Lobb is employed by the telephone company.

Easter food and flower sales were conducted Saturday morning by several lodge and church societies in the windows of downtown stores.

The eighth of the series of skat tournaments given by the Eagle Drum corps will be held Sunday afternoon at the aerie club rooms.

LOLLY POPS VICTORS IN GIRLS' CAGE MEET

Neenah—The final games in the girls' high school basketball tournament, which has been in progress during the last week at Kimberly high school under direction of Miss Small, were played Friday morning. Lolly Pops winning from the Cream Puffs by a score of 22 and 19. Members of the winning team were Marie Webster, Meta Siefaff, Edna Kollath, Pearl Hart, Elmore Weise, Jeanette Leach and Margaret Blenker. Those on the losing team were Naomi Gibson, Grace Neabing, Frances Driscoll, Esther Knags, Esther Peterson, Dorothy Konelev, Margaret Mitchell and Vera Blank.

MAN HELD ON LIQUOR CHARGE FURNISHES BAIL

Neenah—Ernest Boelter, arrested on a charge of selling of moonshine liquor, who was placed in the Winnebago jail in default of $600 bonds to await a hearing next week, has succeeded in securing the money and has returned to his home here. He is hearing will be at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning in Municipal court. Mr. Boelter has retained an attorney and intends to fight the case.

Graham-Paige Parade — Sun.

PUGNACIOUS RAT SHOWS FIGHT WHEN PUSHED IN CORNER

Neenah—Excitement reigned at midnight Friday at the corner of Commercial and Wisconsin-ave. when a large muskrat put up a battle with several people in an effort to get away. The rat must have come up from the river a block away and upon being cornered showed fight. It was finally killed.

NEENAH BOWLING

HARDWOOD PRODUCTS LEAGUE

Engineers .....	62	26	667
Veneers .....	49	29	653
Producers .....	48	30	618
Shippers .....	43	35	551
Assemblers .....	41	37	526
Sanders .....	38	40	487
Finishers .....	37	41	474
Desk Birds .....	29	49	372
Glueers .....	29	49	372
Machines .....	22	53	290

Neenah—Engineers retain the lead in the Hardwood Products Bowling league by taking two games from Desk Birds in the Thursday night rolling. Finishers took two from Veneers; Shippers took the entire set from Assemblers; Machines took two from Producers and Glueers took two from the Sanders.

J. Larson and Jack Schneider took by high single game, each getting a 210 score.

Peter Clausen, with 559, shot high series.

Scores:

Reinke	Sanders	151	151	151
Gullickson	146	146	146	146
Hopkins	148	152	149	148
Blank	85	129	146	146
Larson	151	154	154	154
Handicap	105	106	106	106

Totals

Glueers

L. Hanson	148	148	148	148
A. Hanson	97	127	110	110
A. Rine	112	141	169	169
Zelmer	139	105	147	147
Larson	210	166	177	177
Handicap	209	209	209	209

Totals

Machines

Tunen	117	135	179	179
Lehme	126	126	126	126
Loehning	155	155	155	155
K. Johnson	161	161	161	161
Schneider	210	130	130	130
Handicap	187	187	187	187

Totals

Production

H. Loehning	119	129	161	161
Reichenberg	116	116	116	116
Westlund	130	130	130	130
Tenney	125	143	134	134
E. Johnson	169	138	142	142
Handicap	169	169	169	169

Totals

Finishers

Magnusson	151	194	164	164
T. Hanson	130	130	130	130
H. J. Hanson	155	161	178	178
Jensen	92	92	92	92
T. Clausen	156	171	146	146
Handicap	211	211	211	211

Totals

Veneers

P. Clausen	179	190	190	190
W. Blank	131	131	131	131
Skinner	158	141	115	115
H. Hanson	148	148	148	148
Rebarchek	150	150	150	150
Handicap	158	158	158	158

Totals

Shippers

Holverson	205	191	168	168
Fretting	145	145	145	145
Metz	167	147	154	154
G. Reinke	132	132	132	132
Lane	139	117	192	192
Handicap	166	166	166	166

Totals

Assemblers

Pagel	118	115	112	112
Mueller	133	133	133	133
Radtke	139	139	139	139
Kuehl	160	160	160	160
Merkley	156	112	53	53
Handicap	163	163	163	163

Totals

Engineers

Weitz	169	139	98	98
Potratz	102	166	109	109
W. Johnson	175	172	179	179
Cummings	113	154	172	172
P. Johnson	148	146	123	123
Handicap	169	169	169	169

FOU NOM TOURNEY WON BY POLL CATS

Team Captained by Thomsen Defeats Rock of Ages by 18 to 15 Count

Neenah—The Poll Cats, captained by Howard Schmidt, won the annual FOU NOM basketball tournament Friday evening by defeating the Rock of Ages, captained by Everett Thomsen, 18 and 15 at Kimberly high school gymnasium. The winning team is composed of Howard Schmidt, Heinrich Gaertner, Ross Pearson, Robert Mott and Karl Kollath. During the tournament Captain Schmidt scored 45 points. Thomsen of the Rock of Ages was second with 32 points; Hahl, whose team got into the semi-finals, made 23 points; Haddock, 24 and Fisher 21 points. The Jorgenson-Thomson game in the semi-finals was won by Thomsen, 15 and 7, and the Schmidt-Hahl game won by Schmidt, 14 and 4. Between halves of the championship game, the First and Third ward seventh grade teams played a fast game in which the First warders won 8 and 6.

NEENAH PERSONALS

Neenah—George Madison is home from Arcadia to visit relatives for a few days after which he will return to start practice baseball with that city's team.

Miss Bobbie Clarkson is home from school at LaCrosse to spend the spring vacation. Paul Werth received a broken bone in his foot Thursday night when a heavy piece of machinery fell on it while he was at work at the Neenah Paper company mill.

Bryce Ozanne and Neal Klausner will leave next week with the Lawrence College Glee club on its annual tour of the state. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kuehl and son of Mineral Point, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kuehl. Frances Hutton is home from Notre Dame college to spend the Easter vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hutton.

Miss Susan Beals, who has been spending her vacation at her home here, will leave Sunday for Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., to resume her studies. She will be accompanied as far as Chicago by her sister, Miss Virginia Beals. Mr. and Mrs. Duleigh Young are on a few weeks' tour of the southern states. Miss Eva Mueller has gone to Fort Atkinson to spend the Easter vacation with relatives.

Miss Nellie McDonald has gone to Cascade to spend her vacation. Harold Zank left Saturday for Rhineland where he will spend a few days visiting relatives. Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell will spend Sunday with relatives at Milwaukee.

A daughter was born Friday at Theda Clark hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dougherty, Menasha. Julius Davis submitted to an operation Saturday morning at Theda Clark hospital, for removal of his tonsils.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Proman and Miss Helen of Milwaukee, and Miss May Hume of Racine are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hume. P. W. Shea and family will spend the weekend with relatives at Green Bay.

Mrs. John Crawford and family of Gladstone, Mich., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Larson. Miss Irene Jaehnig of West Bend, is visiting her sister Mrs. Clara Jaehnig who is ill at Theda Clark hospital.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Kollath and children will leave Sunday afternoon for a few days' visit with relatives at Ripon. Andrew Zemlock and daughter Margaret, have left for Milwaukee where they will spend the weekend with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lindqvist of Wausau are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thomsen. Cook

209 171 178

Bonnin

182 182 182

Kuehner

173 149 192

Totals

Service Dept.

202 170 167

Hedberg

210 215 174

 Kuehl | 250 | 219 | 171 || Palmer | 174 | 175 | 151 |
| Handicap | 172 | 204 | 202 |

Totals

Engineers

Roehm	188	188	188	188
Hofst	159	212	193	193
Beauleau	179	179	179	179
Verwey	177	171	179	179
Pirch	177	177	177	177

Totals

Specialties

C. Redlin	169	155	182	182
F. Rommek	158	198	191	191
Gartke	175	228	174	174
A. Redlin	156	230	194	194
Williams	176	210	199	199

Plane Missing

Scores of planes and several coast guard cutters searched bays and inlets, rivers, swamps and forests between Norfolk, Va., and New York for the Sikorsky plane in which T. Raymond Finucane, Rochester realtor and sportsman, and three other men were missing. Finucane, pictured above, had chartered the plane in Miami for a race against a train in which friends were traveling to New York. In addition to him and Harry Smith, pilot, the plane carried two mechanics.

ICE DISAPPEARING FROM LAKE, RIVER

Shifting Winds and Warm Leather Breaking Up Covering on Winnebago

Menasha—Large quantities of ice from Lake Winnebago which was broken up by a heavy south wind found their way down the Fox river Friday afternoon and night, but disappeared entirely when the wind shifted to the north Saturday morning. George T. Allanson, in charge of the Menasha government dam, said he never saw the ice so thin or porous as it is this spring. Large fields of it coming in contact with each other ground themselves up into needles and disappeared in short order.

Considerable interest was taken Friday afternoon and Saturday morning in a fish smelt run from the new Foxnest bridge to the north end of the lake. Friday afternoon, it was frozen in a large field of ice and was carried northward until the wind shifted Saturday morning when it started back on its way toward the south end of the lake. It was caught in the ice during the cold weather and its owners were unable to extricate it.

While navigation officially opens at 6 o'clock Monday morning Mr. Allanson does not expect any ice through the lock or canal until some time later. The government markers in the river and lake have not yet been placed and it is probable that a government boat to replace them will be one of the first to pass through the lock.

PROGRESS RAPIDLY ON BRIDGE EXCAVATION

Menasha—Judging from the progress that is being made in removing the rock from the north pit of the new Foxnest bridge the work of excavation for the structure will be completed in a week or ten days. This means that after the blasting is finished the work will move along more rapidly. About the time the excavation is completed in north pit the pouring of concrete will be finished in the south pit. The forms for the final pouring in the south pit now are being constructed. The concrete walls are up to within ten feet of the surface.

CITY TAKES ON SUNDAY ATMOSPHERE FRIDAY

Menasha—With its postoffice, banks, municipal offices and the majority of its stores and other business places closed, Main-st assumed a Sunday atmosphere from 12 noon until 3 o'clock on Good Friday as the new Foxnest bridge was under traffic at the noon hour which only emphasized the quietude of the streets later. Business activity was resumed promptly at 3 o'clock.

GAME ASSOCIATION PLANS MASS MEETING

Neenah—An invitation has been received by the Twin City Sportsman club to attend a mass meeting Wednesday evening at Oshkosh sponsored by the Fish and Game Protective association of that city. Prominent speakers will be present to discuss new laws which have been proposed in the Wisconsin state legislature. Arrangements will be made by a large delegation to attend the meeting which will be held at 7:30 at the Oshkosh city hall.

CHURCHES WILL HOLD SPECIAL SERVICES

Neenah—Special Easter services will be held Sunday morning in all the churches here to mark the end of the Lenten season. Special programs of music have been arranged for the occasion. A special feature at the Methodist church will be the annual sermon to Knights Templar lodges which will attend the morning services in a body. A delegation from Appleton will join the Twin City Commandery.

CHURCHES PLANNING EASTER SERVICES

Special Music and Other Features Are Arranged by Pastors

Menasha—All the churches will have special Easter services Sunday with special music. At 9 o'clock mass at St. Mary church the choir will be accompanied by St. Mary orchestra. Both St. Patrick and St. John choirs also will have orchestral accompaniment. At St. Mary church there will be services at 6, 7:30, 9 and 11 o'clock. The hours at St. Patrick church will be 7:30, high mass at 9:15 and children's mass at 11. At St. John church the services will be at 6, 9 and 10:30. The services at St. Thomas church will include holy communion at 7 and 8 o'clock; church school festival service at 9:30 and the late Eucharist and sermon at 11 o'clock. The offering on Easter will constitute a payment on the rectory. The morning service at the Congregational church at 10:45 will be accompanied by special Easter music. The Sunday school Easter program will be given at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

MENASHA BOWLING

LEGION LEAGUE

Menasha—The Engineers of the American Legion won three games from the Ammunition Train Thursday night at Hendy recreation alleys; the Gold Bricks won two out of three from Doughboys and the Shave Tails won two from the Top Kicks. High game, 210, was rolled by Winch.

Scores:

H. Sherman	164	140	143	143
A. Lipske	144	127	149	149
K. Lawton	150	150	150	150
R. Kellenhauser	171	171	171	171
D. Mayew	178	178	178	178

Totals

A. M. Train

H. Smith	159	119	151	151
W. Raleigh	149	163	158	158
N. De Wolf	143	143	143	143
M. Adels	151	124	124	124
G. Schipferling	177	144	174	174
Handicap	6	6	6	6

Totals

Doughboys

C. Smith	152	152	152	152
C. Heckrodt	149	149	149	149
A. Huelbeck	150	150	150	150
B. Killyshek	135	135	135	135
J. Stuehser	158	169	178	178
Handicap	16	16	16	16

Totals

Gold Bricks

H. Goller	126	140	157	157
T. Skalposki	128	160	135	135
B. Hart	142	172	139	139
A. Anderson	139	139	139	139
Grove	132	132	132	132
Handicap	50	50	50	50

Totals

Shave Tails

Noel	146	162	173	173
Tullis	158	158	158	158
Newhouse	140	141	149	149
Parker	150	127	143	143
Winch	173	194	210	210
Handicap	16	16	16	16

Totals

Top Kicks

R. T. Hill	150	144	99	99
Desuaries	120	108	119	119
Pack	145	165	158	158
Pulger	144	144	144	144
E. J. Hill	134	127	136	136
Handicap	72	72	72	72

Totals

CITY LEAGUE

Menasha—Menasha City bowling league rolled the final game of its schedule Thursday night at Menasha alleys. Pierce Agency won three games from F. O. E. 1063; Oldsmobile won three from Tourists Inn; Chevrolet won three from McEwen Stars; and Holley Baking won two from three from Hickory Grove. High game, 273, was rolled by Lee of the Holley Baking team.

Scores:

Pontow	193	193	193
--------	-----	-----	-----

LATEST NEWS OF THE AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY

CHEVROLET TO PUSH SERVICE PROGRAM

Company Preparing for America's Largest Motoring Season

Detroit.—In preparation for America's biggest motoring season, the Chevrolet Motor Company announced here today the development of a comprehensive program for the service protection of the millions of its cars that will be in use this Spring.

Surveys made by the company indicate that automobile travel this year will break all mileage records; they show that the automobile will be called on to shoulder an increasing portion of the nation's transportation requirements and they point out that the automobile will pioneer its way this year into uncharted spots and secluded recesses, where until but a few years ago, service was miles away and frequently uncertain.

It was with a view to making Chevrolet service even more accessible, through, rapid and economical to the owner that the present expansion and perfection program was undertaken, J. P. Little, manager of the parts and service division, explained.

So extensive has been the development of the service activities of the company, he said, that there are now 20,000 points in the United States where the Chevrolet owner may obtain authorized Chevrolet service or genuine parts. This is perhaps the fullest service coverage ever offered by an automobile manufacturer, Mr. Little declared, and assures the Chevrolet owner of the widest possible parts and service protection.

The program contemplates the opening this year of eleven new parts warehouses in addition to the 23 now in operation. Several of these will be in operation in May, with others opening at intervals until October 31 when the last of the group will be finished. New warehouses are being built or will be constructed this year in the following cities: Indianapolis, Ind.; Birmingham, Ala.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Richmond, Va.; Great Falls, Mont.; El Paso, Texas; Wichita, Kansas, and Knoxville, Tenn. Sites for the remaining three warehouses will be announced in a few weeks.

When completed this Fall, the parts supplies were shipped to each of the 23 parts warehouses. In this connection, Mr. Little explained that more than 5,000 Chevrolet mechanics in various sections of the country have already attended the special Chevrolet service schools, where under the supervision of factory experts they make a thorough study of the new car and prepare themselves to offer the owner prompt and efficient service. Thirty-one of these schools are now in operation.

The same tremendous manufacturing facilities that are enabling the company to offer the new car at its price, Mr. Little pointed out, are permitting Chevrolet to offer parts at prices consistently low and well within the price range of the four. He called attention to the strategic locations of the large group of parts warehouses stressing the fact that sites had been selected with a view to getting parts closer to the public.

He further pointed out that the uniform flat rate system of service charges that prevails in every Chevrolet service station gives the owner the advantage of the lowest possible service cost and price protection at the same time.

FORD MODEL MAKES MORE NEW RECORDS

Old Percentages Are Beaten in Eastern Counties of County

New production records for the Model A were achieved by the Ford Motor Company during January, 1929, and sales figures as shown are equally interesting. For example, out of a total of 5,313 cars registered in Wayne County, Michigan, in which Detroit is located, 2,163 or 40.6 per cent were Model A. The next nearest car totaled 971. During the banner

Traffic Halts At This Car's Command

The principle of radio microphone has been adopted to traffic control by experiments with a Dodge Brothers New Six sedan near San Francisco. A motorist desiring to cross a busy street stops and sounds the horn. Immediately, a sensitive microphone picks up the vibration and converts it to an electrical impulse which flashes an amber light for cross traffic. After several seconds, the light automatically reverts to green for the main highway.

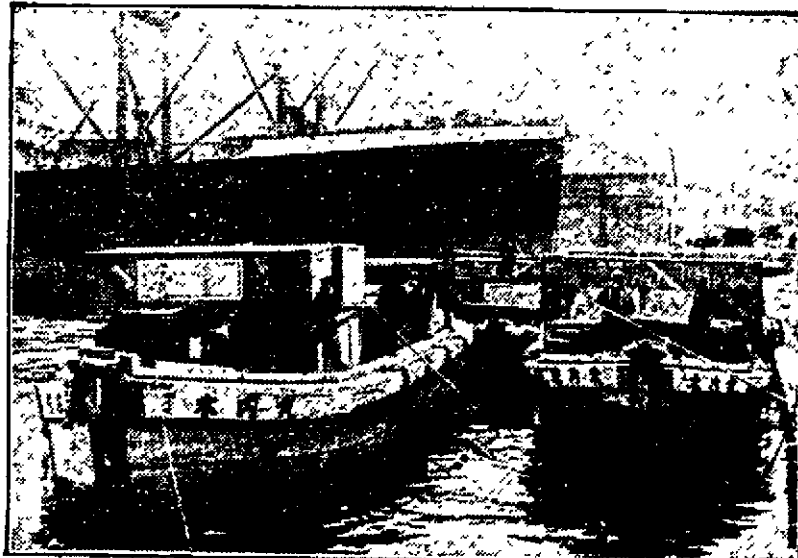

years of 1924-25-26 the average percentage of Ford sales in the same county was 39.9.

The January total for world production of the Model A was 153,786 cars, of which 122,078 were built by domestic plants, 16,765 comprised the foreign total, and 10,943 was the figure for Ford of Canada. Previously, the biggest single month for the Model A was October, 1928, during which 128,015 cars were built. Within three months from that time a gain of approximately 30,000 cars in the total was attained, an average increase per month of 10,000.

Registrations for January in Cook County, Illinois, in which Chicago is located, have also been received, and show that 2,255 Model A cars were sold during the month as against 616 for the next nearest car. The Ford figure was 33.8 per cent of the total registered for the month, 6,674. This compares with the Ford average per cent during the years 1924-25-26, 24.2 per cent.

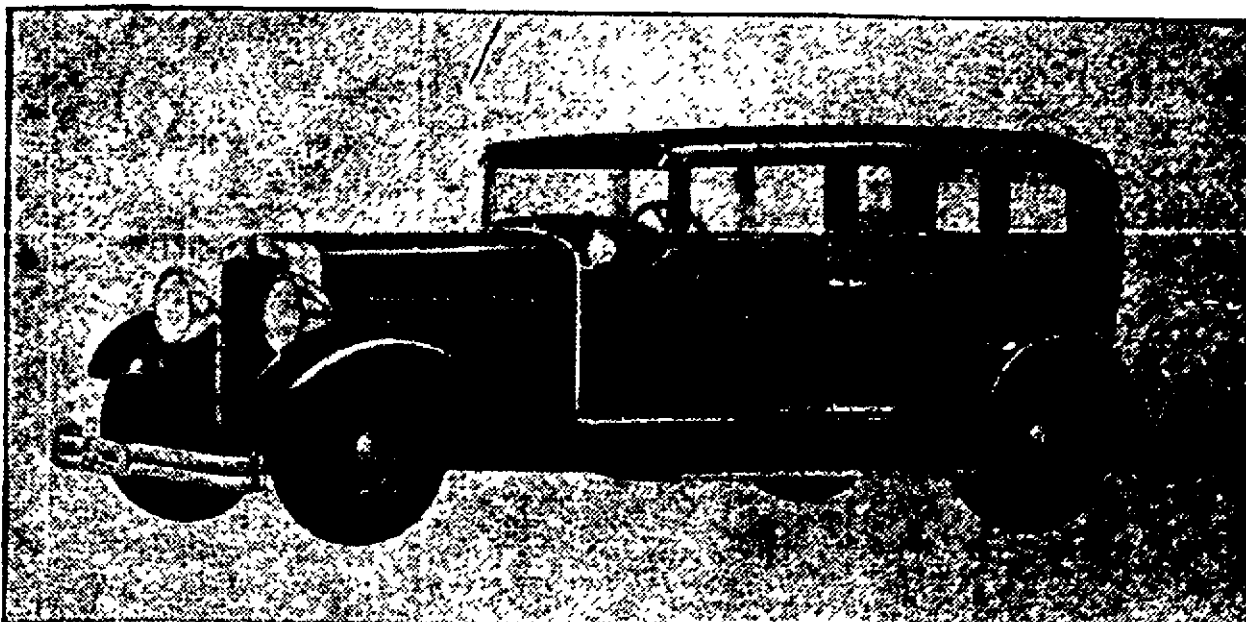

Dublin.—(P)—Librarians have reported that Hugh Walpole, an English author, is more popular among Free State readers than any Irish writer of fiction. Donn Byrne is the only Irishman whose books have a wide circulation. The librarians noticed that Eamon de Valera and other members of the republican group are reading works on constitutional law.

Unloading Buicks in Japan

This photograph from the other side of the world shows American merchandise being lightered ashore at Osaka, Japan. The commodity in question—Buick motor cars—has long enjoyed favor in the Orient, as well as in other foreign countries.

NEW COMERS IN NASH "400" LINE

In the new "400" Special Six seven-passenger sedan Nash has provided a car hitherto unheard-of in its price field, and one which anticipates the needs of a great group of motorists desiring seven-passenger prestige and luxury at moderate cost.

Finished in deep cedar and ebony, it completely supplies the opportunity by supplying superior Nash performance, beauty, distinction and individuality. The upholstery is exclusively loomed broadcloth, which graces deep, soft cushions. The seats are of the newest form fitted type with an adjustment in front for driver convenience, and the new disappearing arm rest in the center of the rear cushion. Two extra seats in the rear are deep cushioned and oversized. Interiorware is satin silk, and paneling is done in walnut finish with ivory inlay striping. The wheelbase of the new car is 122 inches—larger than that of other Special Six models, and this exceptional roominess makes the car unusually attractive for both large families and small groups desiring freedom in long tours. It has Bljor centralized chassis lubrication, Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers. For further information see the Appleton (Nash company), 527 West College

In years gone by the medicine show Barker went from town to town to peddle his fraudulent wares. "This Simpson Hair Juice," cried he, "will give you strength to battle John L. Sullivan himself." Then he raked in the dollars, gave out his bottles and quickly drove away.

Today he turns his talents to things automotive, and offers a wonder solution that will charge your battery in a moment. But again his bottled wonder is a fake.

There is no mystic wonder to use when a bank account is low. The money taken out must be replaced. And there is no patent remedy to use when discharge current has run the battery down. The current taken out must be replaced with current going in. No trick solution can take the place of charging current any more than a trick bank book can take the place of cash deposits.

WHAT BATTERY LIQUID IS The solution used in the battery of your car is diluted sulphuric acid, commonly called battery electrolyte. But even this acid should not be added when the level of the liquid is low, for only the water from the liquid evaporates. The acid stays behind. Hence only water should be added, and it should be distilled water in which there are no harmful impurities.

The fake solutions that appear from time to time to fool the unwary are merely strong sulphuric acid solutions, usually colored to make them look different and priced high enough to make the venture pay. The trick liquid makes the battery give out extra current, but it does so because the strong acid of the plates. And after a few false starts, the battery goes down and out to stay.

VETERAN GENERAL DRIVES OLD REO

Observes Ninety-eighth Birthday by Taking Ride in 1904 Model

General Clarence Horace Montgomery Agramonte, who served in the Crimean War, Indian Mutiny, the Civil War and with the American forces in Mexico, and who for the past forty-five years has been a practicing lawyer in Mexico City, recently celebrated his ninety-eighth birthday by driving for several miles the 1904 Reo roadster which he purchased from the first shipment of Reos into Mexico and operated for fifteen years.

This venerable car has shared some of the fame of its former owner, for in its early days it was frequently caught under rifle fire. Fortunately for General Agramonte, he escaped being hit, but his faithful machine shows many scars of combat.

In 1919 General Agramonte relinquished his old roadster in favor of an up-to-date Reo, and it passed through various hands until W. S. Durkin, Vice President and General Manager of the Durkin Reo Motor Company of Mexico City, purchased it two years ago for show purposes. After thoroughly going over this great-granddaddy of the Reo family, Mr. Durkin was surprised to find that all it needed was new tires, a battery and a little paint.

It was Mr. Durkin who planned the birthday surprise for his old friend, Mr. Durkin and the old roadster were the first to wish General Agramonte many happy returns of the day. When they returned from a spin, the General attended a luncheon given by a number of his intimate friends at the American Club.

General Agramonte was in charge of the American organization during various Mexican revolutions, and it was in the "Decena Trágica," or ten days fighting in Mexico City in 1913, that his then famous Reo received many bullet "wounds." At the time of the arrest of President Madero in 1913 the General's car was seized by the Federal authorities and used for a number of days in the military activities in the Capital. Later it was located in an abandoned fort and re-commissioned by its owner. The machine was impounded several times because it was driven too fast, and because its owner hugged the street car rails, which was forbidden in those days. The streets were paved with cobble stones, and the temptation to violate the latter ordinance was great.

General Agramonte was born in Havana, Cuba, in 1830. His father was an American citizen. He has lived in Mexico City since 1883. Among his decorations is that of the French Legion of Honor, bestowed upon him by Emperor Napoleon III.

ADJUSTABLE SEATS IN ESSEX MODELS

Driving Comfort Now Is Offered by Lower Priced Automobile

That the high priced car no longer enjoys a monopoly of driving comfort, is every evident in the 1929 models. Many features formerly found only in cars of the $4000 to $5000 class are now appearing in the low price field. The new Essex sedan, for example, is equipped with an adjustable front seat which may easily be placed in the position best suited to the stature or inclination of the driver.

With a few turns of a handle located in the front of the seat the occupant can adjust it to his or her liking without the least inconvenience. Although a number of the adjusting devices seen in the past permitted the seat to be moved forward or backward, its height from the floor and the tilt of the seat back often could not be changed. This objection the designers of the new Essex sedan have overcome by placing the front seat upon a curved base. When the "six-footer" adjusts the seat for added leg room it follows the curve downward as it is moved toward the rear and the back tilts to a reclining position.

The driver of smaller stature, however, is nearer to the controls and usually more comfortable when sitting erect, and the seat when moved forward for his or her convenience follows the curved base upward. The seat back tilts accordingly, and supporting cushions for the back are relegated to the past along with other unpleasant memories.

ROAD CONDITIONS AFFECT TIRE WEAR

Treads Wear Smooth More Rapidly on Some Kinds of Road Beds

How much road conditions affect tread wear, was brought out recently by Scouts who preceded a Miller test fleet. They found that within a radius of 250 miles, there was a difference of 27 per cent on tread wear due to the difference in road surfaces. The scout cars were all the same, carried the same load, had the same tire inflation, and traveled at the same rate of speed.

This means that on certain roads, a tread that would give but 4530 miles before wearing smooth, would give 10,550 additional miles before wearing smooth on other roads. In fact, in some instances, there has been a difference of 20,000 miles due to different road conditions.

Because of these varying surfaces in roads and their effect on the treads, scout cars preceded a test fleet so tire manufacturers know where to send their test fleets in order to subject tires to the hardest possible tests. In this way, it can be determined at which points, in the tires, greater strength should be built in order to have a balanced product—one that will take the hardest punishment and give the most mileage.

There is such a variance in materials used in road making, that roads of the same kind, in different sections of the country, offer varying degrees of wear on tire treads, according to Miller tire men.

For instance, river-bed gravel is comparatively easy on tire treads because of the water rounded edges of the small stones. On the other hand, crushed limestone or slag gravel presents sharp points and edges that cut into the tread like glass.

In the same way, cement roads may differ according to the sand used. Some cement roads made with sea sand, have a surface very much like sandpaper. It is so abrasive in fact, that if one were to rub a penny over it a few times, the surface of the coin would be absolutely smooth. It is perfectly obvious then, that such a road surface would wear tire treads very fast.

Macadam roads, too, take tread wear toll according to the surface finish, those heavily coated with tar and smooth in finish, being much easier on tires than those where tire treads contact with rough or sharp edges according to Mr. A. B. Schuerle of the Appleton Tire Shop.

DODGE TRUCKS PASS 3,500 MILE TEST

Overcome Extreme Weather Conditions Through Tennessee Mountains

A 3,500 mile test trip from Detroit, encountering the heavy snows of Tennessee mountain roads and the mid-winter climate of Florida, was completed last month by three Dodge Brothers trucks to prove their dependability and economy under extreme conditions.

With all trucks carrying full capacity loads, the caravan left the factory in zero temperature, to reach the July climate of Orlando, Florida, 1,250 miles away, in three days' driving time. On the return trip, stops were made for brake and engine tests on the steep inclines of Signal Mountain near Chattanooga, Tenn.

During the two weeks' trials, engineers constantly experimented with the various engine accessories and brake lining to find what type best suited the different driving conditions encountered. Reports show that more than 50 combinations were tried, and data obtained from these tests will enable engineers to furnish a most efficient and satisfactory equipment for truck owners.

New Marmon—"Roosevelt" Displayed Sunday

ROOSEVELT EIGHT FIVE-PASSENGER SEDAN.

The New Roosevelt straight eight, built by Marmon will be on display at the M. Wagner garage, 1330 East Wisconsin Avenue, Sunday. This is the first line of cars in a straight eight ever to be offered at less than a thousand dollars at the factory.

First and First Millionth Oakland Products

Back in 1907 Oakland Car number one was burning up the highways at a terrific thirty-mile-an-hour clip to set a pace in style and speed as outstanding in its day as is the one millionth Oakland product—a new All-American 4-door sedan—built on March 18. Officials of the Oakland Motor Car Company inspecting it as it leaves the assembly line are, from the left, B. H. Anibal, vice-president in charge of engineering; A. R. Glancy, president and general manager; W. R. Tracy, vice-president in charge of sales, and Gordon LeFebvre, vice-president in charge of operations.

FRONT FORK BUILT TO GIVE COMFORT

Harley-Davidson Designs Machine to Give Best Driving Possible

Harley-Davidson front fork is built to give real driving comfort. Built with light helical springs these forks do give superlative riding comfort. On ordinary roads the side fork cushion is active. On rough, lumpy roads the auxiliary buffer springs are also brought into play. This spring fork and the large form fitting saddle with its nineteen inches of spring all help to make the Harley-Davidson motorcycle the easiest riding motorcycle on the market today.

Other features of the Harley-Davidson are the throttle controlled motor oiler. The mechanical Harley-Davidson oiler is controlled by the throttle so that the proper amount of oil is positively fed to the motor at all ranges of speed. This all speed oiler greatly lengthens motor life and reduces upkeep cost. Adjustment to control the rate of flow of oil can be quickly and easily made. The entire oiler mechanism is protected by a metal cover.

The Harley-Davidson motorcycle is equipped with a single unit electric system, weather and waterproof ignition is insured with this system as all high tension wires are connected and sealed with water proof compound in such a manner that water cannot cause a short circuit. Generator output can be controlled by means of a conveniently located lever. This system is the same type system that is used on such high class automobiles as Buick, Cadillac and Packard.

Great care is used in fitting the lower connecting rod bearings in the Harley-Davidson motor. These bearings are hardened roller bearings and are fitted to the truth of a thousandth of an inch.

Harry Muckin local dealer states that there are many cases where lower connecting rod bearings run 10,000 and 50,000 miles without attention or the need of refitting with new roller bearings. This is easily understood when you stop to think that the oiling system is positive and does not depend on the fit and adjustment of bearings to hold a certain oil pressure. As long as there is oil of the proper grade in the oil tank it is fed positively to the motor, the proper amount for all motor speeds.

Over 90 different lines of business and 3000 police and sheriff departments use Harley-Davidson motorcycles and many report an operating cost per mile less than three cents. The Harley-Davidson front fork.

Says Women Will Refine Aircraft

NEW WOMAN CHAMPION OF THE AIR PRAISES GRAHAM-PAIGE COMFORT

Louise McPhetridge Thaden, who on March 17 set a new endurance flight record of 22 hours 4 minutes at the Oakland, Calif., airport, is pictured here with her plane and a Graham-Paige sedan. She predicts that women's influence will bring about improvement in the comfort and convenience of planes just as it has brought to the motor car the luxury, ease of operation, and beauty exemplified in the Graham-Paige. The photo was taken at the airport while the aviatrix was tuning up her plane. According to Mr. William Cramer, of the Valley Auto Sales, 221 East Col. Ave.

THE BLACK PIGEON

© 1929 By NEA Service, Inc. by ANNE AUSTIN

THIS HAS HAPPENED
RUTH LESTER, secretary, finds the body of "HANDSOME HARRY" BORDEN, her employer, Monday morning sprawled beneath the airshaft window of his private office.

McMANN, detective sergeant, conducting the investigation in the victim's office, questions the following suspects: Ruth, MRS. BORDEN, Borden's estranged wife and mother of his two children; RITA DUBOIS, night club dancer, with whom Borden was infatuated; and JAKE BAILEY,WARD, Ruth's fiancé, whose office is across the narrow airshaft from Borden's.

McMANN's belief in Jack's guilt is strengthened by his discovery that Jack's Colt's .38 is missing; by Jack's admission that he returned to the seventh floor Saturday afternoon and by the testimony of elevator boys MICKY MORAN and OTTO PELGER. BILL COWAN, Jack's friend, unwillingly tells McMANN he heard Jack threaten Borden's life.

McMANN questions BENNY SMITH, Borden's office boy; ASHE his manservant; MILLIE CASSIDY and LETTY MILLER, seventh floor scrubwomen and CLEO GILMAN, Borden's discarded mistress, who gives an ironclad alibi.

MARTHA MANNING, mother of Borden's illegitimate son, is involved by McMANN's own detective work. McMANN questions her mercilessly about her relationship with Borden. She tells McMANN she called on Borden last on Friday night after following him and JAKE BAILEY, his bodyguard, into the building. She says she climbed stairs to the seventh floor and saw Borden after Jack's departure. McMANN tells her she is lying and calls in Jake Bailey, waiting outside, to prove it.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XL

A short, broad-shouldered man, his face composed of a set of battered, unmatching features on which a genial smile set oddly, swaggered into the room, his surprisingly false-toothed grin accompanying an enormous hand thrust out toward the detective in charge of the investigation into the murder of Henry P. Borden.

"Hello, Cap! Seen in the papers where my buddy, Harry Borden, got bumped off and that you was anxious to have a chat with me. Anything I can do—Well, I guess you don't need me after all, Cap!" he broke off to exclaim when, on reaching Borden's desk and shaking hands with McMANN, he got a view of the face of the woman whose back had been turned toward him as he entered the room. "So—you got him, did you? Minute my back was turned—"

"Just a moment, Bailey," McMANN interrupted sharply. "You identify this woman?"

"Sure I know her! Harry pointed her out to me not a week after he took me to look after him. 'Jake,' he says, 'take a good look at that woman and don't let her get any nearer to me than she is now, or you'll lose your job, Jake,' he says."

"When and where was this?" McMANN interrupted impatiently.

"Now—let me see!" Jake Bailey laid his pearl-gray derby on his dead employer's desk and scratched his head. "Must a-been 'long about the middle of November, for I had my last bout with 'Battlin' Demon' on November tenth—a frame-up it was, too, Cap. I'll take my Bible oath! All right, Cap! Keep your shirt on!"

"But you ast, didn't you? Well, it must a-been about the middle of November, then and me and Harry was walkin' along the Avenue when Harry pipes this dame gittin' off a bus. She makes like she's gonna speak to him or bust and then he says to me, Harry says—"

"Yes, you've already told that!" McMANN interrupted impatiently. "Did she speak to him?"

"Say, Cap!" Jake Bailey grinned to you that he feared this woman would kill him?"

"Sure!" came the emphatic answer in a crackling falsetto. "He said he'd a-swore she was gonna croak him that time, and he bet she'd do it yet!"

"So you offered to put her out of the way for him, didn't you?" McMANN asked casually, after a glance at the notes he had made on the story of Frank Ashe, Borden's manservant.

"Well, I didn't, so it won't be me 'at'll sit in the chair," Bailey retorted. "And did you see Miss Manning again?" McMANN pursued his questioning.

"Now—guess she laid low and waited till I was out of town," Bailey answered.

"You didn't see her on Friday night?"

"No, I left town on Friday night, like I told you."

"But you were with Borden before you left?"

"Sure I was. I went with him to the Crillon, a swell feed joint, and waited outside while he of it with his new sweetie, that classy little dancer he picked up at the Golden Slipper. 'Bout half-past six it was when he met Rita there, and around eight when him and her come out. He put the frail in a taxi, and promised to see her at the Golden Slipper about 10, before her act went on at 11. She wouldn't let him drive over to her hotel with her—always acted pretty fitzy with him—that dame did. So him and me hopped into another cab and come on over to his office. Said he was 'doin' out a new scheme and wanted to work awhile before goin' to the Golden Slipper."

"And did you come up with him?"

"Sure! Harry wouldn't go into his own office alone, if he could help it. Scared some sucker who was sore at him because he'd lost his money might be layin' for him, or this dame here," and Jake jerked his head toward Martha Manning. "I come up all right, and we set her awhile, chewin' the rag—told me about this dancin' baby he was gonna take to Winter Haven with him Saturday, if he could get her boss to let her off."

"How long were you with Borden?"

"Oh, 'bout half an hour, I guess," Jake answered readily. "I didn't have nothin' to do but kill time before my train left—9:30, that was. Must a-been 'round nine when I beat it—sure, that's when it was! Eighty-five! I remember asking the elevator man what time it was, when he shoved his book at me to sign out. They make you write down the time and your name and the office you've been in."

"Please, Mr. McMANN, may I ask a question?" Ruth spoke for the first time since Jake Bailey had entered the room. "I've just been wondering how Mr. Borden got into his office, since he'd given his key to Rita Dubois Friday afternoon and never did get it back."

"That's right!" McMANN agreed, rather ungraciously. He did not enjoy having been caught napping. "How did Borden get in, Jake?"

"Check, kid!" and Jake touched his forehead in a salute to Ruth. "Harry didn't remember till he got to his door that he didn't have a key, and since he never had one, he had to hunt up one of the old janes that cleans the offices to let him in with her passkey. He couldn't find the old lady that took care of his office regular and had to prove who he was by showin' a letter with his name on it to the woman I scouted around and found for him."

"Am I Letty Miller, I suppose. She's the only other cleaning woman on the floor," McMANN commented, as he made a note. "Where did you find her?"

"Down the hall," Bailey answered promptly. "Said she wasn't acquainted with the tenants on this floor, but was jist helpin' out the old lady who belongs on this part of the floor."

For the first time in many minutes McMANN addressed a question to Martha Manning: "Did you see this scrubwoman yourself, Miss Manning?"

The contralto voice was quite steady. "No, As I told you before, I saw no one. I was alone while I waited for this man"—and she nodded scornfully toward Jake Bailey—"to leave, and no one but myself was in the hall when I left after seeing Mr. Borden. The scrubwoman who admitted Mr. Borden must have finished her work in this corridor before I had walked up the stairs."

McMANN peremptorily commanded the amazed ex-pugilist to silence. "You realize, Miss Manning," he said to the now calm, but burning-eyed woman, "that if Letty Miller tells me she was working on this corridor while you claim you were in it your story will be blown sky-high."

"I'm not afraid of anything that this Letty Miller may say," Martha Manning retorted scornfully. "For I am telling the truth, I was here—I did wait until this man had left, I did have a talk with Mr. Borden."

"Say!" Jake Bailey burst out, regardless of McMANN's injunction. "Where was you? You wasn't in no hall when I come out of here to take the elevator?"

"No, I wasn't. I was behind the stairway door, holding it slightly ajar and watching you," Miss Manning assured him with cool triumph.

"Say!" Jake Bailey turned to McMANN. "You got the goods on that dame, ain't you?—and she's tryin' to lie out of it, ain't she? You got proof she was in Harry's office, and she's tryin' to make you believe it was Friday night she was here and not Saturday? That's right, ain't it?"

McMANN grinned wryly. "Substantially correct, Jake. We've got her fingerprints, left sometime between Friday afternoon and Monday morning on the glass panel of that door between the two offices. Miss Manning insists that those fingerprints were made on Friday night, that she followed you and Borden into the building, walked up the stairs, waited at the head of them on the seventh floor until you left Borden, and then immediately knocked on Borden's door, counting on his thinking it was you, returned for a last word."

"Hell!" Bailey spat contemptuously. "Claims Borden let her in—pretty and polite as you please, does she? Ho! Not Harry! Not this dame! He'd as soon let a wildcat in."

"Mr. Borden carelessly opened the door wide, thinking it was you," Martha answered him calmly. "Miss Bailey, you've just told Mr. McMANN that you kept a sharp eye out for me, let I follow Mr. Borden, and that you did not see me again after Christmas Eve. That's correct, isn't it?"

The man glared at her. "Well—What of it?"

"I couldn't have passed very close to you on the street without your seeing me?" she persisted.

"Then—the lovely contralto voice vibrated with triumph. "I think I can convince you and Mr. McMANN that I watched you from the head of the stairs on Friday night!"

(To Be Continued)

In the next chapter—a confession. And from a surprising source.

Something like a blush ran over the scrambled features of the ex-pugilist. "Well, Cap," he admitted reluctantly, "I reckon that was me. Harry was payin' me a good salary to protect him, wasn't he? I jist done my duty—at all! But I never hit her till she snatched open her handbag—like she was reachin' for a gun—and Harry yelled at me to help him."

"And did she have one?"

"No," the dead man's efficient bodyguard admitted. "Reckon she was after a picture of the kid she had in her bag. Had 'Merry Christmas for my Dad' wrote on it—"

It was not a laugh this time that told that Jack Bailey's words had struck home. It was a long-drawn "Oh" of infinite misery, so heart-rending that Ruth Lester involuntarily leaned forward and patted those tight-lipped lips whose message she had not yet had time to read.

"And after you knocked her out?" McMANN prodded his witness.

"Well, me and Harry fixed her up with some brandy and I took her down and put her in a taxi. Paid for it, too," the ex-pugilist added virtuously.

"And did Borden after intimate with you that he feared this woman would kill him?"

"Sure!" came the emphatic answer in a crackling falsetto. "He said he'd a-swore she was gonna croak him that time, and he bet she'd do it yet!"

"So you offered to put her out of the way for him, didn't you?" McMANN asked casually, after a glance at the notes he had made on the story of Frank Ashe, Borden's manservant.

"Well, I didn't, so it won't be me 'at'll sit in the chair," Bailey retorted. "And did you see Miss Manning again?" McMANN pursued his questioning.

"Now—guess she laid low and waited till I was out of town," Bailey answered.

"You didn't see her on Friday night?"

"No, I left town on Friday night, like I told you."

"But you were with Borden before you left?"

"Sure I was. I went with him to the Crillon, a swell feed joint, and waited outside while he of it with his new sweetie, that classy little dancer he picked up at the Golden Slipper. 'Bout half-past six it was when he met Rita there, and around eight when him and her come out. He put the frail in a taxi, and promised to see her at the Golden Slipper about 10, before her act went on at 11. She wouldn't let him drive over to her hotel with her—always acted pretty fitzy with him—that dame did. So him and me hopped into another cab and come on over to his office. Said he was 'doin' out a new scheme and wanted to work awhile before goin' to the Golden Slipper."

"And did you come up with him?"

"Sure! Harry wouldn't go into his own office alone, if he could help it. Scared some sucker who was sore at him because he'd lost his money might be layin' for him, or this dame here," and Jake jerked his head toward Martha Manning. "I come up all right, and we set her awhile, chewin' the rag—told me about this dancin' baby he was gonna take to Winter Haven with him Saturday, if he could get her boss to let her off."

"How long were you with Borden?"

"Oh, 'bout half an hour, I guess," Jake answered readily. "I didn't have nothin' to do but kill time before my train left—9:30, that was. Must a-been 'round nine when I beat it—sure, that's when it was! Eighty-five! I remember asking the elevator man what time it was, when he shoved his book at me to sign out. They make you write down the time and your name and the office you've been in."

"Please, Mr. McMANN, may I ask a question?" Ruth spoke for the first time since Jake Bailey had entered the room. "I've just been wondering how Mr. Borden got into his office, since he'd given his key to Rita Dubois Friday afternoon and never did get it back."

"That's right!" McMANN agreed, rather ungraciously. He did not enjoy having been caught napping. "How did Borden get in, Jake?"

"Check, kid!" and Jake touched his forehead in a salute to Ruth. "Harry didn't remember till he got to his door that he didn't have a key, and since he never had one, he had to hunt up one of the old janes that cleans the offices to let him in with her passkey. He couldn't find the old lady that took care of his office regular and had to prove who he was by showin' a letter with his name on it to the woman I scouted around and found for him."

"Am I Letty Miller, I suppose. She's the only other cleaning woman on the floor," McMANN commented, as he made a note. "Where did you find her?"

"Down the hall," Bailey answered promptly. "Said she wasn't acquainted with the tenants on this floor, but was jist helpin' out the old lady who belongs on this part of the floor."

For the first time in many minutes McMANN addressed a question to Martha Manning: "Did you see this scrubwoman yourself, Miss Manning?"

The contralto voice was quite steady. "No, As I told you before, I saw no one. I was alone while I waited for this man"—and she nodded scornfully toward Jake Bailey—"to leave, and no one but myself was in the hall when I left after seeing Mr. Borden. The scrubwoman who admitted Mr. Borden must have finished her work in this corridor before I had walked up the stairs."

McMANN peremptorily commanded the amazed ex-pugilist to silence. "You realize, Miss Manning," he said to the now calm, but burning-eyed woman, "that if Letty Miller tells me she was working on this corridor while you claim you were in it your story will be blown sky-high."

"I'm not afraid of anything that this Letty Miller may say," Martha Manning retorted scornfully. "For I am telling the truth, I was here—I did wait until this man had left, I did have a talk with Mr. Borden."

"Say!" Jake Bailey burst out, regardless of McMANN's injunction. "Where was you? You wasn't in no hall when I come out of here to take the elevator?"

"No, I wasn't. I was behind the stairway door, holding it slightly ajar and watching you," Miss Manning assured him with cool triumph.

"Say!" Jake Bailey turned to McMANN. "You got the goods on that dame, ain't you?—and she's tryin' to lie out of it, ain't she? You got proof she was in Harry's office, and she's tryin' to make you believe it was Friday night she was here and not Saturday? That's right, ain't it?"

McMANN grinned wryly. "Substantially correct, Jake. We've got her fingerprints, left sometime between Friday afternoon and Monday morning on the glass panel of that door between the two offices. Miss Manning insists that those fingerprints were made on Friday night, that she followed you and Borden into the building, walked up the stairs, waited at the head of them on the seventh floor until you left Borden, and then immediately knocked on Borden's door, counting on his thinking it was you, returned for a last word."

"Hell!" Bailey spat contemptuously. "Claims Borden let her in—pretty and polite as you please, does she? Ho! Not Harry! Not this dame! He'd as soon let a wildcat in."

"Mr. Borden carelessly opened the door wide, thinking it was you," Martha answered him calmly. "Miss Bailey, you've just told Mr. McMANN that you kept a sharp eye out for me, let I follow Mr. Borden, and that you did not see me again after Christmas Eve. That's correct, isn't it?"

The man glared at her. "Well—What of it?"

"I couldn't have passed very close to you on the street without your seeing me?" she persisted.

"Then—the lovely contralto voice vibrated with triumph. "I think I can convince you and Mr. McMANN that I watched you from the head of the stairs on Friday night!"

(To Be Continued)

In the next chapter—a confession. And from a surprising source.

Something like a blush ran over the scrambled features of the ex-pugilist. "Well, Cap," he admitted reluctantly, "I reckon that was me. Harry was payin' me a good salary to protect him, wasn't he? I jist done my duty—at all! But I never hit her till she snatched open her handbag—like she was reachin' for a gun—and Harry yelled at me to help him."

"And did she have one?"

"No," the dead man's efficient bodyguard admitted. "Reckon she was after a picture of the kid she had in her bag. Had 'Merry Christmas for my Dad' wrote on it—"

It was not a laugh this time that told that Jack Bailey's words had struck home. It was a long-drawn "Oh" of infinite misery, so heart-rending that Ruth Lester involuntarily leaned forward and patted those tight-lipped lips whose message she had not yet had time to read.

"And after you knocked her out?" McMANN prodded his witness.

"Well, me and Harry fixed her up with some brandy and I took her down and put her in a taxi. Paid for it, too," the ex-pugilist added virtuously.

"And did Borden after intimate

with you that he feared this woman would kill him?"

"Sure!" came the emphatic answer in a crackling falsetto. "He said he'd a-swore she was gonna croak him that time, and he bet she'd do it yet!"

"So you offered to put her out of the way for him, didn't you?" McMANN asked casually, after a glance at the notes he had made on the story of Frank Ashe, Borden's manservant.

"Well, I didn't, so it won't be me 'at'll sit in the chair," Bailey retorted. "And did you see Miss Manning again?" McMANN pursued his questioning.

"Now—guess she laid low and waited till I was out of town," Bailey answered.

"You didn't see her on Friday night?"

"No, I left town on Friday night, like I told you."

"But you were with Borden before you left?"

"Sure I was. I went with him to the Crillon, a swell feed joint, and waited outside while he of it with his new sweetie, that classy little dancer he picked up at the Golden Slipper. 'Bout half-past six it was when he met Rita there, and around eight when him and her come out. He put the frail in a taxi, and promised to see her at the Golden Slipper about 10, before her act went on at 11. She wouldn't let him drive over to her hotel with her—always acted pretty fitzy with him—that dame did. So him and me hopped into another cab and come on over to his office. Said he was 'doin' out a new scheme and wanted to work awhile before goin' to the Golden Slipper."

"And did you come up with him?"

"Sure! Harry wouldn't go into his own office alone, if he could help it. Scared some sucker who was sore at him because he'd lost his money might be layin' for him, or this dame here," and Jake jerked his head toward Martha Manning. "I come up all right, and we set her awhile, chewin' the rag—told me about this dancin' baby he was gonna take to Winter Haven with him Saturday, if he could get her boss to let her off."

"How long were you with Borden?"

"Oh, 'bout half an hour, I guess," Jake answered readily. "I didn't have nothin' to do but kill time before my train left—9:30, that was. Must a-been 'round nine when I beat it—sure, that's when it was! Eighty-five! I remember asking the elevator man what time it was, when he shoved his book at me to sign out. They make you write down the time and your name and the office you've been in."

"Please, Mr. McMANN, may I ask a question?" Ruth spoke for the first time since Jake Bailey had entered the room. "I've just been wondering how Mr. Borden got into his office, since he'd given his key to Rita Dubois Friday afternoon and never did get it back."

"That's right!" McMANN agreed, rather ungraciously. He did not enjoy having been caught napping. "How did Borden get in, Jake?"

"Check, kid!" and Jake touched his forehead in a salute to Ruth. "Harry didn't remember till he got to his door that he didn't have a key, and since he never had one, he had to hunt up one of the old janes that cleans the offices to let him in with her passkey. He couldn't find the old lady that took care of his office regular and had to prove who he was by showin' a letter with his name on it to the woman I scouted around and found for him."

"Am I Letty Miller, I suppose. She's the only other cleaning woman on the floor," McMANN commented, as he made a note. "Where did you find her?"

"Down the hall," Bailey answered promptly. "Said she wasn't acquainted with the tenants on this floor, but was jist helpin' out the old lady who belongs on this part of the floor."

For the first time in many minutes McMANN addressed a question to Martha Manning: "Did you see this scrubwoman yourself, Miss Manning?"

The contralto voice was quite steady. "No, As I told you before, I saw no one. I was alone while I waited for this man"—and she nodded scornfully toward Jake Bailey—"to leave, and no one but myself was in the hall when I left after seeing Mr. Borden. The scrubwoman who admitted Mr. Borden must have finished her work in this corridor before I had walked up the stairs."

McMANN peremptorily commanded the amazed ex-pugilist to silence. "You realize, Miss Manning," he said to the now calm, but burning-eyed woman, "that if Letty Miller tells me she was working on this corridor while you claim you were in it your story will be blown sky-high."

"I'm not afraid of anything that this Letty Miller may say," Martha Manning retorted scornfully. "For I am telling the truth, I was here—I did wait until this man had left, I did have a talk with Mr. Borden."

"Say!" Jake Bailey burst out, regardless of McMANN's injunction. "Where was you? You wasn't in no hall when I come out of here to take the elevator?"

"No, I wasn't. I was behind the stairway door, holding it slightly ajar and watching you," Miss Manning assured him with cool triumph.

"Say!" Jake Bailey turned to McMANN. "You got the goods on that dame, ain't you?—and she's tryin' to lie out of it, ain't she? You got proof she was in Harry's office, and she's tryin' to make you believe it was Friday night she was here and not Saturday? That's right, ain't it?"

McMANN grinned wryly. "Substantially correct, Jake. We've got her fingerprints, left sometime between Friday afternoon and Monday morning on the glass panel of that door between the two offices. Miss Manning insists that those fingerprints were made on Friday night, that she followed you and Borden into the building, walked up the stairs, waited at the head of them on the seventh floor until you left Borden, and then immediately knocked on Borden's door, counting on his thinking it was you, returned for a last word."

"Hell!" Bailey spat contemptuously. "Claims Borden let her in—pretty and polite as you please, does she? Ho! Not Harry! Not this dame! He'd as soon let a wildcat in."

"Mr. Borden carelessly opened the door wide, thinking it was you," Martha answered him calmly. "Miss Bailey, you've just told Mr. McMANN that you kept a sharp eye out for me, let I follow Mr. Borden, and that you did not see me again after Christmas Eve. That's correct, isn't it?"

The man glared at her. "Well—What of it?"

"I couldn't have passed very close to you on the street without your seeing me?" she persisted.

"Then—the lovely contralto voice vibrated with triumph. "I think I can convince you and Mr. McMANN that I watched you from the head of the stairs on Friday night!"

(To Be Continued)

In the next chapter—a confession. And from a surprising source.

Something like a blush ran over the scrambled features of the ex-pugilist. "Well, Cap," he admitted reluctantly, "I reckon that was me. Harry was payin' me a good salary to protect him, wasn't he? I jist done my duty—at all! But I never hit her till she snatched open her handbag—like she was reachin' for a gun—and Harry yelled at me to help him."

"And did she have one?"

"No," the dead man's efficient bodyguard admitted. "Reckon she was after a picture of the kid she had in her bag. Had 'Merry Christmas for my Dad' wrote on it—"

It was not a laugh this time that told that Jack Bailey's words had struck home. It was a long-drawn "Oh" of infinite misery, so heart-rending that Ruth Lester involuntarily leaned forward and patted those tight-lipped lips whose message she had not yet had time to read.

"And after you knocked her out?" McMANN prodded his witness.

"Well, me and Harry fixed her up with some brandy and I took her down and put her in a taxi. Paid for it, too," the ex-pugilist added virtuously.

"And did Borden after intimate

with you that he feared this woman would kill him?"

"Sure!" came the emphatic answer in a crackling falsetto. "He said he'd a-swore she was gonna croak him that time, and he bet she'd do it yet!"

"So you offered to put her out of the way for him, didn't you?" McMANN asked casually, after a glance at the notes he had made on the story of Frank Ashe, Borden's manservant.

"Well, I didn't, so it won't be me 'at'll sit in the chair," Bailey retorted. "And did you see Miss Manning again?" McMANN pursued his questioning.

"Now—guess she laid low and waited till I was out of town," Bailey answered.

"You didn't see her on Friday night?"

"No, I left town on Friday night, like I told you."

"But you were with Borden before you left?"

"Sure I was. I went with him to the Crillon, a swell feed joint, and waited outside while he of it with his new sweetie, that classy little dancer he picked up at the Golden Slipper. 'Bout half-past six it was when he met Rita there, and around eight when him and her come out. He put the frail in a taxi, and promised to see her at the Golden Slipper about 10, before her act went on at 11. She wouldn't let him drive over to her hotel with her—always acted pretty fitzy with him—that dame did. So him and me hopped into another cab and come on over to his office. Said he was 'doin' out a new scheme and wanted to work awhile before goin' to the Golden Slipper."

"And did you come up with him?"

"Sure! Harry wouldn't go into his own office alone, if he could help it. Scared some sucker who was sore at him because he'd lost his money might be layin' for him, or this dame here," and Jake jerked his head toward Martha Manning. "I come up all right, and we set her awhile, chewin' the rag—told me about this dancin' baby he was gonna take to Winter Haven with him Saturday, if he could get her boss to let her off."

"How long were you with Borden?"

"Oh, 'bout half an hour, I guess," Jake answered readily. "I didn't have nothin' to do but kill time before my train left—9:30, that was. Must a-been 'round nine when I beat it—sure, that's when it was! Eighty-five! I remember asking the elevator man what time it was, when he shoved his book at me to sign out. They make you write down the time and your name and the office you've been in."

"Please, Mr. McMANN, may I ask a question?" Ruth spoke for the first time since Jake Bailey had entered the room. "I've just been wondering how Mr. Borden got into his office, since he'd given his key to Rita Dubois Friday afternoon and never did get it back."

"That's right!" McMANN agreed, rather ungraciously. He did not enjoy having been caught napping. "How did Borden get in, Jake?"

"Check, kid!" and Jake touched his forehead in a salute to Ruth. "Harry didn't remember till he got to his door that he didn't have a key, and since he never had one, he had to hunt up one of the old janes that cleans the offices to let him in with her passkey. He couldn't find the old lady that took care of his office regular and had to prove who he was by showin' a letter with his name on it to the woman I scouted around and found for him."

"Am I Letty Miller, I suppose. She's the only other cleaning woman on the floor," McMANN commented, as he made a note. "Where did you find her?"

"Down the hall," Bailey answered promptly. "Said she wasn't acquainted with the tenants on this floor, but was jist helpin' out the old lady who belongs on this part of the floor."

For the first time in many minutes McMANN addressed a question to Martha Manning: "Did you see this scrubwoman yourself, Miss Manning?"

The contralto voice was quite steady. "No, As I told you before, I saw no one. I was alone while I waited for this man"—and she nodded scornfully toward Jake Bailey—"to leave, and no one but myself was in the hall when I left after seeing Mr. Borden. The scrubwoman who admitted Mr. Borden must have finished her work in this corridor before I had walked up the stairs."

McMANN peremptorily commanded the amazed ex-pugilist to silence. "You realize, Miss Manning," he said to the now calm, but burning-eyed woman, "that if Letty Miller tells me she was working on this corridor while you claim you were in it your story will be blown sky-high."

"I'm not afraid of anything that this Letty Miller may say," Martha Manning retorted scornfully. "For I am telling the truth, I was here—I did wait until this man had left, I did have a talk with Mr. Borden."

"Say!" Jake Bailey burst out, regardless of McMANN's injunction. "Where was you? You wasn't in no hall when I come out of here to take the elevator?"

"No, I wasn't. I was behind the stairway door, holding it slightly ajar and watching you," Miss Manning assured him with cool triumph.

"Say!" Jake Bailey turned to McMANN. "You got the goods on that dame, ain't you?—and she's tryin' to lie out of it, ain't she? You got proof she was in Harry's office, and she's tryin' to make you believe it was Friday night she was here and not Saturday? That's right, ain't it?"

McMANN grinned wryly. "Substantially correct, Jake. We've got her fingerprints, left sometime between Friday afternoon and Monday morning on the glass panel of that door between the two offices. Miss Manning insists that those fingerprints were made on Friday night, that she followed you and Borden into the building, walked up the stairs, waited at the head of them on the seventh floor until you left Borden, and then immediately knocked on Borden's door, counting on his thinking it was you, returned for a last word."

"Hell!" Bailey spat contemptuously. "Claims Borden let her in—pretty and polite as you please, does she? Ho! Not Harry! Not this dame! He'd as soon let a wildcat in."

"Mr. Borden carelessly opened the door wide, thinking it was you," Martha answered him calmly. "Miss Bailey, you've just told Mr. McMANN that you kept a sharp eye out for me, let I follow Mr. Borden, and that you did not see me again after Christmas Eve. That's correct, isn't it?"

The man glared at her. "Well—What of it?"

"I couldn't have passed very close to you on the street without your seeing me?" she persisted.

"Then—the lovely contralto voice vibrated with triumph. "I think I can convince you and Mr. McMANN that I watched you from the head of the stairs on Friday night!"

(To Be Continued)

In the next chapter—a confession. And from a surprising source.

Something like a blush ran over the scrambled features of the ex-pugilist. "Well, Cap," he admitted reluctantly, "I reckon that was me. Harry was payin' me a good salary to protect him, wasn't he? I jist done my duty—at all! But I never hit her till she snatched open her handbag—like she was reachin' for a gun—and Harry yelled at me to help him."

"And did she have one?"

"No," the dead man's efficient bodyguard admitted. "Reckon she was after a picture of the kid she had in her bag. Had 'Merry Christmas for my Dad' wrote on it—"

It was not a laugh this time that told that Jack Bailey's words had struck home. It was a long-drawn "Oh" of infinite misery, so heart-rending that Ruth Lester involuntarily leaned forward and patted those tight-lipped lips whose message she had not yet had time to read.

"And after you knocked her out?" McMANN prodded his witness.

"Well, me and Harry fixed her up with some brandy and I took her down and put her in a taxi. Paid for it, too," the ex-pugilist added virtuously.

"And did Borden after intimate

with you that he feared this woman would kill him?"

"Sure!" came the emphatic answer in a crackling falsetto. "He said he'd a-swore she was gonna croak him that time, and he bet she'd do it yet!"

"So you offered to put her out of the way for him, didn't you?" McMANN asked casually, after a glance at the notes he had made on the story of Frank Ashe, Borden's manservant.

"Well, I didn't, so it won't be me 'at'll sit in the chair," Bailey retorted. "And did you see Miss Manning again?" McMANN pursued his questioning.

"Now—guess she laid low and waited till I was out of town," Bailey answered.

"You didn't see her on Friday night?"

"No, I left town on Friday night, like I told you."

"But you were with Borden before you left?"

"Sure I was. I went with him to the Crillon, a swell feed joint, and waited outside while he of it with his new sweetie, that classy little dancer he picked up at the Golden Slipper. 'Bout half-past six it was when he met Rita there, and around eight when him and her come out. He put the frail in a taxi, and promised to see her at the Golden Slipper about 10, before her act went on at 11. She wouldn't let him drive over to her hotel with her—always acted pretty fitzy with him—that dame did. So him and me hopped into another cab and come on over to his office. Said he was 'doin' out a new scheme and wanted to work awhile before goin' to the Golden Slipper."

"And did you come up with him?"

"Sure! Harry wouldn't go into his own office alone, if he could help it. Scared some sucker who was sore at him because he'd lost his money might be layin' for him, or this dame here," and Jake jerked his head toward Martha Manning. "I come up all right, and we set her awhile, chewin' the rag—told me about this dancin' baby he was gonna take to Winter Haven with him Saturday, if he could get her boss to let her off."

"How long were you with Borden?"

"Oh, 'bout half an hour, I guess," Jake answered readily. "I didn't have nothin' to do but kill time before my train left—9:30, that was. Must a-been 'round nine when I beat it—sure, that's when it was! Eighty-five! I remember asking the elevator man what time it was, when he shoved his book at me to sign out. They make you write down the time and your name and the office you've been in."

"Please, Mr. McMANN, may I ask a question?" Ruth spoke for the first time since Jake Bailey had entered the room. "I've just been wondering how Mr. Borden got into his office, since he'd given his key to Rita Dubois Friday afternoon and never did get it back."

"That's right!" McMANN agreed, rather ungraciously. He did not enjoy having been caught napping. "How did Borden get in, Jake?"

"Check, kid!" and Jake touched his forehead in a salute to Ruth. "Harry didn't remember till he got to his door that he didn't have a key, and since he never had one, he had to hunt up one of the old janes that cleans the offices to let him in with her passkey. He couldn't find the old lady that took care of his office regular and had to prove who he was by showin' a letter with his name on it to the woman I scouted around and found for him."

"Am I Letty Miller, I suppose. She's the only other cleaning woman on the floor," McMANN commented, as he made a note. "Where did you find her?"

"Down the hall," Bailey answered promptly. "Said she wasn't acquainted with the tenants on this floor, but was jist helpin' out the old lady who belongs on this part of the floor."

For the first time in many minutes McMANN addressed a question to Martha Manning: "Did you see this scrubwoman yourself, Miss Manning?"

The contralto voice was quite steady. "No, As I told you before, I saw no one. I was alone while I waited for this man"—and she nodded scornfully toward Jake Bailey—"to leave, and no one but myself was in the hall when I left after seeing Mr. Borden. The scrubwoman who admitted Mr. Borden must have finished her work in this corridor before I had walked up the stairs."

McMANN peremptorily commanded the amazed ex-pugilist to silence. "You realize, Miss Manning," he said to the now calm, but burning-eyed woman, "that if Letty Miller tells me she was working on this corridor while you claim you were in it your story will be blown sky-high."

"I'm not afraid of anything that this Letty Miller may say," Martha Manning retorted scornfully. "For I am telling the truth, I was here—I did wait until this man had left, I did have a talk with Mr. Borden."

"Say!" Jake Bailey burst out, regardless of McMANN's injunction. "Where was you? You wasn't in no hall when I come out of here to take the elevator?"

"No, I wasn't. I was behind the stairway door, holding it slightly ajar and watching you," Miss Manning assured him with cool triumph.

"Say!" Jake Bailey turned to McMANN. "You got the goods on that dame, ain't you?—and she's tryin' to lie out of it, ain't she? You got proof she was in Harry's office, and she's tryin' to make you believe it was Friday night she was here and not Saturday? That's right, ain't it?"

McMANN grinned wryly. "Substantially correct, Jake. We've got her fingerprints, left sometime between Friday afternoon and Monday morning on the glass panel of that door between the two offices. Miss Manning insists that those fingerprints were made on Friday night, that she followed you and Borden into the building, walked up the stairs, waited at the head of them on the seventh floor until you left Borden, and then immediately knocked on Borden's door, counting on his thinking it was you, returned for a last word."

"Hell!" Bailey spat contemptuously. "Claims Borden let her in—pretty and polite as you please, does she? Ho! Not Harry! Not this dame! He'd as soon let a wildcat in."

"Mr. Borden carelessly opened the door wide, thinking it was you," Martha answered him calmly. "Miss Bailey, you've just told Mr. McMANN that you kept a sharp eye out for me, let I follow Mr. Borden, and that you did not see me again after Christmas Eve. That's correct, isn't it?"

The man glared at her. "Well—What of it?"

"I couldn't have passed very close to you on the street without your seeing me?" she persisted.

"Then—the lovely contralto voice vibrated with triumph. "I think I can convince you and Mr. McMANN that I watched you from the head of the stairs on Friday night!"

(To Be Continued)

In the next chapter—a confession. And from a surprising source.

Something like a blush ran over the scrambled features of the ex-pugilist. "Well, Cap," he admitted reluctantly, "I reckon that was me. Harry was payin' me a good salary to protect him, wasn't he? I jist done my duty—at all! But I never hit her till she snatched open her handbag—like she was reachin' for a gun—and Harry yelled at me to help him."

"And did she have one?"

"No," the dead man's efficient bodyguard admitted. "Reckon she was after a picture of the kid she had in her bag. Had 'Merry Christmas for my Dad' wrote on it—"

It was not a laugh this time that told that Jack Bailey's words had struck home. It was a long-drawn "Oh" of infinite misery, so heart-rending that Ruth Lester involuntarily leaned forward and patted those tight-lipped lips whose message she had not yet had time to read.

"And after you knocked her out?" McMANN prodded his witness.

"Well, me and Harry fixed her up with some brandy and I took her down and put her in a taxi. Paid for it, too," the ex-pugilist added virtuously.

"And did Borden after intimate

with you that he feared this woman would kill him?"

"Sure!" came the emphatic answer in a crackling falsetto. "He said he'd a-swore she was gonna croak him that time, and he bet she'd do it yet!"

"So you offered to put her out of the way for him, didn't you?" McMANN asked casually, after a glance at the notes he had made on the story of Frank Ashe, Borden's manservant.

"Well, I didn't, so it won't be me 'at'll sit in the chair," Bailey retorted. "And did you see Miss Manning again?" McMANN pursued his questioning.

"Now—guess she laid low and waited till I was out of town," Bailey answered.

"You didn't see her on Friday night?"

"No, I left town on Friday night, like I told you."

NEW FASHIONS

A PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

BEAUTY HINTS

Isadora Duncan Maternal Instinct Is Discussed

It was women in great droves who called for Isadora Duncan's life story, bookstores report. The same women are probably reading the two recently published biographies of the frank Isadora Duncan which pick up the thread of her story where her death left it.

Both these books, "The Untold Story," by Mary Desti, and "Isadora Duncan's Russian Days," by Irma Duncan and Allan MacDougall, prove that it's one thing for a lady to be frank as she likes about her own personal affairs, but quite another thing for her friends and relatives to dare be as frank for her.

GASPS AHEAD
Mothers, I imagine, instead of gasping at Isadora's amours, as they probably did in her autobiography, will gasp more at the revelations of unusual maternity in at least one of these volumes.

For instance, Mary Desti herself, recounts how, arriving in Paris one night for the first time in her life with her eighteen-month old baby, she decided late at night that she must go to the annual Opera Ball. She hired the maid, never seen before that night, to take care of her baby, returning at 4 a. m. She found the baby sick but, nevertheless, took him with her in a taxi-cab to inspect draughtily apartments. The day ended with Mary being discovered by the Mad Duncans. There was a gay scene with the sick baby placed on the piano while wild dance tunes were played and the whole tribe danced about the waiting child. The next day, much to Mary Desti's surprise, the beloved infant had pneumonia.

STIRRING INCIDENT
Super-maternal women will gasp, too, at the incident with the children during the stay of Isadora and Mary at Helgoland. While on this island Isadora discovered an adjacent island with a sandy beach which was visited for swimming. There was one hotel on the tiny little island. Isadora decided to leave her children there while she and Mary returned for baggage and come back for a permanent stay in the quiet little place.

After dinner, though, Isadora remembered that some admirer was due to arrive and decided not to return to the children, very small ones, by the way, till the next day. But a fearful storm arose and when Isadora and Mary voiced some worry about what the storm would do to the little island, they were told not to worry as "probably everything is washed away by now."

BRAVERY THEIRS
Maternal instinct was fully roused at this and they begged and bribed fishermen to take them across to the island.

"No one could live in such a sea," they said. And now filled with terror, Isadora and I so pleaded with them that the life guards said they would take us. Jumping in a boat we were soon bounding through the terrific waves.

"When he reached the little island we dashed to the hotel and found the two children, faces peering out of the window, terrified, waiting for us to come and get them. We threw our wraps and capes about them. I holding Preston and Isadore Temple, and started back.

"The life guards declared that any moment the whole island might be washed away. I can still feel that icy water as the angry waves broke over us, drenching us to the skin. A tremendous crowd of fishermen awaited us as we came in, cheering and lending a hand. The children were out to bed, after being given hot tea and whiskey, and we sat the rest of the night waiting for daylight."

A GOOD POINT
Still, there is something to be said for a system of child-rearing which gives children such fortitude that, with no undue protest, they will consent to being left alone in a strange hotel on a lonely island, on the strength of maternal promises that they will be called for, when they must have learned what these promises meant.

And there seems little question that Isadora's children were as happy and well-cared-for as more conventionally raised progeny, nor that Isadora's grief at their tragic death wasn't even more intensive than that of a more garden variety of mother. Sometimes there is much to be said for the diluted maternal instinct.

FASHION HINTS

PIQUE TRIM
A wide-side poke cloche hat for the tailored suit is of navy bako with striped pique in navy blue and white making a modernistic inset on the downward side. The scarf to complete the effect has a collar portion of the pique with bands of blue crepe de chine, white lined.

FLARE EMPHASIS
There's a flare to practically every skirt, frock and many coats this spring. The new flare is apt to start between the hip and knee line and godets are one interesting treatment of this idea.

DRESSY SWEATERS
New sweaters become dainty blouses, in the new order of styles. Some of them have fingerlike touches. A beige one with flecks of orange has a dicker and flaring collar of orange organdy. It is a tuck-in, like many of the newer blouses.

TEACHER ON CARPET HOLDS ON TO HER JOB

Miss Ruth Timmons, 19-year-old school teacher of Richland Township, O., is just one of the girl teachers recently dragged forth on the carpet before an accusing Board of Education to meet charges that she demoralized her pupils by teaching them the Charleston and other nefarious bits of worldly wisdom.

The Board pulled in its horns a little at finding that the dance taught their property was not the Charleston, but folk dance steps taught in the young lady's college.

The Board was forced to meet, too, parental charges that Miss Timmons—

"Failed to come to school on time—"

"Failed to maintain proper discipline—"

"Neglected to keep proper oversight of her pupils outside the school room—"

"Failed to instruct her pupils in such a manner as to enable them to show evidence of reasonable proficiency in the subject studied."

Though Miss Timmons was not removed, it was only by some miracle, for hundreds of young school teachers are actually fired each year because parents whose ignorant and provincial way of living gives them an utterly different set of standards and values than a girl who comes into their community from a college and a larger environment, seem to think that they have the right to demand that the teacher of their young react exactly as they do, or she is all wrong.

Granting that not all school teachers are as efficient as they should be; granting that they are not always superior and less prejudiced than the parents of their communities, the fact remains that, on general principles, I am inclined to favor gossip and criticism of their children's teachers to mean anything whatsoever; in fact, I would favor some neat punishment for parents who carp at their children's teachers, for the bare fact is that 90 per cent of the time the teacher is right and the parent all wrong.

In the first place, a school teacher is generally much younger than parents; she or he is much more astute; because of youth and educational opportunities, to the modern world of the present—the world which children are meeting, rather than the world which their parents met.

In the second place, parents have the well-developed genius of making teachers responsible for all the things they themselves wish to evade because they don't know how to handle the situation.

The complaint that Miss Timmons "neglected to keep proper oversight of her pupils outside the school room" is one of the most ridiculous charges ever made. This idea that a teacher who puts in her good eight hours' work should in turn be responsible for her pupils after school hours is as archaic as "The Hoosier Schoolmaster."

TWEEDS FOR THE GIRL WHO GOES TO THE LINKS

New York—Whether the modern girl decided to do her romancing on the avenue or over the golf links on Easter, it means a new costume. For the links, however, the lighter, softer and swanlike tweeds are going to have it pretty much their own way. The skirts are straight but not snug except about the hips and the jackets are short and fastened very low.

Household Hints

HAT SACHETS
Every hat should be aired nightly and then freshened by having a little lavender sachet put inside its lining. Spraying with one's favorite perfume is another dainty way to keep it fresh.

SLEEVE BOARDS
With more elaborate styles coming in again, and especially with the emphasis there now is upon intricate sleeves, one should either bring out the old shaped sleeve board from its hiding place or purchase a new one. They are inexpensive and worth their price.

DELICIOUS PRUNES
If you soak prunes 21 hours in cold water, then put them on in the same water and let them come to a boil, no more, they are big, juicy and delicious.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS—

The funniest thing about spring hats is some of the hats they spring.

THE TINYMITES

By Hal Cochran

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

The queer tub man still sailed around, while all the Tinies, on the ground, just stood and watched him closely. They were very much amazed. "I hope he doesn't fall," said one. "I'm sure that that would be no fun. In fact, if he drops to the ground, I'm sure that he'll be dazed."

The tub man heard this short remark. He shouted loud, "I'm like a lark. I fly around to suit myself and never take a flop. Don't fret because you think I'll fall, 'cause there's no chance of that at all. I'll make a pretty landing, boys, when I get set to stop."

Then 'round and 'round he went some more. His antics made the Tinies roar. Said Copy, "Look! He loops the loop and does a spiral dive. He has a heap of nerve, no doubt, or he'd be scared that he'd fall out. If I had ever tried that stunt I wouldn't be alive."

"Aw, shucks," said Clowny. "That's not him. He has a tub that's right in trim to do a lot of crazy tricks. He merely sits inside. I'd gladly float in that queer thing. In fact I'd love to have my fling. Perhaps, when he lands down by us, he'll let us take a ride."

Then Scouty frightened all the crowd, when he jumped up and yelled aloud, "A great big bird is chasing him. Oh my, I surely hope that he tries hard, for all he's worth to make a landing here on earth." But then they saw the tub man stand, and wave a piece of rope.

It was a lasso in his hand, and he knew how to throw it grand. Just as the bird came near the tub, all set to peck and peck, the tub man threw his rope out quick. What happened was a clever trick. The rope, in just a moment, settled on the big bird's neck.

(The Gootygoos springs a surprise in the next story.)

"Tell me what happened in the sun parlor," Faith commanded in what she thought was a very stern voice. They were seated in a big wing chair, Sherry curled in Faith's lap.

"Don't rush me," Sherry begged, with a pouting smile. "I'll got to give you the events leading up to the tragedy, so you'll understand."

"I think I understand, all right," Faith retorted grimly. "You've been playing the fool with Alan Beardsley, and tonight you went too far. Nils caught you kissing his rival and goodness knows what happened. I thought there'd be nothing short of murder, and then after you've gone, out they come, chummy as two members of the same club—smiling! All right. Go on. Tell it in your own way. But you don't deserve a bit of sympathy."

"A lot you know about it!" Sherry interrupted fiercely. "You'd been married to a conceited, lord-and-master sort of brute like Nils Jonson."

"Whom you adore," Faith reminded her.

"That's just the trouble," Sherry conceded dolefully. "I'm mad about him and he knows it, and he's so darned cocky about it that I can't even make him jealous. I know I'm crazier about him than he is about me, and it simply makes me wild! The way he whistles me to him when he feels like nocking me, as if I were a one-man dog that you couldn't drive away from him if you tried."

"I should think," Faith suggested, trying not to laugh, "that you'd be pleased that he trusts you so completely."

"Pooh! Who wants to be trusted?" Sherry snorted contemptuously. "I want him to feel that he's got to work at the job of holding me. I guess I want a little excitement, too. You might as well try to quarrel with a—well, with a redwood tree as with Nils Jonson."

"So you worked up a fine imitation of a push on Alan Beardsley, just to create a little excitement at home," Faith deduced. "Oh, Sherry! What a little fool you are! Didn't it occur to you that poor Mr. Beardsley might be seriously hurt?"

"He's old enough to look after himself, and besides, he shouldn't play around with a married woman if he doesn't want to get hurt," Sherry retorted virtuously. "And I am crazy about him. It's been pretty swell having a handsome, distinguished man like Alan Beardsley turning handsprings for joy if I'd just give him a smile or a kiss now and then. But he was getting to be rather a nuisance, writing me every day while he was gone. So I made up my mind that this evening I'd get rid of Alan and give Nils a glorious jolt, both at the same time. I figured that if Nils got over the idea that he could be so darn sure of me he'd be a much grander lover. Of course I wasn't going to let him hurt poor Alan."

"I can see you flinging yourself between them," Faith laughed. "It was a perfect movie melodrama situation, but I gather it didn't quite come off. What happened?"

"You know, Faith! I'm afraid your sweet disposition is curdling," Sherry informed her coldly. "I thought I'd get help and sympathy, and all you give me is sarcasm. And I really am in the middle of a most awful mess. If you don't want to have me on your hands again, you'd better help me," she added menacingly.

NEXT: A scheme that failed.

Fashion Plaques

THE RUFFLED BACK in straw is one of the new silhouettes featured for spring. The hat sketched is of natural bako with a brown velvet trimming tied in a bow over the back.

Nearly $5,000,000 worth of perfume and toilet preparations were imported into the United States last year.

SWEATERS WITH US LIKE DEATH AND LIKE TAXES

Sweaters we have always with us like death and taxes. That helps to emphasize the vogue of the blouse for the time being. This garment, so extensively used with suits and sport costumes, now usually is worn tucked in instead of outside the skirt. This rather necessities the use of a belt and nobody regrets that who has been the soft wide leather and fabrics girdles developed in Paris and just now reaching this country.

French Vest

NEW SOFTNESS
THE STYLE No. 2779 will immediately appeal to the discriminating woman for its conservative lines, with new softness in all-around gathered skirt. It is unusual with deep French vest rolled in revers with collar, and fastened with single button. It combines printed silk crepe with linen in blending tone, quite the newest idea of Paris. Dull black silk crepe with vest of eggshell crepe silk is distinctly youthful and stendering.

THE PATTERN is illustrated in Picture Lessons. Every step in the making shown by Pictures. You'll find it so simple you'll want to make a second dress with same pattern of flowered chiffon with plain chiffon for formal afternoons. It is offered at cost price 15 cents as a service to readers who sew, and designed in sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust.

NEW FASHION BOOK containing all the Spring styles is 15 cents, but may be obtained for 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

Order Blank for Margot Patterns.
MARGOT, Care Appleton Post-Crescent, Appleton Wis.
Enclosed find 15c. Please send me the patterns listed below.
Pattern No. Size Price

Name .....
Street .....
City .....
State .....

GOLDEN DAYS

By EVANS

For LOTHAR G. GRAEF LUMBER CO.

215 W. College Ave. Art J. Pfankuch, Prop. Always Open

"LET US GO OUT FOR DINNER"

Free Estimates On AWNINGS

We will send our expert to your home or store with samples of very newest materials. He will advise with you and furnish complete estimates. Our prices are reasonable.

APPLETON AWNING SHOP

Phone 3127
708 W. 3rd St.

Women Will Outnumber Men In British Election

London—(AP)—British politicians are absolutely disregarding Cato's advice about not whispering secrets to women in their preparations for the coming general election.

The venerable Roman statesman held that three principal things in life which call for repentance are the folly of revealing a secret to a woman, the folly of journeying by sea to any place accessible by land and the criminal folly of passing a day in idleness.

Women will so far outnumber men voters in this election that the political leaders have been forced to take many of them into their confidence. All three of the big political organizations have organized their women's sections and they are giving more attention to these details than ever before.

Lady Parmoor, wife of the labor party leader in the house of lords, has been especially busy on behalf of her party. She not only has been holding a series of political entertainments at her home in Wilton-Crescent for the benefit of the laborers in the house of commons, but she has been active in helping organize the women's section of the general election campaign for the labor party.

Lady Londonderry has declined many social engagements, for she always is in great demand, on the excuse that she had work to do for her party. She is the outstanding conservative hostess and it is in her home that the prime minister, Stanley Baldwin, has been meeting many of the conservative party lack benches in his effort to wield the party into one solid group before voting day arrives.

Lady Beauchamp, the liberal party hostess, has been active on behalf of her political organization and stands at the head of the women's section, and, since a direct appeal will be made to women voters by all three parties, her share of political work has been very heavy.

The coming general election, which will be late in May or early in June, has disrupted London's social life. Many women are so busy canvassing and doing things political that they have little time to think about parties or things purely social. As a result of this there will be more entertainment than usual in March and April.

The "little season" will be less than usual this year and the debutantes preliminary cauter will be a sort of gallop, and the season proper seems likely to be concentrated into the last half of June and July.

Easter Dinner

at the State Lunch will be a delightful treat for all the family. It's so much easier to eat out — no fussing — no work — and here the food is unsurpassed.

THE NEW STATE LUNCH

215 W. College Ave. Art J. Pfankuch, Prop. Always Open

"LET US GO OUT FOR DINNER"

GOLDEN DAYS

By EVANS

For LOTHAR G. GRAEF LUMBER CO.

215 W. College Ave. Art J. Pfankuch, Prop. Always Open

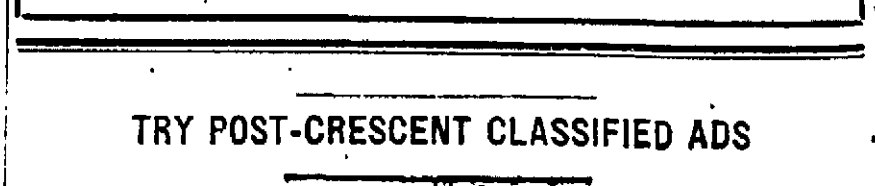

"LET US GO OUT FOR DINNER"

Free Estimates On AWNINGS

We will send our expert to your home or store with samples of very newest materials. He will advise with you and furnish complete estimates. Our prices are reasonable.

APPLETON AWNING SHOP

Phone 3127
708 W. 3rd St.

TRY POST-CRESCENT CLASSIFIED ADS

PARTIES SOCIAL AND CLUB ACTIVITIES MUSIC

Sloan Talks At League's Sun Meeting

The eighth annual Easter sunrise service conducted by the Star League will be held at 6:30 Easter Sunday morning at First Baptist church. W. W. Sloan, director of religious education at First Congregational church, will be the speaker. Mr. Sloan will have for his topic, The Living Christ.

Robert Eads, the president of the Star League, will preside at the service and Miss Rietzel Selig, vice president of the organization, will read the scripture lesson. Kenneth Emmons will sing "Hosanna" by Jules Granier and he will be accompanied by Miss Betty Meyer.

All young people in the city have been invited to attend the service which is sponsored by the league composed of representatives of six church organizations. They are the Baptist, Young Peoples Union, the Epworth League of First Methodist church, and the Christian Endeavor societies of First Congregational church, the Emanuel Evangelical church, the Memorial Presbyterian church and the First Reformed church.

Mr. Greta Garbo

James Curtis, above, plays the part of Gladys Quail, society hostess in "Hi-Jack," current Harlequin production, appearing at the New Brin theatre on April 10.

PARTIES

Mr. and Mrs. George Mavis of this city were guests several days of this week at the home of Mr. Mavis's sister, Mrs. Nicholas Moudakis of Fond du Lac. Mr. and Mrs. Mavis were married Wednesday in this city and stopped in Fond du Lac enroute to Chicago and cities in Iowa. Mrs. Mavis was formerly Miss Elsie Franzke.

STUDY MEANING OF EASTER AT UNION MEETING

The meaning of Easter will be the subject of the meeting of the Baptist Young Peoples Union at 6:30 Sunday evening at First Baptist church. The program as arranged by Miss Lucretia Zimmerman will open with a reading, "The Origin of the Lily," given by Miss Kathryn Arnold.

Miss Gwendolyn Vandawarka will read a poem, "Easter the Sunday of Joy and Harold Eads will present the topic, Easter the Day of Spiritual Joy. Verses on Tears, Sorrow or Sighing will be the subject of Miss Ethel Stallman's talk. The program will be concluded with the discussion of the subject, In Jesus Grave Lies Man's sin, given by the leader.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Plans for the next social gathering and the social meeting of the Zion Lutheran Senior society will be made at the business meeting of the latter organization at 8 o'clock Monday night in the assembly room of the Zion school. Members of the cast which will put on the play, "The Clio-Hooper," late in April, will present a short sketch at the meeting of the Junior society of the church Monday night.

The Christian Endeavor societies of First Reformed church, Memorial Presbyterian church, and Emanuel Evangelical churches will not meet Sunday evening. The societies instead of the evening meetings will unite for the sunrise service at 6:30 Sunday morning at First Baptist church.

The senior department of the Congregational church school will hold a sunrise service at 7:30 Sunday morning at the church. The president, Miss Hilma Boettcher, will preside, and W. W. Sloan, director of religious education, will speak on "The Radiant Christ." Breakfast will be served at the church at 8:30.

There will be a meeting of the Young Peoples society of St. John church at 7:30 Sunday evening at the church. Regular business is scheduled.

The executive board of Senior Olive branch Walther league will meet at Mount Olive church parlors at 7:30 Tuesday evening. Plans for the regular business meeting of the branch to be held the Tuesday evening, April 12 will be discussed.

Sunday school teachers of the Mount Olive Lutheran church will meet at a dinner in the church parlors at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. A business meeting will follow the dinner and student and school problems will be discussed.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Junior Olive branch Walther league will be held in the Mount Olive church parlors at 7:30 Monday evening. Plans for a spring party will be discussed.

STREET PAVING BIDS ARE OPENED BY BOARD

Bids for paving and resurfacing streets in the city next summer were opened Friday noon by the board of public works. No contracts for the work had been let by Saturday, as all of the bids were not yet tabulated.

Four companies offered bids for paving Walter-ave and Newberry-st. They were Simpson Parker Co., F. P. Coughlin Co., J. C. Humphries, and Ford Paving Co. Simpson Parker and Ford Paving Co. were the only bidders on the Wisconsin-ave paving job.

RUSH MATERIAL TO END OF HUDSON BAY LINE

Ottawa, Ont.—Three hundred carloads of material and supplies are pouring in toward Churchill, "end of steel" on the new Hudson Bay line which has been largely constructed over temporary roadbed. Work on the permanent roadbed will now be rushed from both ends, with final completion and opening of the line expected by the end of July.

Graham-Paige Parade — Sun.

LONG SESSION OF LEGISLATURE IS SEEN THIS TIME

Law Makers Are Slow in Acting on Bills, Progress of Measures Slow

Madison—(AP)—When the legislature convenes April 9 after its spring recess, three months of its session, which began Jan. 9, will have passed.

Legislative sessions are generally referred to as six-months affairs, which would mean final adjournment July 9. This session, however, at the three months' mark will not be half way through its business. And the most optimistic do not hope for adjournment by July 9 unless the legislative machinery attains much greater momentum after the recess.

Of the nearly one hundred bills which have appeared in both the Assembly and Senate, few have been disposed of, either by passage or rejection. Even that number is materially reduced because very few bills which have received approval in one house have received final action in the other.

The situation is illustrated by the Goodland budget bill and highway reorganization measure, considered two of the most important bits of legislation which this session will have before it. Both, after more than two months delay, were heartily approved by the upper house, and sent to the Assembly.

The lower house, however, will not be able to consider them until after the recess. Several other outstanding measures are still in committee stage. They include the administration's income tax bill, the gasoline tax increase proposals (which there are now ten), the measure to place an income tax on public utilities, and various conservation measures.

Even the bill calling for investigation of election campaign expenditures, whose passage every faction demands, has not been passed as yet. It has gone through the Senate, but must wait until April 9 for Assembly action. In view of the fact that it requires more than three months to pass a bill which everyone wants, it is difficult to estimate the time needed to dispose of measures on which there is a sharp division of opinion.

Assemblymen and Senators who seek means to shorten the session say such can only be accomplished through a complete change in the practices of the legislators. Business cannot be speedily transacted, they say, unless the legislators devote more time to their work.

Under existing conditions there is only one day a week on which the assembly and senate are fully equipped to do business. That is Wednesday, when the house meets Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, but of the four days, Wednesday is the only one which is likely to draw anything approaching full attendance. For that reason, all important legislation is placed on the mid-week calendar.

The result usually is that most of the two or three-hour session is devoted to one outstanding measure. The remaining bills are put over until the following Wednesday to wait another full attendance, instead of being acted on Thursday or Friday, when little more than a quorum will be present.

Only one cure for this evil exists, according to the legislators who seek more expeditious handling of business. That is for members to put in four days every week attending the sessions of their houses.

Complaints come chiefly from those who live so far from Madison that they cannot return to their homes without spending considerable time and money on the trip. Legislators who live fairly close to the capital have a tendency to devote much of their time to business affairs in their own city, spending only one or two days a week in Madison.

Another result of the tendency for full attendance only on Wednesday is the postponement of many measures because the author of the bill is absent. If a bill is on Thursday's calendar, and the member who introduced the bill is not present, the practice is to delay action until he is there. This results in continued delay from week to week, because, when the author is on hand, it usually happened that some other bill, considered more important than his, takes the body's time on that day. When there is time to consider the bill, the author again is absent, and again the measure is laid over.

Many and long have been the complaints made in the two houses against this practice, and members have repeatedly admonished each other that nothing can be accomplished unless it be abolished. Thus far, however, nothing has been done about the situation.

It is hoped, if the voters approve at next Tuesday's election an increase in compensation for the legislators, they will return to their labors with a new zest. Increased salaries would not benefit members of this session, but if the electorate approves higher pay, it is expected to inspire those already in office.

One result of the referendum Tuesday may add materially to the labors of the legislature, and serve to prolong the length of the session. If the people by their votes approve repeal of the Severson dry law, or its modification to permit manufacture and sale of 2 1/2 per cent. beer, the legislature is in for a bitter struggle on the wet and dry question.

The bills have already been introduced embodying the provisions of the referendum questions, and if the sentiment of the state is shown to be wet, they will be pushed vigorously, and just as vigorously opposed by the dries.

Should the referendum election produce a dry victory, the two bills will undoubtedly be dropped.

Folk Festival Dancers

These three youngsters will take part in the Girl Scout Folk festival in Armory G. April 4 and 5. They are Anna Maurer, Ethel Enrick and Winifred Ek.

Turkey Gets Big Start As Kemal Cracks Whip

Angora, Turkey—(AP)—In the Turkey of Kemal the bells of 1929 echo the annual refrain, "ring out the old, ring in the new," but this year there is a touch of swan song in the tune.

Kemal knows and the bells know that soon there will be nothing old left to ring out of this one-time quaint and antique land which the iron fists of the Ghazi have scourged into such dazzling newness. Next year the bells may chime "ring out the new, ring in the old."

Over Turkey's 1929 there hangs no imminent cloud of political dissolution and there breaks no dawn of political liberty. The political opposition has been thoroughly run out of the "limited-Republic's" one-man party, one-party government. Kemal's only remaining formidable foe is himself. How long his iron constitution can stand the strain of the hard living is an important factor.

Outside the economic field, varied and spectacular, it is rumored, are the coming events of 1929 in Turkey. The Ghazi has more reforms to launch. This year, for sure, he is going to scrap the traditional Moslem Sabbath of Friday and order his Turks to pray and rest, if pray and rest they must, on the occidant's Sunday. This year, too, he is going to Christianize traditional Moslem ritual, scrap prayer rugs and fill the spacious empty mosques with countless skylights of glass, and order the worshippers of Allah to keep their shoes on.

It is averred by many officials here in the capital that this year he is going to put through legislation giving women the vote and the hat. The women are as solidly behind Kemal as the army, and it is reported that the time has come when he would like to see women not only voting, but holding seats in parliament. He has laid magnificent foundations, he has shot off countless rockets of spectacular reforms, but for his creation to become the rock of Gibraltar he dreams, it remains for him to do a lot of solid economic cementing.

"Economic development will be the main concern of the government during the coming year," promises Prime Minister Ismet Pasha. The main points in the program he outlines are an upward revision of the tariff which by terms of the treaty of Lausanne expires in August, 1929; the new tariff to be heavily protectionist in the hope that Turkish industries will miraculously come to birth; the stabilization of the currency; and the creation of a state bank; and a cure for the high cost of living.

Indications that the reformer is tired of waiting for the womenfolk to switch from the veil to the hat of their own accord is given by his recent order to all Turkey's schoolmarmes to turn up at school in hats or not at all. "This executive order presages a blanket law suppressing the veil as peremptorily as was suppressed the fez."

Marriage is scheduled as another number in the 1929 show. Not the Ghazi's own—his intimates declare that he will never marry—but marriage for Turkey at large. To cure the nation's serious states of depopulation, Kemal wishes to see everybody but himself married. A celibate tax is to be levied, runs the rumor, on spinsters as well as bachelors. The total number of women concerned in all of Turkey is not known, but in Constantinople some 50,000 un betrothed maidens and 120,000 widows (widows will also be liable to the tax a year after their

C. C. WILL SEND TWO DELEGATES TO NATIONAL MEETING

W. O. Thiede and New President Named by Chamber Directors

Appleton chamber of commerce will send two delegates to the United States chamber of commerce meeting at Washington, D. C., next month. Directors decided Friday noon at their regular semi-monthly meeting that the delegates will be W. O. Thiede, president of the chamber, who becomes national councillor following his retirement from office next month. The other will be the newly-elected president of the chamber.

Membership and activity fund subscriptions turned in during the last few days have amounted to $325, it was reported. They also heard the financial report of the chamber for the month ending March 31. The month is the last in the chamber's fiscal year and showed the organization has a balance of $106.88 for the period.

The directors will oppose the bill in the state legislature changing the working hours for women because they believe it will prompt employers to hire men instead of women and will work hardships with the latter. They point out that under the present law women work 7 1/2 hours daily and a few hours extra on Saturdays to make a full week's work. Under the new law they could not work longer than 8 hours daily and on Saturdays shifts would be necessary.

The bill to make High Cliff a state park also interested the directors but they will make no statements until they have investigated the matter further.

SLOW TICKET SALE FOR FOLK FESTIVAL

Many Good Seats Left for Program Offered by Girl Scouts

The ticket sale for the folk festival to be given April 4 and 5 is going very slowly, according to directors of the production. Owing to the fact that the seating capacity of the Armory is limited, the managers are anxious that tickets be sold early so that a check up can be made before the first night of the performance.

The Folk Festival is a colorful pageant with dances of many nationalities: English, French, Russian, American, German, Irish, Swedish, Danish and Greek. The dancers will appear in native costume.

Miss Ellen Strickland and Agnes Vanneman Shipman of the Appleton Woman's club are directing the production, and the group dances are being coached by the captains of the various scout troops.

JUDGE IS ASKED TO FIND GEORGE LAHMAN

Judge Fred V. Heinemann has been asked to try to locate George A. Lahman who left Sparta, Wis., on Nov. 28, 1894, for Appleton. The inquiring parties at Sparta have important information which will be of benefit to Mr. Lahman, the judge said. The judge has requested that anyone knowing of Lahman's whereabouts should communicate with him at once.

Mrs. Mabel Ellsworth arrived in Appleton Wednesday from Fond du Lac to spend the Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Cline, 808 E. North-st. Mrs. Ellsworth's granddaughter, Ruth from Beaver Dam, is spending the vacation with her mother and grandparents, and Mrs. Richard Stevens of Plattville also is a guest at the Cline home.

Easter Dinner NO WORRY ABOUT DINNER

Snider's Special Menu

Will Take Care of That. You Can Enjoy the Easter Service With a Mind Entirely Free From Culinary Responsibilities.

DINNER SERVED 11 A. M. to 8 P. M.

MENU

- CHICKEN BROTH WITH HOME-MADE NOODLES
- CHICKEN FRICASSEE WITH HOT BISCUIT
- ROAST LEG OF LAMB—MINT JELLY
- BEEF POT ROAST WITH NOODLES
- ROAST LOIN OF PORK—APPLE SAUCE
- BREADED VEAL CHOPS—GREEN PEAS
- MASHED POTATOES
- CREAMED CAULIFLOWER
- FRUIT AND NUT SALAD
- DATE AND NUT CAKE WITH WHIPPED CREAM
- OR—
- ICE CREAM AND COOKIES
- COFFEE TEA MILK

SNIDER'S

Eggs, Hot Cross Buns, Ham Popular These Days

Pigs are pigs, and eggs are eggs, but on Easter Sunday the lowly egg assumes a new importance and according to Appleton grocers, this Easter Sunday is going to be a great day for eggs. One grocer expects to sell 5,000 eggs Saturday and if that is any indication of the quantities to be sold in other stores, a few Appleton citizens will be able to stage an egg in the face Easter Monday.

The hot cross buns, the ham, the ham and eggs and hot cross buns in Appleton stores that an order for anything else—a can of soup or a pound of cheese—throws the grocer clerk into a panic for a moment—he hardly remembers where anything else is kept.

Lamb, supposedly the traditional Easter meat, is pushed far into the shade by ham, presumably because ham goes with eggs, that essential part of the Easter menu. Chicken and other fowl also are popular meats for Easter Sunday, but ordinary roasts and steaks have gone into the background for the time being. Green stuffs are being bought in great quantities and vegetables and fruits are more popular for salads than shrimp, lobster and other fishes which have been on the menu during Holy Week.

Hot cross buns, the old Easter staple, becoming more and more popular. Parker house rolls, hard and sweet rolls have been relegated for the weekend and bakery shops are devoting all their time to making and selling the Easter specialty. The hot cross bun is a pagan tradition that has come down to present times.

The lighting of Paschal tapers in the churches can be traced to the old tradition of kindling bonfires by the Anglo-Saxons in commemoration of the opening of spring.

NURSE GETS POSITION AT HURLEY HOSPITAL

Miss Marie Verrier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Verrier, 527 N. Center-st., who was graduated early this month from Johns Hopkins, has accepted a position as surgical nursing supervisor at Hurley hospital. Miss Verrier is a graduate of Appleton high school and of the Marquette School of Nursing. After leaving Marquette in February, 1928, she was employed until last fall in Appleton as a private nurse and as a nurse at St. Elizabeth hospital. She left this city last fall in order to take a post-graduate course in surgical nursing at Johns Hopkins.

BUILDING PERMITS

Two building permits were issued Friday by John N. Wieland, building inspector. They were granted to E. A. Fransway for a residence and garage at 1905 N. Appleton-st. cost $5,000; and John Newland for a garage at 500 S. Pierce-ave, cost $150.

Sager Morhuary

A Service In Which Personal Interest Is Permanent

Funeral Service Ambulance Service Phone 4630 FRANK M. SAGER 221 N. Onclia St. Appleton

Fresh at Your Door Step Every Morning Before Breakfast

Nature's Supreme Food for All Try Us — Satisfaction Guaranteed

APPLETON PURE MILK CO.

720 W. WASH. ST. PHONE 824

CALUMET
COUNTY

KAUKAUNA-LITTLE CHUTE-KIMBERLY

NEARBY
TOWNSCITY NURSE WARNS
PEOPLE TO WATCH
FOR SCARLET FEVER

Advises That Physician Be Called Immediately When Disease Is Suspected

Kaukauna—Kaukauna people are warned by Miss Cella A. Flynn, city nurse, to guard against scarlet fever, many cases of which are reported in this county. There also are several cases in the city.

Sore throat is the most characteristic symptom of the disease and the onset is usually sudden. Vomiting, sore throat, headache and fever may be the early symptoms. A rash usually appears within 24 hours upon the neck and upper part of the chest which later extends to the limbs. It appears as a fine bright red rash with evenly diffused spots. Later the skin peels in scales, flakes or in larger pieces.

A doctor should be summoned as soon as these symptoms are noted to prevent the spreading of the disease. The sick child must be excluded from school for at least six weeks and until membranes are normal. All other children of the family may return to school upon removal of quarantine.

The disease is dangerous both during and after the attack and complications are frequent of ears, kidneys, heart and lungs, according to the nurse. A certain percentage of cases of scarlet fever do not have a distinct rash and sometimes it disappears within a few hours. The failure to recognize these obscure cases is largely responsible for the occurrence of many additional cases.

"Help fight communicable disease. Call a doctor immediately and keep the city free from scarlet fever," the nurse said.

Wives in U. S.

The wives of two rebel Mexican generals have taken refuge in El Paso during the revolution in their homeland. They are Signora Marcello Caraveo, above, and Signora J. Gonzalo Escobar, below. General Escobar is chief of a large revolutionary army.

NO DAMAGE FROM FLOOD WATERS IS HAD IN KAUKAUNA

Oak-st and Dodge-st, Lowest Spots in City, Not Touched by Water

Kaukauna—No trouble was experienced in Kaukauna this spring on account of high water in the Fox river. Considerable damage usually results along Oak-st and on Dodge-st from the Kankapet creek.

These places have been improved during the past few years so that the water does no damage now. A new bridge was built over the Kankapet creek in place of the old one which couldn't handle all the water in the swelled creek in the spring. Water washed out the road bed several times and carried many small stones to the ball park near by. The new bridge has a larger span and the water keeps its course without causing any harm. The water in the creek was not as high as usual this year.

The Kaukauna American Legion built a large solid stone wall along Oak-st and ground has been filled in behind it. The water in the rapids which is several feet higher than at any time of the year is harmless now as it flows to the lower Fox. Two sluice gates have been opened in the dam to take care of the high water. They will remain open until the water level is lowered.

Although no trouble was caused by water in the canal there was a weak spot in the wall near the first lock. A new concrete wall has been built there.

KAUKAUNA
CHURCHES

ST. MARY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH
Rev. C. Ripp, pastor
Rev. J. Schaefer, assistant
Low Mass will be celebrated at 5:25, 6:30 and 8 o'clock in the morning. High mass will be celebrated at 8 o'clock in the morning.

HOLY CROSS CATHOLIC CHURCH
Mgr. P. J. Lochman, V. G., Pastor
Rev. F. Melchers, assistant
Low Mass will be celebrated Easter Sunday morning at 5:30 o'clock, 6:45 o'clock and 8 o'clock, with high mass being celebrated at 10 o'clock. There will be no services held in the basement chapel.

1ST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Rev. R. B. Falk, Minister
11 a. m. Morning service. This change in hour was necessitated because of the fact that Rev. Falk and the choir will be in charge of the Easter Sunday service at Seymour at 9 o'clock.

At the morning worship hour, baptism and reception of new members will take place. The church school will render an art interpretation from famous pictures in the Resurrection theme. The pictures to be used are: "The Holy Women at the Tomb," by Ender, and "The Walk to Emmaus," by Girdart. A special anthem will be rendered by the senior choir. Choruses and exercises will be given by the primary department.

BROKAW MEMORIAL METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH
Rev. Roscoe A. Barnes, Minister
Easter Sabbath Day, March 31, 9:30 a. m. Sunday School, Classes for all ages. Grand sessions. Baptismal service at close of Sunday school.

10:30 a. m. program of church service. Opening Voluntary, "Sancta Maria," Faure. Easter Hymn with Hallelujah. No. 156, Chas. Wesley, choir and congregation.

Apostles' Creed recited by everyone. Prayer by the pastor. Anthem by the choir, "The Radiant Morn Hath Passed Away," Thring. Responsive reading for Easter Sunday page 80. Gloria Patri, choir and congregation.

"The Easter Gospel Story," pastor. Solo, "Hail Glorious Morn," Adam Goble. Mrs. Wilbur Knox. Announcements followed by offertory, "Spring Song," organ, Mendelssohn.

Solo "The Ninety and Nine," Mr. Roderick Robinson.

Sermon by the pastor, "The First Easter," Prayer by the pastor. Hymn No. 159, Epiphany.

Reception of new members. Benediction, pastor. Doxology, choir and congregation. Postlude, "Gloria," Mozart.

6:30 p. m. Young Folks devotional service. Epworth Hymns. Leader, Edward Ashe.

7:30 p. m. closing service. Special music and hymn singing opening. Prayer and scripture lesson. Sermon by the pastor, "The New Life That Christ Brought to the World."

TRINITY EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH
Rev. Paul Th. Oehfert, Pastor
Easter Sunday
8:30 A. M. Sunday school.
9:30 A. M. English service.
10:30 A. M. German service.
Easter Monday
10 A. M. German service.

IMMANUEL REFORMED CHURCH
E. L. Worthman, Minister
Easter Day, 6 A. M. Sunrise service. English. Holy communion. Reception of new members. Prof. Alvin Grether will assist. Senior choir will render the anthem.

9 A. M. Sunday school. Program by the beginners and primary departments in the school house. Parents and friends of the children invited.

10 A. M. Easter service. German. Holy communion. Reception of new members. The choir will render an anthem. Prof. A. Grether will deliver the Easter message.

Monday 6 P. M. Sunday school board meeting. Covered dish.

Tuesday, 6:30 P. M. Junior choir. 7 P. M. senior choir.

Thursday, 7:30 P. M. four students from the Mission House will appear

MOTHER NATURE'S CURIO SHOP

FLYING SQUIRRELS DO NOT FLY, BUT MERELY GLIDE FROM THE TOP OF ONE TREE TO THE BOTTOM OF ANOTHER. THIS IS MADE POSSIBLE BY THE TIGHT SKIN REACHING FROM THE FRONT TO THE BACK LEGS. HE CAN GLIDE AS FAR AS FIFTY YARDS.

THE MOTMOT, A BIRD OF THE TROPICS PICKS AT THE BARBS OF ITS TWO CENTRAL TAIL FEATHERS UNTIL THE TIP AND THE REMAINING PART OF THE FEATHER IS SEPARATED BY AN INCH OR SO OF BARE SHAFT.

BEFORE AFTER

17 STUDENTS MAKE SCHOOL HONOR ROLL

Freshman and Sophomore Classes Lead With High Averages

Stockbridge—The Stockbridge Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church will present the pageant, "The Challenge of the Cross," at 8 o'clock Easter Sunday evening, in the social hall.

Mrs. Fred Hostettler and daughter Miss Lucy are visiting at the Robert Burg home in Chicago this week.

Mrs. August Schmidt was called to Eau Claire Thursday due to the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. John Beyer.

Mrs. Ella Pilling is visiting in Oshkosh.

The following students of the Stockbridge High School are eligible to the honor roll for the first six weeks of the second semester: Seniors, Genevieve O'Donnell, Mary O'Donnell, Mabel Schweitzer, Juniors, Leona Heller, Marlea Heller, Lucile Lemauer; sophomores, Ronald Haag, Lauretta Hostettler, Geraldine Olson, Anna Pirock, Caryl Pilling; freshmen: Iola Bovee, Murla Dorn, Frances Keuler, Cecelia Nickel and Anita Schoen.

The local declamatory and oratorical contests of the high school will be held next Monday and Tuesday at 3:15 in the afternoon in the assembly room. The following students will take part: Loretta Cordy, Geraldine Olson and Laverne Zick. The orators are: Alfred Hehauer, Lester Schumacher, Ronald Haag and Harold Pilling.

A public auction was held on the Joseph Schommer farm Tuesday. Cattle, horses and machinery were sold. Mr. Schommer intends to run the Nick Franzen farm this year and Mr. and Mrs. Franzen will move to the village.

Fred Penning traded his sixty acre farm valued at $5000 for the 120 acre farm of Andrew Ludwig.

Farmers are joining the Klotten Union and are signing for bees against this year. The bees will again be hauled to Chilton on the company's trucks and shipped from there.

GEORGE SHERIFF DIES
AT STOCKBRIDGE FRIDAY

Stockbridge—George Sheriff, 70, died suddenly at his home west of the village at 8 o'clock Friday morning after an illness of about three years.

He was born Sept. 2, 1858, on the to debate a question regarding the Christian home life of today. Members and friends are cordially invited.

If the siding on your home or building needs repairing, have it stuccoed. We guarantee all materials used.

Robert L. Studer
Plastering Contractor
733 E. Eldorado St.
Phone 3341

If you want a good heating system have us install a "PREMIER DELUXE"

The Furnace with all the Famous Features
TSCHANK & CHRISTENSEN
Th. Furberg, Men
417 W. College Avenue
Phone 1748 or 4186
We repair all makes of furnaces.

CHILTON TEACHERS ARE HOME DURING VACATION

Special to Post-Crescent

Chilton—Public schools were closed Friday, and many of the teachers are spending the weekend at their homes. G. Raymond Holdridge is visiting friends in Sauk City; Abraham McMahon is at Madison; Miss Mary Puchler is visiting friends in Chicago; Miss Caroline Marken is visiting at her home in Valders; Miss Antoinette Brooks is visiting her parents in Wauwatosa; Mrs. Arnold Grobel is at her home in Randolph; Miss Elsie Traichel is visiting her parents in Whitewater; Miss Irma Oelke is visiting in Dale, and Miss Marion is at New Holstein.

Mrs. Philatus Ortleb and Mrs. Reuben Maples are visiting with friends in Racine.

Mrs. H. F. Arps is visiting at the home of her brother in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Earl Kroehne is in Milwaukee visiting at the home of Mortimer Kaestner.

Miss Marie Schmid, a student at Marquette university, is spending the Easter recess with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmid.

Miss Dorothy Dhein, who is taking the course in physical education at the LaCrosse State Teachers' College is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Dhein.

Aloysius Pfeffer, a senior at Marquette university is spending the vacation with his parents Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Pfeffer.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Reinhold left for Madison Saturday to spend Easter with their daughters Madeline and Dorothy, students of the University of Wisconsin.

Mrs. Herman Paulsen, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Bonk, suffered a paralytic stroke Thursday and is in a critical condition.

PERSONAL NEWS ITEMS OF HILBERT VILLAGE

Hilbert—Mrs. Math Becker visited her son Raymond at St. Elizabeth hospital at Appleton Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Diedrich and daughters Salero and Dorothy, of Stockbridge spent Thursday with the formers mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zimmerman of Elkhart Lake was a business caller here Thursday.

Mrs. Augusta Kasper entertained the card club Wednesday evening. The prize was won by Mrs. Paul Jantz.

Next week Mrs. Jantz will entertain.

LITTLE JOE GO SOUTH FOR THE WINTER
IT'S NORTH

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

PFUND PURCHASES
SHERWOOD FACTORY

Exchange Involves $14,500; Start Operations Monday

Sherwood—The Sherwood cheese factory has been sold to Henry Pfund for $14,500. The new owner will take possession Monday. Carl Euelow of Stevens Point has been employed as cheese maker. J. J. Derfus the former owner will continue to reside here retiring after twenty one years of business.

Jake Hertel and Harvey Jeske leave Tuesday for a business trip to Escanaba, Mich.

Mrs. August Loecker and daughter Beatrice visited at Appleton Wednesday.

Miss Estella Loecker who attends school at Shawano arrived home Wednesday to spend her Easter vacation at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. August Loecker.

GOOD EATING

Lexington, Ky.—A woman charged with stealing a frock here is said to have eaten the evidence, beads, trimmings and all, when arrested.

During the recent cold weather in Germany, briquets were burned to heat homes.

LITTLE CHUTE WOMAN
DIES AT HER HOME

Little Chute—Mrs. Leonard Vander Heyden, 23, died Friday morning after a lingering illness. She is survived by her widower, two daughters, and her mother, Mrs. William Vander Wyst, of this village. Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning at St. John church with the Rev. John J. Sprangers in charge. Burial will take place in the Catholic cemetery.

The weekly match games of the Ladies bowling league were rolled Monday and Tuesday evenings. The Violets took three games from the Tulips and the Pansy team took three games from the Lily team. The Marigolds lost one out of three games to the Astors and the Popples lost three games to the Daisies. High single score of 176 was rolled by Miss Beatrice Versteegen of the Daisy team. The Pansy team scored 741 for high game, 483 for high three game series and 2083 for high total series.

The seventh of a series of open card parties will be given Tuesday evening by the members of St. John parish at the St. John school auditorium. Schaffkopf, rummy, bridge and dice will be played and prizes awarded. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Peter Weyenbush, Mrs. Theodore Lenz, Mrs. Adrian Jansen and Mrs. Frank De Bruin.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Molitor were callers in Denmark, Wednesday.

J. E. Schifftender of Milwaukee transacted business here Thursday.

Mrs. W. A. Gloudeumans and Miss Bernice Gloudeumans were callers in Neenah, Thursday.

H. Davies of Chicago spent Thursday here on business.

Joseph Doyle who is attending St. Norbert college at De Pere is spending the Easter vacation at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Doyle.

Easter Sunday low masses will be held at St. John church at 5:30, 8 and 9:30 o'clock. High mass will be sung at 10:30. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be vespers and benediction.

Stanley Van Susteren and Isidore Lucassen who are attending St. Norbert college at De Pere are home for the Easter vacation.

Mrs. Henry Vander Wettering of Rudolph is visiting for a few days at the home of Mrs. George Verkuilen.

George Wynboom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Wynboom is confined to his home because of illness.

Social Items

Kaukauna—The Sunday school board of the Immanuel Reformed church will hold its monthly meeting in the church assembly Monday evening. The business meeting will be preceded by a 6 o'clock covered dinner.

There will be a Young People's meeting in the Methodist church at 6:30 Sunday evening. Edward Ashe will be the leader.

The Ladies Aid society of the Immanuel Reformed church will hold its monthly meeting at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the church assembly.

A regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held at 8 o'clock Monday evening in the Legion hall. Plans for the annual poppy sale will be discussed.

The Ladies Social Union of the Methodist church will hold a regular meeting Thursday afternoon at Epworth home. Hostesses will be Mesdames James Black, Gustave Boettcher, Henry Adams, Walter Cooper, William F. Ashe and Miss V. Anderson.

There will be a regular meeting of the Kaukauna Woman's club at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. G. Haase on Eighth-st. Roll call will be answered with names of prominent movie stars. Mrs. L. F. Nelson will give a talk on "The Relation of the Movie to the Masterpieces of Literature." Mrs. A. H. Huehne will give a reading on "Can Any Good Come Out of Hollywood?" Vocal solos will be sung by Mrs. John P. McCain, accompanied by Miss Mabel Look on the piano. Hostesses will be Mesdames J. C. Wright, George L. Smith, Herman T. Runte, William Breier, Omar and A. H. Kuehne.

COUNCIL PLANS TO BUY
NEW TRUCK NEXT WEEK

Kaukauna—The Kaukauna common council will meet at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening in the council chambers at the municipal building. A one and one-half ton truck will be bought for the south road district. Bids will be considered for sewers for Jefferson-st, Ninth-ave and on the island. Bills will be allowed and other monthly business will be transacted.

MISSION HOUSE WILL DEBATE AT KAUKAUNA

Kaukauna—Four students of the Mission house college at Plymouth will take part in a debate to be given at 7:30 Thursday evening in the assembly of the Immanuel Reformed church. The subject will be on some phase of Christian Home Life. The local boys, Carl Grimm and Alfred Klumb, will take part in the debate.

SCHEDULE MEETING OF SCHOOL BOARD MONDAY

Kaukauna—The school board will meet at 8 o'clock Monday evening in the high school. Bills will be allowed and regular business conducted.

Graham-Paige Parade—Sun.

The Post-Crescent's representative at Kaukauna is Lloyd Derus. His telephone number is 194-W. Business with The Post-Crescent may be transacted through Mr. Derus.

Sales doubled!
THROUGH GREATER BEAUTY, LARGER BODIES

WHIPPET SIX COACH
7-Seating Crankshaft
$695
Coupe $695; Coupe (with rumble seat) $725; Sedan $760; Sport De Luxe Roadster $850 (including rumble seat and extras).

WHIPPET
FOUR COACH
$535
COUPE $535; SEDAN $595; ROADSTER $485; TOURING $475; COMMERCIAL CHASSIS $365. All Willys-Overland prices f. o. b. Toledo, Ohio, and specifications subject to change without notice.

JANUARY AND FEBRUARY SALES
100% AHEAD OF LAST YEAR
STARTING with its first presentation to America's motorists, the new Superior Whippet has aroused an ever-growing tide of public enthusiasm. In January and February, sales showed a gain of more than 100% over sales for the corresponding months of 1928. This is dramatic proof of the new Superior Whippet's tremendous popular acceptance as the finest value ever offered at a Four or light Six driver.

WILLYS-OVERLAND, INC., TOLEDO, OHIO

NEW SUPERIOR
Whippet
FOURS SIXES

TECHLIN-WASSMAN, Inc. 116 W. Harris-St. Appleton, Wis.
PETERSON GARAGE Dale, Wis.
M. AMUNSON AUTO SALES 129 W. Doty Avenue, Neenah, Wis.
DABAREINER HDWE CO. Hortonville, Wis.
SERVICE GARAGE Bear Creek, Wis.
FREIBURGER'S GARAGE New London, Wis.
GODFREY AUTO CO. Waupaca, Wis.

Repeal Of Law Is Slap At Hoover, Committee Says

"The issue in Wisconsin next Tuesday is not so much one of prohibition as of law or no law," the Committee of Fifteen declares in a statement issued today urging the voters of Outagamie-co to vote no on the proposal to repeal the Severson law.

"State repeal does not make prohibition less legal or less binding," the statement continues. "It is a slap in the face of President Hoover to whom we have given the great task of law enforcement."

The Committee of Fifteen is composed of Appleton ministers, educators, business and professional men organized for the purpose of studying moral conditions in the city and vicinity, and for the purpose of stimulating enforcement of law.

The complete statement follows: "Next Tuesday the citizens of Wisconsin will be asked to vote on two important matters: First, whether they will repeal the State Prohibition Enforcement Act, known as the Severson Act; second, whether they will amend that act, so as to permit the use of beer of not more than 2.75 per cent alcohol."

In the judgment of the Committee of Fifteen, to repeal the Severson Act or amend it as indicated, would cause Wisconsin to be over-run by bootleggers. It therefore advises all citizens who want this to be a dry, clean law abiding community to "vote no" on both these questions.

Those who wanted such a community last November voted for Hoover and gave him 93000 plurality, running 26000 ahead of his state ticket. That vote registered the will of Wisconsin regarding Mr. Hoover's law enforcement platform. What need is there of another referendum, only five months later? "Liberty" one of the wettest magazines in the whole country, said in an editorial: "The candidacy of Gov. Smith furnishes the first and only opportunity the American people have had to voice their opinion of prohibition at the ballot box. His candidacy is a real referendum on Volsteadism."

And the Association against the Prohibition Amendment, said in a circular letter: "National prohibition is the leading issue of the 1928-1929 campaign." Wisconsin's voice was unmistakable in that referendum.

Now what does President Hoover say in his Inaugural of March 4th? "Our whole system of self-government will crumble, either if officials elect what laws they will enforce, or if citizens elect what laws they will support. The worst evil of disregard for some law is that it destroys respect for all law. For our citizens to patronize the violation of a particular law on the ground that they are opposed to it, is destructive of the very basis of all that protection of life, of homes and property which they rightly claim under other laws."

If any citizens want the Eighteenth Amendment of the National Constitution or the Volstead Act repealed or amended there is a lawful and American way to do it. This suggested State Referendum is neither American nor lawful. Nullifying our American Constitution and the statutes that are lawfully passed under it, is not the American way.

President Hoover is now the President of the whole country and not of any one party. He has just declared his purpose to carry out his platform pledges and enforce the Volstead act vigorously.

In addition to this patriotic reason for voting "no" next Tuesday taxpayers might well bear in mind, that repealing this state law will lose for the state nearly a million dollars in fines, which amount would be added to the taxes which citizens will have to pay. Our taxes are heavy enough as it is.

Should we repeal this Severson Law that would repeal every state law now existing for control of the liquor traffic. The "Severson Act" contains the only criminal laws in Wisconsin on this subject. If it is repealed, every mayor in every city, every policeman, every sheriff, every constable and every other state, city, town or village official charged with the enforcement of present State liquor laws, will be without power and helpless so far as State enforcement is concerned.

Do you want that? Would crime be less under that condition? Would cities be more orderly, would the highways be safer, would youth be

REMODEL AND REDECORATE HUDSON COMPANY GARAGE

Most of the remodeling and redecorating of the Appleton Hudson company garage located in the Langstadt and Meyer building on E. Washington-st has been completed. A new show window has been installed, and the show room has been enlarged and redecorated. The large car entrance in the front of the building has been removed, and cars now enter from the rear.

Changes also were made in the offices, which have been redecorated and repaired. The Appleton Hudson company moved into the building several weeks ago, and the Curtis-Motor company which formerly occupied the Langstadt-Meyer building now occupies the old Appleton Hudson company garage on E. Washington-st.

REPAIRS ON APPLETON LOCKS ARE COMPLETED

Repair work on the second and third Appleton locks has been completed and they are now ready for the official opening of navigation at 6 o'clock Monday morning, according to A. F. Everett, government engineer. The coffer dams also have been removed. Old wood platforms of the locks have been removed and replaced by new concrete and stone platforms.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Nench 535 E. South River-st, have returned to their home after ten weeks spent touring the south. Most of the time was spent in Florida.

C. W. Boast of Kapuskasing, Canada, visited friends in Appleton while on a business trip to this vicinity.

The VALLEY AUTO SALES wishes to announce that on Sunday, March 31, there will be a parade of Graham Paige cars starting at 2 P. M. going to Neenah, and back to Kaukauna. Appleton don't miss seeing these beautiful cars. Valley Auto Sales, 224 E. College Ave.

NEW COUNTY AGENT TO START WORK MONDAY

Gustave Sell, Outagamie-co's new appointed agricultural agent, is expected in the city Monday to take over his duties. Mr. Sell comes to this county from Winnebago-co where he held a similar position for a number of years. He fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of R. A. Ahundson who is connected with the state agricultural department.

EASTER CAUSES LITTLE CHANGE IN MAIL VOLUME

While there has been a noticeable increase in the past few days in the amount of special delivery mail received at the Appleton post office there has been but little swelling of the regular mails according to F. F. Wetengel, acting postmaster. The special delivery mail increase is directly attributable to the Easter season. Mr. Wetengel said, but the slight increase in the regular mails is due to the increasing amount of reasonable advertising which is sent out at this season every year. There has been little difference noted in the amount of mail dispatched from Appleton in the few days before Easter. Mr. Wetengel said. He thought that last year there was more mail dispatched than there has been this year.

Graham-Paige Parade — Sun.

4 SHOWS 12:00 2:45 5:30 8:45

MENASHA BRIN'S THEATRE

NEENAH

A GREAT BIG De Luxe Easter Program VODVIL

MINERVINI & IZETTA "Music—Singing—and How!"

Bob Davis The "Georgia Jester"

Anderson Trio An Act That's Different

5 ACTS

EDDIE BLONDEL in THE LOST BOY

LOUIS HART & CO. "Jack the Giant Killer" Up-to-Date

On the Screen — FOOLS OF FASHION — A TIFFANY—Presentation

COMEDY and NEWS

COME EARLY AND AVOID STANDING —

12 to 1 . . . 10c & 25c 1 to 5 . . . 25c & 35c 5 O'clock On 25c & 50c

YOUR LAST CHANCE AMATEURS GET ONE OF THOSE PRIZES!

Everybody Make Whoopee!! TONIGHT

ON THE SCREEN — "HONEYMOON" and Episode No. 2 "Secret Service Sanders" FOLLOW THE CROWD

LADIES! LOOK!!

Every MON. and THURS. Nites

COPY PLAZA CHINAWARE FREE

TO OUR PATRONS each lady present on CHINA NIGHT receives one piece FREE

Send regularly and secure a complete set! SEE THE DISPLAY in OUR LOBBY

Get in at the Start — MON. — APR. 1st

— EASTER GREETINGS — FOX-MIDWESCO THEATRES NEENAH SUNDAY — CONTINUOUS SHOW — 1 O'clock to Midnight

ON THE SCREEN

BIG DOUBLE FEATURE PROGRAM

UNIT NO. 1 — MONTE BLUE in "The Greyhound Limited" Cracking With Suspense to the Last Minute

UNIT NO. 2 — BUSTER KEATON in a Comedy Riot "The College"

DON'T MISS THIS TREAT!

5 ACTS FOX GREATER VAUDEVILLE With PICTURES

Act 1 VAUDEVILLE CLIFFORD & STAFFORD in "Bits of Art"

Act 2 GLADYS DARLING "That Supreme Imitator" Comedy, Singing and Dancing

Act 3 PALIS SEERADERS "A Night in Hawaii" Big Five People Revue

Act 4 BILLY DE WITT "The Miniature Comedian"

Act 5 MACHEDON BROTHERS "America's Foremost Bar Gymnasts"

— EXTRA — Latest FOX NEWS EVENTS

SHOW SCHEDULE 1 — 3:30 — 7 — 9:10

— PRICES — 1 to 5 3 to 12 10c — 35c 25c — 50c

— MONDAY and TUESDAY — ACTION! MYSTERY! SUSPENSE!

"THE CANARY MURDER CASE"

Featuring — LOUISE BROOKS and Special Starring Cast Comedy, "Watch My Smoke" — and — Pathé Review

Are You Proud of Your Lawn?

If your lawn looks shabby this Spring, now is the time to fix it. You can have a fine, solid, velvety green lawn with very little trouble if you start right with good seed. You can't get good permanent results with a cheap, chaffy mixture. Good seed saves time and trouble and pays for itself many times over.

Our Special Mixture Made up specially for our local conditions from finest re-cleaned imported and domestic turfgrasses. Will make you proud of your lawn.

Price 35c Lb. Pkg. at Your Grocer or Feed Dealer

E. Liethen Grain Co.

ELITE

GEORGE ADE'S Latest and Funniest Story

With EDMUND LOWE

LOIS MORAN—LUCIEN LITTLEFIELD

Comedy—News—Spotlight—Review

— COMING MONDAY — NANCY CARROLL in "The Sin Sister"

MAJESTIC

Mat. 10c-15c Eve. 15c-20c — NOW SHOWING —

Last Time Today

RILEY THE COP

SUNDAY ONLY—15c — 20c

HUGHES THOMAS MEIGHAN The CRACKER

Come and Enjoy This Elaborate Spring Opening

MENNING'S ORCHESTRA

Easter Sat. & Sun. Lent ends Saturday noon. Attend the first dance of season Saturday, March 30

RIVERSIDE

Green Bay's Leading Ballroom Located at East End of Main St. Car Line

Wed. — Two Bands Married Folks Milwaukee Nitehawks and Pilsen Brass Band For Young and Old

Adm. — Ladies 10c — Gents 50c No Dancing Friday, April 5

Sat. and Sun. April 6 - 7 Grant Moore and his Ten Black Devils Dance at the best—if costs no more—in fact less!

RAINBOW'S

SPRING OPENING

EASTER

Saturday and Sunday

Make Reservations Now!

DANCING EVERY NIGHT

OLD TIME PARTY

Easter Monday—April 1st, 1929

Feature PAUL GOSZ—Old Time Band

No Admission or Cover Charge

DANCING Every Evening TERRACE GARDENS

FORMAL OPENING SEASON 1929 SAT. MARCH 30

DANCING and ENTERTAINMENT Every Evening

MUSIC BY JOIE LICHTERS Orchestra

Formerly of the Strand Theatre, Milwaukee

SPECIAL

— Return Engagement — of the Terrace Garden Sweethearts — Also —

Miss Babe Smallwood of San Antonio, Texas Miss Peggy Ritchie in Songs, as You Like Them in Tab and Acrobatic Dancing

CHICKEN DINNERS and SANDWICHES as Only Terrace Makes Them

WHY NOT SPEND YOUR EASTER HOLIDAYS "WHERE THERE IS A DIFFERENCE"

PHONE 1945

There's a Difference

Eddie Kotal Issues Call For First Baseball Meeting

FUTURE GREATS ARE ASKED TO MEET AT Y. M. C. A. TUESDAY

Packer Grid Star Completes Arrangements for Handling Local Franchise

HERE'S good news for the youthful Ty Cobbs, Babe Ruth, Mickey Cochrane and others who want to play baseball this summer—the first meeting of candidates for positions on the Appleton entry of the Fox River Valley league will meet at 7:30 Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A., according to Eddie Kotal who will manage the local outfit this summer.

Kotal finally completed arrangements relative to obtaining the Appleton franchise this year and getting his release from Kimberly-Lit-Chute, and with the warm breezes blowing and the opening of the season but a month off has decided to issue his first call.

Indications so far are there will be a flock of positions open to potential greats this summer. Several of the so-called old timers have decided to abandon the sport while others have decided that the pastures look greener in the other side of the fence and have gone to try out with western clubs.

As things look now, Kotal has but one player for his team, and that's Eddie Kotal, shortstop. The other positions all are as wide open as the open spaces and the fellow who can fill the bill will get first call. Among the fellows around town who have signified intention of turning out for Tuesday's meeting or at least trying for positions on the team when practice gets under way are "Cave" Radke, first baseman, Sonny Tarnow, second, "Lefty" Ritten, pitcher and Hillman, outfielder.

A half dozen potential greats have indicated to the new manager they'd like to try for places on the team and indications are that as soon as the baseball bug gets around to everyone, there'll be a whole flock of men for preliminary training.

TEXAN TIES RECORD FOR 100-YD DASH

Sammy Behr Hangs Up New Shot Put Mark With 48 Foot Toss

Austin, Tex.—Claude Bracy of Rice institute, Houston, repeated his dazzling performance of last year by equaling the world's record of 48 seconds for the 100-yard dash at the Texas relays here Friday.

The Texas youth, a member of last year's Olympic team, led Simpson of Ohio State and Leland of Texas Christian university to the top. He won his heat in 9.6 seconds and appeared fresh as he outdistanced the field in the finals. Last year he was clocked several times in 9.5 seconds.

New meet records were hung up in the weight events, Sammy Behr of Wisconsin heaving the shot 48 feet 5 inches, while Baldwin of Texas hurled the discus for a new mark of 144 feet 10 inches.

Note Dime entrants did not appear. Knute Rockne referee of the relays, explaining that the faculty authorities at South Bend had decided the athletes had been traveling too much.

The four mile relay quartet of the University of Illinois bettered the world's intercollegiate record in traveling the distance in 17 minutes 42.2 seconds. The old mark set in 1922 by an Illinois team was 17.45.

ARCADES ROLL 1,017 GAME TO COP MATCH

Arcade bowlers won a late season match game from the Hoppies Winters Thursday night at the Elk club alleys, 2,723 to 2,689. The winners of the match lost two of the three games, coming through with a big game of 1,017 to take the match. Scores follow:

Hoppies Winters
Frank Fries	176	156	157	489
Tornow	138	178	205	511
Weissgerber	200	162	170	532
Frank Felt	183	207	162	552
Strutz	178	211	170	559
Totals	901	911	864	2659

Aracades
Fred Yelg	155	157	182	494
Koerner	179	179	214	572
Fries	180	167	197	544
Moll	153	190	191	534
Strutz	158	178	233	569
Totals	825	871	1017	2723

KIMBERLY CLUB CAGERS MEET GREEN BAY FIVE

Kimberly Club basketball team which last week won the state amateur title in a tournament played at Green Bay, will meet the Bay Y. M. C. A. team Saturday evening in a benefit game. The fracas is being played to raise funds to send the Green Bay team to the national Y. M. C. A. tournament at Oak Park, Ill., next week. The Bay team was expected to cop the amateur tournament last week and just for spite plans to take revenge on the winners.

BOSTON BRUINS WIN STANLEY HOCKEY CUP

New York—(AP)—The Boston Bruins are hockey champions of the world in five games including two playoff games they have captured the Stanley cup. They took three straight games from the Los Angeles team, then trounced the New York Rangers twice on successive nights. The score of the final game last night was 2 to 1.

Must Show Class If Cubs Are to Win Flag

If Pat Malone, Art Nehf and Hal Carlson turn in a goodly number of mound victories, and Rogers Hornsby provides the batting punch he is expected to add, the Chicago Cubs will be hard to beat this summer.

These photographs of the Cubs in training on Catalina Island, Calif., show Nehf and Malone going through their pitching paces and insets of Carlson and Hornsby. Nehf is No. 1, Malone No. 2, Carlson No. 3 and Hornsby No. 4. Judging from the exhibition games played by the Cubs already, it looks like the pitchers are ready for a big season. And the Hornsby fellow always could hit!

Strength Of Yankee's Infield Still A Problem

BY JOHN B. FOSTER Copyright 1929 PETERSBURG, FLA.—Those who are very confident that the infield of the New York Yankees is to their liking this year say it is better than the infield of 1928.

Lou Gehrig plays first, and Tony Lazzeri plays second. There are two of the best fixtures in the United States. Lazzeri thinks his arm is all right and the fans hope that it is, because he is one of the best ball players who have been sent by California to entertain the eastern public.

Lyn Lary is playing shortstop some of the time and Leo Durocher is playing it some of the time. Durocher is the most acrobatic infielder in the American league, but he has by no means learned all of the game of baseball and has not arrived at that stage where he can be called "old, foxy and cagey." He falls into kid ways now and then. As an infielder he is a delight to the eye. If he could hit as well as he can field he would be the shortest of the Yankees in 1929 and Lary would take a year off, waiting on the bench.

Lary is the infielder from California who was purchased in 1927 along with Reese, second baseman of Oakland. Both of them were permitted to remain with Oakland in 1928. That may have been good policy and it may not have been. In any event, in California they say Lary "costed" in 1928—whatever that may be.

MARQUETTE YOUTHS ON ALL-STAR TEAM

Mythical Hockey Team Picked by M. U. Coach; Krueger on Second Team

Milwaukee—(AP)—Three University of Minnesota hockey stars won places on the all-western team picked by Coach Key Iverson of Marquette university this week.

The Gophers were the stumbling block in the path of Marquette's brilliant sextet during the past season. They took three out of four fast games from the Milwaukee school.

Mackenzie and McFadden, right wing and center respectively on the Marquette squad, also won places on the first team. They bore the brunt of the Hilltoppers' attack for the past two years and rate well with the college hockey stars of the nation.

During the season just closed, Marquette won nine games and lost five, scoring 84 points to their opponents' 20.

Iverson's selections for first and second teams are:

FIRST TEAM	SECOND TEAM
Billings, Minn., G. Graves, Mich.	Byrant, Mich., R. D. Wagon, Minn.
Peterson, Minn., L. D. Watson, Minn.	Mackenzie, Mar. B. N. Brown, Minn.
Conway, Minn., L. W. Krueger, Wia.	McFadden, Mar. C. McCabe, Minn.

Exhibition Games

SATURDAY'S SCHEDULE
Fort Worth—New York (NL) vs. Chicago (AL).
Tampa—St. Louis (NL) vs. Washington (AL).
West Palm Beach—Brooklyn (NL) vs. St. Louis (AL).
Miami—Philadelphia (AL) vs. Boston (NL).
Jacksonville—New York (AL) vs. Jacksonville.

New Orleans—Cleveland (AL) vs. New Orleans (NL).
Houston—Detroit (AL) vs. Houston (NL).
Augustine—Cincinnati (NL) vs. Newark (AL).
San Antonio—Pittsburgh (NL) vs. San Antonio (NL).
Plant City—Philadelphia (NL) vs. Rochester (IL).
Beaumont—Chicago (NL) vs. Beaumont (IL).

Sports Question Box

Question—What was the result of the Tom Heeney-Jack Sharkey fight?
Answer—Twelve rounds, draw contest.

Question—Batter hit a grounder to short stop. The latter threw it to first base. The runner and the ball arrived at first at the same time but the first baseman juggled the ball. Was the runner out?
Answer—He was not. The rule says very plainly that the first baseman must hold the ball securely.

Question—When the members of the Chicago White Sox were declared ineligible in 1921, was Gandil included among the list?
Answer—He was.

Question—Runner on first advances on a hit and run play. The batter falls goes to the pitcher. He defects it toward the second baseman and the ball hits the runner. It bounds from him into right field. Second baseman could have fielded the ball had it not hit the runner. Umpire rules the runner not out and the ball in play.

Answer—The umpire was right. After the ball has been touched by a fielder the runner, if hit by the ball, never is called out unless it is a case of deliberate interference.

Question—Who is the amateur featherweight boxer of the world?
Answer—Van Laveen of Holland.

Question—Should a man after helping to lineup a team be allowed to umpire the game? If he is should the game be called legal?
Answer—I can see no objection if the captain of the other team agrees to it.

PROTESTS THAT RIOT UNNERVED JACK THOMPSON

But Fields Has Two Victories Over Negro and Talk Don't Take

BY JOHN J. ROMANO Copyright 1929 CHICAGO—Ray Alvis, manager of Young Jack Thompson, is making a belated effort to challenge the right of Jackie Fields to wear the diamond studded belt, emblematic of the welterweight championship of the world.

Alvis makes the rather weak claim that the riot of fans in the eighth found of their battle here, unnerved the Negro and nullified his chance to score enough points in the closing rounds to offset the lead of Jackie in the earlier stages.

The point doesn't appear well taken. Had Alvis been insistent on the rules he could have taken advantage of the one prohibiting any but the principals and referee from being in the ring when the bell rings starting a round. After the ring was cleared the boys fought the remaining minutes of that round and went on for the ninth and tenth without any objection raised.

Paul French, chairman of the local boxing board and president of the National Boxing association has refused to listen to Ray's complaint. Last summer Fields whipped Thompson to the satisfaction of all and in giving Thompson another chance, Gig Rooney, manager of Fields, gave Alvis a break.

As to Joe Dundee's chances of fighting Jackie Fields for the disputed honors, Rooney says he has tried every means to get Dundee into a ring without success so far. Joe can have a match with Fields but will have to split the purse, with the champions' share, thirty-seven and one half per cent, not his end. He will have to take his chances with twenty-five per cent.

Rooney and Fields have tied up with Paddy Harmon of this city. An offer has been sent to Jimmy McLarnin and as the latter refused $20,000 to fight, Fields in Detroit it looks as if Pop Foster will not sign for McLarnin.

Jackie is in a position to make his claim to the title good and will sit around until a logical contender disputes his claims.

PLAY BILLIARD FINALS TONIGHT

Los Angeles and Milwaukee Men Slated for Title Battle

Milwaukee—(AP)—Although each is slated to play a match Saturday afternoon, Charles Jordan, Los Angeles, and Max Shimon, Milwaukee, are expected to vie for the 1929 crown in the national amateur three-cushion billiard tournament here Saturday night.

Both Jordan and Shimon were left in the undefeated class at the close of a six-game schedule Friday. Perry Dickens, another Milwaukeean, has an opportunity to upset the dope somewhat if the leaders are disturbed during the day.

The 22-year-old defending champion, J. N. Bozeman, of Vallejo, Calif., made two appearances in play Friday. He eleven games and broken down in 53 innings 10 to 48.

Saturday's schedule: Harper-Rust; Jordan-Dickens; Bozeman-Shimon; Westhus-Dickens; Shimon-Jordan.

THE STANDINGS

Jordan	5	0	1,000
Shimon	5	0	1,000
Dickens	4	1	800
Bozeman	3	3	500
Westhus	3	3	500
Harper	1	5	167
Rust	1	5	167
Vogler	1	5	143

WANTS NEW RECORD

Max Bishop, lead-off man for the Philadelphia Athletics, has this ambition—he wants to rate as the greatest lead-off man in baseball, especially in getting free trips to first base.

TRAINING CAMP GOSSIP

Winterhaven, Fla.—(AP)—The Phillies have finished with major league opponents in the south and soon will begin the trek north.

Players, shaven heads and broken even, having tied the last. "We will win a lot of close games this year," Shotton predicts.

Fort Worth—(AP)—Bearing a scar of battle himself, John J. McGraw led the undefeated Giants into this city Saturday to resume his series against the Chicago White Sox, already twice defeated by the New York team. The Giant manager was nursing a bruise inflicted by an eccentrically thrown ball which struck him in the head just before the game Friday as he sat on the bench.

Jacksonville, Fla.—(AP)—Ready to begin their sortie through various minor league teams of the southland, the world champion Yankees arrived here Saturday from their base at St. Petersburg, where camp was broken Friday. Miller Huggins said that Leo Durocher, New England freeman, had won shortstop honors over Lyn Lary, the expensive addition to the Yankees from Oakland of the Pacific coast league.

Fort Myers, Fla.—(AP)—Connie Mack, veteran boss of the Athletics, is homebound here. Two of his regulars, Lefty Grove, pitcher, and Jack Reilly, shortstop, are accompanying him to Philadelphia where they will undergo medical treatment. Captain Eddie Collins will have charge of

Badger Crews Optimistic As Murphy Takes Hold

"Oh, sing a song of college days, Wisconsin where they row."

Madison—(AP)—The sharp staccato of the coxswain's count, the easy rolling of the shell seats and the swish of oars through Lake Mendota's water played a spring tune at Madison for the first time this year Thursday as the Badger crews went through their opening outdoor workout.

George (Mike) Murphy, Wisconsin's new crew coach, saw his candidates swing through their paces on water for the first time since he arrived here in mid-winter. Previous, The Badger hopefuls had moved the rowing machines in the loft of the gymnasium annex, an imaginative rowing exercise.

Still too early to reveal anything, Murphy has remained non-committal, saying "We'll take back seats to no one, but we will go no further."

The leader stroke, somewhat different than the oarshmanship the late "Dad" Vail taught, has found enthusiasts among the varsity candidates.

INCREASE STROKE

One of the men, who rowed with the freshmen at Poughkeepsie in 1926 and has been a member of the varsity crew expressed desirability of the stroke by saying: "The old rowing machines have hit 44 strokes a minute under the leader stroke, while before we seldom went above 30."

With the crew on water, Wisconsin oarsmen have swung into their intensive campaign weeks later than schools in milder climates.

The varsity is to have a new shell made by Pocock, the famous Seattle, builder. Besides, Murphy, who is the youngest head coach in the country, hope to start a training table to condition his men. The plan will probably be oked since the anti-training table Big Ten knows no crew other than the Badgers.

The squad personnel still is nebulous, for Murphy admits he will not know his men's abilities until they have had open water practices. Later the squad of more than 60 will probably be reduced to nearer 30 for intensive training.

Under present plans, the varsity eight is certain to row in the Hudson course June 24, after a race on Lake Mendota here June 15 with the Washington Huskies. The two crews will move East together. There is the prevailing opinion here that if the junior varsity or the freshmen eight proves to be a strong group, they also may make the journey to Poughkeepsie.

Tommy Has Crown But Is Out Cash

CHICAGO—If there is such an ailment as a financial headache, Tommy Loughran, debonair Philadelphia undoubtedly had one Saturday.

The world's light heavyweight champion got what the boys call the Mexican standoff in his battle with Mickey Walker, ruler of the middleweights, in Paddy Harmon's new Chicago stadium Thursday night. He saved his life and prized title, but lost most of his money.

When the Illinois state athletic commission checked over the gate receipts tonight, it was revealed Loughran received only $15,239 as his share of the receipts, with $50,000 going to Walker, who lost the fight.

Loughran guaranteed Walker $50,000 for a losing fight and $10,000 if he, Walker, had won. On top of that, Loughran contributed $12,750 toward defraying the expenses of the round semi-windup in which Jerry Triffy, Griffith battled out a decision over Leo Lomski, the Aberdeen, Wash., assassin.

Loughran had agreed to take 55 per cent of the net receipts, which amounted to $141,830. This left him with $78,029, which he was forced to cut, under the terms of his contract, with Walker and help meet the expenses of the Lomski-Griffith affair. Walker did not receive a cent from the Chicago Stadium corporation, as Loughran had agreed to pay the challenger out of his 55 per cent.

This peculiar contract was a gamble by Loughran. If the show had been a go-out, with the capacity attendance, as Loughran had figured, the rate would have approximated $300,000. Figuring on this basis, his share, after paying off Walker and the other expenses, would have left him with approximately $102,500.

The fight, opening the new stadium, was a disappointment in attendance as well as performance. The paid attendance amounted to 14,554 with probably 2,000 or so complacent. The gross receipts, before the slice for government and state tax was taken out, amounted to $136,000.

Loughran found a bit of cheer in the fact, however, that he got a bonus of $25,000 from Promoter Harmon for placing his services under the direction of the Chicago Stadium corporation. This sum, together with the $15,239 he saved out of the 55 per cent gave him $40,239.

Loughran got the $25,000 several weeks ago, with the understanding the bonus ties him up for several more fights for the corporation.

THROUGH WITH STAGE

Shanty Hogan says his vaudeville engagement this winter will do him for life. "You eat too much and sleep too little," he gives as his reason.

EVANGELIST PLAYED BALL

Billy Sunday, the evangelist, played with the Chicago White Sox for four years, from 1884 to 1887, inclusive.

ADVERTISING NOT WANTED

There were some places in Miami Beach where you could flirt with the little gold chance if you had the inclination—and the dough. There wasn't anything exactly private in the operation of the chance palaces, but the operation didn't yearn for any undue publicity.

Several of the writers played up the gambling side of the enjoyable life at the resort and the club owners began to be concerned. They were afraid that too much publicity in the north might attract some attention—and action—in Washington.

Four or five days before the fight a write blew into town who has been known in the past to tear the curtains away from stories that were not exactly in his line of duty. The club owners were leary of him and they prepared for a reception when the reporter cashed a big check and asked the door man at the hotel where the nearest wheel was.

When he arrived at the gambling club the sign was given and the word was passed around. It wouldn't do for him to be taken for his roll. The word had gone around that he was willing to be taken for a big pile so he could write a story about the suckers and crooked wheels.

HE QUIT TOO SOON

The reporter went to work at one of the tables and won steadily. He wasn't playing high stakes and when his earnings reached $260 he gathered them in and left with a big smile.

"That's a nice evening's work," he said, "and I will pay the wife's expenses down here."

"We got off easy with that fellow," one of the club attendants said. "He took his $260 winnings

FOOTBALL RULE MAKERS TO SEE HARVARD GAME

Want to See How Regulations Made During Winter Will Work

BY LAWRENCE PERRY Copyright 1929 NEW YORK—That football game which will be played by two Harvard elevens at Cambridge next Tuesday before a select crowd of officials, rules committeemen and coaches is designed to demonstrate practically how the changes in the rules are going to work out. So far as is known, no newspaper critics have been invited and indeed if the policy observed by the rules committee in formulating the changes in a secluded spot on the Jersey coast is carried out, the press will not be present.

No matter how the test works out now nothing can be done about it. The changes will stand. Even so, the demonstration will be of some value either in settling the minds of the rule makers as to the soundness of the changes or giving them a hint that further changes will have to be superimposed upon changes already made.

Just how the game looks when a fumble occurs and the lucky retriever of the ball is not permitted to scamper at large, the practical working of the additional restrictions upon the screen forward pass and other new elements will come under consideration at Cambridge.

One interesting thing; that might be done would be to have one half played with cross bar of the goal posts—the posts, of course, being back of the line—over the goal line and the other half with the cross bar ten yards back. The comparative number of field goals attempted in each half as well as the comparative number of successful attempts can be tabulated.

This being done, the writer predicts that the rules committee and others interested in the game would be in possession of information of very real value. But of course this will not be done. The purpose of the occasion will be to permit the powers that be to contemplate amid the classic shades of Cambridge, the materialization of all the constructive thought they have bestowed upon the great autumn game since the last pliskin of 1923 was pursued over the embattled turf.

FONDY TO SPONSOR NETBALL TOURNAMENT

Eighteen Teams Entered in District Event to Be Held April 23

The district volleyball tournament will be held at Fond du Lac, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Saturday, April 23, according to A. P. Jensen, physical director of the local Y. M. C. A. Eighteen teams have been entered and have been divided into two groups. The "A" group includes those teams in the running for high honors in the Fox River Valley Volleyball tournament which was won by the local aggregation Wednesday evening, according to Mr. Jensen.

Teams included on the "A" group are: Appleton Y. M. C. A., Green Bay Y. M. C. A., Kimberly Clark company, Oshkosh Elks club, Wausau Y. M. C. A., Mission House netballers, Shevagan. The "B" group includes Neenah, Kaukauna, first squad, Kaukauna second squad, Columbus club of Green Bay, Plymouth, Wausau second team, Appleton second team, Fondy second team, Manawa and Oshkosh City netballers.

Two cups are to be awarded to the winning team of each group, according to Mr. Jensen. Officials are to be selected by the tournament committee next week.

NASHVILLE GETS PARTRIDGE

Jay Partridge, made a free agent by Judge Landis, will play with Nashville this summer.

and took a nice story about it. He didn't know that he could have won $2,600 if he had stuck at it. We couldn't let that fellow lose."

YOUR FAVORITE DISH

You will find it here, cooked to suit your taste.

SPECIAL SUNDAY DINNER TOMORROW

VIRGINIA BAKED HAM . 65c
BREADED VEAL CUTLETS 50c
Regular Daily Dinners . . . 40c

$5 Meal Tickets for $4.50
Come in and Bring Your Friends

GIL MYSE Restaurant

WENNEMAN & KRANHOLD Props.
123 W. College Ave.

BOWLING

ELKS LEAGUE

Elks Alleys

ST. PAUL	Won 1 Lost 2
R. Currie	202 169 200 571
K. Conrad	173 145 163 481
Strassburger	173 168 169 509
McKinzie	127 152 133 412
Dr. Adie	179 100 114 393
Handicap	68 63 65 204

Totals .....	935	802	838	2575
LOUISEVILLE		Won 2	Lost 1
Shafer .....	172	213	166	551
Garvey .....	135	167	144	446
Dr. Schnuab ...	183	154	163	502
Verstegen .....	164	194	194	552
Schommer .....	161	152	174	487
Handicap .....	42	42	42	126

Totals .....	829	922	883	2664
MILWAUKEE .....		Won 3	Lost 0
Brinkman .....	164	179	189	532
Bushy .....	131	161	169	452
Hill .....	156	177	188	521
Maman .....	178	183	225	586
Louenschlager .....	200	209	214	613
Handicap .....	27	27	27	$1

Totals .....	856	926	1003	2785
CHICAGO		Won 0	Lost 3
Getschow .....	154	173	174	501
G. Marston .....	142	158	149	449
De Bauser .....	147	147	147	441
G. Schmidt .....	148	157	140	445
T. Heineman ..	177	161	265	603
Handicap .....	76	76	76	228

Totals .....	844	872	951	2667
ST. LOUIS		Won	2	Lost 1
Dr. Okeefe .....	172	167	231	570
T. Woelz .....	147	157	209	513
J. Keller .....	167	189	177	517
H. Marx .....	163	163	163	489
Handicap .....	49	49	49	147

Totals .....	819	898	948
DENVER .....	Won 1 Lost 2
De Laine .....	182	194	176 552
Schimek .....	177	184	162 473
Clark .....	150	183	168 501
Wheeler .....	153	163	175 491
Larso Ballet ...	212	169	213 594
Handicap .....	42	42	42 126

Totals	916	885	936	2737
CLEVELAND		Won 3	Lost 0
Kunitz	183	191	175	549
Molan	171	164	208	541
W. Schultz	185	160	165	510
I. Schultz	153	213	183	549
Weber	170	199	193	562
Totals	862	927	927	2726

MINNEAPOLIS		Won 0 Lost 3
I. Marston .....	110	112	132 354
I. Stevens .....	126	190	152 468
Dickenson .....	134	121	134 402
E. Killoran .....	160	118	136 414
R. Peterson ...	145	229	164 538
Handicap .....	79	79	79 237
Totals .....		754	862 797 2413
NEW YORK

NEW YORK		Won 0 Lost 3
Neilson .....	126	126	126	378
Henderson .....	131	131	131	393
Kahn .....	135	135	135	405
Schell .....	117	117	117	351
Gresenz .....	166	166	166	498
Handicap .....	70	170	170	510
Totals .....		845	845	2535
BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE		Won 1 Lost 2
C. Green .....	163	165	201 530
Hammond .....	145	145	145 435
S. Balliet .....	184	213	147 544
Steinberg .....	169	134	203 506
Graef .....	165	168	168 504
Handicap .....	78	78	78 234
Totals .....		907	904 942 2753
PHILADELPHIA		Won 1 Lost 2

PHILADELPHIA		WON 1 LOST 2
Smith .....	158	179	150	496
Evans .....	133	146	189	468
Alexandroth .....	191	163	159	513
Kamha .....	166	154	189	509
Reimer .....	186	173	203	567
Handicap .....	36	36	36	108
Totals .....		870	856	935 2661
NEWARK		Won 2 Lost 1

Stark .....	154	154	154	462
Geisen .....	96	112	87	295
Kroeger .....	152	178	124	454
Buckart .....	152	160	159	471
Doyce .....	166	166	166	498
Handicap .....	1613	161	161	483
<hr/>
Totals	88	931	851	2665
PROVIDENCE		Won 3	Lost 0

Johnston	199	219	169	587
Grearson	168	151	211	530
Currie	211	228	225	664
J Balliet	189	249	183	621
Jacobson	152	172	192	516
<hr/>
Totals	919	101	980	2918
<hr/>
BROOKLYN
		Won	0	Lost 3
Van Ryzin	135	145	144	424

Hickel .....	181	133	158	472
Tamal .....	163	150	172	485
Jones .....	147	160	202	509
Owens .....	143	143	143	429
Handicap .....	147	147	147	441
<hr/>
Totals .....	916	878	966	2760
BUFFALO		Won	1	Lost 2
V. Frier .....	207	177	189	573

Koletske .....	201	176	1*1	538
Long .....	153	189	175	517
Gritzmaker .....	196	157	206	561
W. Trier .....	166	142	167	475
<hr/>
Handicap .....	18	18	18	54
<hr/>
PITTSBURG		Won 2 Lost 1
Bauer .....	140	171	168	479
Berge .....	166	175	169	510

Geelen .....	178	164	202	544
Neller .....	117	206	192	515
Ward .....	156	149	177	482
Handicap .....	30	30	30	90
<hr/>
Totals .....	817	895	940	2651
PITTSBURG		Won 2	Lost 1
A. Hoffman .....	161	176	196	536
Gresenz .....	189	170	143	493

Powers .....	122	148	162	432
Doon .....	122	103	126	351
Kranhold .....	119	121	181	421
Handicap .....	94	94	94	282
<hr/>
Totals .....	801	812	902	2515
BOSTON		Won 2	Lost 1
Wagner .....	133	133	133	399
Fischer .....	138	139	142	419

Hornbeck .....	114	131	105	350
Sell .....	133	108	140	381
Jackson .....	124	149	113	386
Handicap .....	181	181	181	543
<hr/>
Totals .....	$23	$41	$14	2478
<hr/>
WATERTOWN BOWLER
WAGNER: 2-0-11-

WATERTOWN BOWLER

TOPS A. B. C. ALL-EVENTS

Chicago—(P)—Fred Maerzke, of Watertown, continued his display of expert bowling form Friday to win first place in the all events division of the American Bowling Congress tournament. He rolled 703 in the five-man event, 611 in the doubles and 625 in the singles to total 1,939.

P. Hafeman, of Milwaukee, totalled 1,911 to take fourth place in the same event.

Standings in the singles and five-man divisions were unchanged.

TEAMS ARRIVE FOR NATIONAL CAGE MEET

Chicago—(P)—The Vanguard of America's best high school basketball teams arrived Saturday night, seeking honors in the university of Chicago's eleventh annual national tournament. Forty teams from 33 states will compete for the championship. Pairings will be announced Saturday night and play started Tuesday morning.

HARMON KNOWS HIS PROMOTION GAME, LAST FIGHT SHOWS

Card Gave Crowd Champion Who Almost Had to Pay for Opportunity

BY OWEN L. SCOTT
Copyright 1929 by the Consolidated Press Association

Chicago—The shades of Tex Rickard today must be green with envy at the latest display of the promotional art, as put on by Chicago's new fight engineer, Paddy Harmon.

This supposed novice in the devious ways of the fight game, gave the crowds a canion and almost made that champion pay for his chance to work. It was a development considered strange to behold by multitudes of lights.

Tommy Loughran, light heavyweight champion of the world, is the battler who finds himself today nursing a title, but with very little new cash. Mickey Walker, his opponent, has defied to his discredit, but is so loaded with $50,000 paid him by his opponent.

The champion got tangled up in an unusual contractual document. He agreed to take fifty five per cent of the gate receipts for his share in defending the title. At the same time he agreed to pay his opponent $50,000 if the opponent lost, and $10,000 if he won. Also he agreed to pay one half of a $26,000 purse to cover the cost of a preliminary fight between Tuffy Griffith and Leo Lomski.

When the evening was over the following result appeared:

Total gate receipts were approximately $175,000.

The United States promptly joined the state to step in and take $52,000 for taxes. This left $123,000, of which Loughran got fifty-five per cent, or $67,650. But $50,000 of the $67,650 had to go to Mickey Walker, leaving $17,650. Then $13,000 came out to pay for the Griffith-Lomski purse.

Tommy Loughran had $4,000 for his trouble. Training expenses are estimated to have been heavy enough to have eaten up a good part of the $4,000. So the champion may actually have paid for the opportunity to fight. There is no evidence that Tex Rickard ever devised a document that caused a title-holder to lose money on a battle.

The Loughran party thinks that it will come out ahead because of a $25,000 bonus paid at the time the contract was signed. But others believe that this is to come out of the share that goes to the champion.

At any rate the contract had such an appearance, that had Walker won there were due to be claims that the bout was not on the up and up. Defeat would have left Loughran $40,000 to the good. And Walker would have had a title that would be worth real money in the hands of Jack Kearns, his manager.

As it is, Loughran has his title, but he may be in the market for some new matches before long—to make up the cost of the Chicago championship fight.

HONORED FOR HIS WORK
Because of his great interest in wrestling, Coach Sheridan at Lehigh was recently feted by the team and given a set of gold cuff links.

Held For Wife's Death

Blood stains found upon his overalls led to the arrest of Robert E. Coleman, 21, right, charged with the brutal slaying of his pretty girl wife, left, near Jonesboro, Ga. Blows from a heavy weapon caused the death of Mrs. Coleman, 19-year-old mother, whose battered body was discovered upon the floor of their farm home. Coleman denied the killing. The above photo was taken shortly before the murder.

Guardsmen Like Drills When Pay Day Arrives

Members of Co. D, 127th Infantry, attend drills regularly—when they think they're going to receive pay checks and just before they leave for Camp Williams each summer. That appears to be a logical conclusion after viewing the attendance records of the company for the last year.

But some of the boys are very regular in their attendance at the one and one half hour sessions in armory G every Monday night and three enlisted men and the three officers are Captain Clyde P. Schroeder, Lieutenant H. J. Plette and Lieutenant William M. Donovan; the enlisted men are First Sergeant Joseph Kerrigan, Corporal Clarence Christen and Private Paul Kobal. And as a result of their accomplishments the five will have their pictures published in the Wisconsin National Guard Review within the next few weeks.

Attending drill every Monday night year in and year out isn't as easy a thing as it appears to be. Many members of the company work in mills and often are on night shifts and unable to drill. Too, there are numerous counter attractions that tend to keep the boys away, although generally they're pretty consistent in their observance of the weekly duty.

Peculiarly enough it's the non-commissioned officers and the recruits who attend drill better than many of the privates who have been France is taking to sound films.

FAMOUS LECTURER WILL GIVE SERIES OF ADDRESSES HERE

Dr. Chester Milton Sanford to Spend Five Days in Appleton

Dr. Chester Milton Sanford, educator, writer, lecturer, and vocational guidance expert, will be in Appleton from April 1 to 5, under the auspices of the board of education. His visit is to be financed by various city organizations.

Dr. Sanford will make his headquarters at the senior high school and he will give a number of general assembly talks, and hold group and individual conferences. He will speak before the Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs on April 1, 2 and 3, at the Appleton Business and Professional Women's club meeting, and at the vocational school.

Dr. Sanford is one of the most sought-for speakers on the Red path lecture course, as he has spent many years of his life with young people, and in assisting them to choose the type of work to which they are best adapted. He has spent six months in Green Bay, and three weeks in Oshkosh.

Former Governor Harding of Iowa, says of Dr. Sanford and his lectures: "It has been my privilege to hear Professor Sanford lecture to half a dozen different audiences. He makes me forget each time about the college, about himself as a professor, and takes me into the realm of the real, the living, throbbing life of industry. I see him as a father who knows boys and girls. I see him as a man who knows jobs and folks—and always in love with both."

CHIEF WARNS MINORS NOT TO PLAY POOL

Pool hall proprietors have been warned by Police Chief George T. Prim that the city ordinance which prohibits minors from frequenting and playing pool in those places is to be enforced. Chief Prim said he had received a number of complaints recently, and that in an effort to stop the trouble he was going to have one of his officers make daily visits to the pool halls in Appleton.

EASTER TRADE SHOWS GAIN OVER LAST YEAR

Philadelphia—The Easter trade recorded here so far has been satisfactory proportions, buying being sustained by increased purchasing power due to larger payrolls. The gain is estimated at 5 to 7 per cent in retail sales as compared with this time last year.

LOOKS LIKE GREAT PROSPECT

Johnny White, former Fordham star, is playing with Columbus in the American Association this year and is being touted as a sure big leaguer of the future.

An automobile club for youngsters above 80 has been organized by Gustav Hellermann, 91, at Hagen, Germany. Twenty charter members joined.

Noted Lecturer

Above is Dr. Chester Milton Sanford who comes to Appleton on April 1 for a five-day period during which he will give addresses before many civic organizations.

PAGES ARE HELPING LEGISLATION OVER SCHOOL SOCIETIES

Youths in Legislature Are Best Lobbyists for Fraternity Amendment

BY BEN G. KLINE
Copyright 1929 by the Consolidated Press Association

Sacramento, Cal.—Friendship between pages in the state legislature and members of the Senate and Assembly may serve to settle a long drawn out and at times bitter controversy within educational circles of California over high school fraternities.

Two years ago secret societies in secondary schools were abolished by legislation but, though forbidden, they have seemed in many cases to have taken stronger root. It has seemed in at least some instances that such an organization has an appeal to youths in their teens because it is secret and a double appeal if it is both secret and prohibited.

Severe attempts to enforce the prohibition has led to resentment on the part of pupils and antagonism between high school youths and their principals. Failure to enforce has called for stern demands that "bootlegged" secret organizations be put down with an iron hand. Teachers and parents have been divided on the subject.

In the face of such conditions a bill before the legislature now would set aside the prohibition and leave the question with each school's administrative head. There has been stiff opposition to the repeal measure, but it has passed the lower house.

And the "lobby" which helped it pass the assembly, it has been discovered, consisted of the youthful pages who bring the assemblymen their mail, do errands for them and otherwise keep themselves useful and alert during sessions. Ready smiles and willing hands and feet more than counter balanced the arguments of stern disciplinarians and the repeal measure is on its way toward passage. Leading school authorities in the state were aligned against the bill.

How To Play Bridge

BY MILTON C. WORT

MR. WORK'S POINTERS CONTRACT BRIDGE

Many correspondents are asking me how to reach slams with strong hands. Alas there are some partnership holdings with strength enough to make a slam, and yet with no sane way of showing it; but in many instances there is a way in which such strength can be shown. Here is a hand from the Pacific Coast which illustrates this.

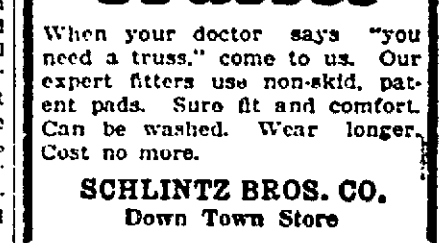

♠	X-X-X-X
♥	X-X-X
♦	X-X-X
♣	A-X-X
NORTH SOUTH
♠	A-K
♥	A-K
♦	A-K-Q-X-X-X
♣	Q-J-9

If the holder of the South hand followed an ironclad rule against bidding three No Trumps without every suit stopped twice or without an Ace or King in every suit, he would be barred here from a bid which is obviously safe. As the cards happen to be, he could go game in Diamonds, but when making his first bid he cannot be sure of that as an adverse suit of the first lead is possible and so the loss of three Club tricks, if he has to lead that suit. With South's hand I should bid No Trumps in preference to five Diamonds; but I would not stop at three I should bid four No Trumps.

Barring a very unusual distribution of the seven outstanding Diamonds, South's hand will take ten No Trumps tricks without assistance from partner, with the Clubs led by the adversaries, eleven; so very little assistance is needed to produce a slam. Of course for a No Trump—and for a Diamond bid too for that matter—the assistance is needed in the Club suit. The hand would not dare to bid more than five Diamonds, as it is possible that the North hand would have four No Trumps.

With only one Ace, North would pass a bid of three No Trumps; but four No Trumps (a bid for more than game) would be a request to show an Ace if North has one and he would bid five Clubs. When South knows that North has the Ace of Clubs, he can call a Small Slam in Diamonds, with absolutely safety. It is true that over Five Diamonds North, induced by his Ace, might bid for a slam; but on the other hand he might fear that South's hand possibly was just a little short of eleven tricks and his own solitary trick, although assuring the game, would leave the combined hands a little short of the slam.

(Copyright John F. Dille Co.)

Trusses

When your doctor says "you need a truss," come to us. Our expert fitters use non-skid, patent pads. Sure fit and comfort. Can be washed. Wear longer. Cost no more.

SCHLINTZ BROS. CO.
Down Town Store

The world we live in

TODAY the world is literally at our doors. A spin of a dial, and we listen to the President in Washington, or a football game in San Francisco. From our talking machines the greatest of operatic stars sing to us, the foremost dance orchestras play lively syncopation of our choosing. Our automobiles stand ready to whisk us over smooth boulevards to new scenes. Monday is no longer blue: the family washing is done by electricity; so too is the cooking, and the preserving of food, and the sweeping of floors.

Yes, the world we live in has changed . . . changed marvelously for the better.

Have you ever stopped to consider the part advertising has played in this change? Glance over the advertisements in this newspaper. How many of the products mentioned are old friends of yours, familiar because you already own them or intend to get them soon! And the articles in your own home. Every one of them, probably, is advertised, either here or elsewhere. The chances are you first learned of them through the advertisements.

Advertising is important to you because it keeps you informed of the changes in the world. It tells you of new products, of improved designs and workmanship and materials. It helps you to spend your money wisely and well. It points you to the better things of life.

Advertising is the herald of progress

"—We surely ought to go, Mother"

Next Week, Starting Tuesday
April 2, 3, 4, 5

HAUERT HARDWARE CO.

Demonstration Begins At 2:00 O'clock

Alcazar Range Cookery Demonstration

You are cordially invited to attend these demonstrations every afternoon next week and see for yourself how thousands of housewives do cooking and baking with greater convenience—in less time.

A special factory representative will show in detail the convenience, efficiency and fuel economy of these thoroughly modern ranges. In addition, she will present interesting talks on domestic science and home economics. Problems which have puzzled you in the past will gladly be answered.

During This Week Only

INTERESTING SUBJECTS TO BE DISCUSSED ON VARIOUS DAYS
Broiling, Roasting and Casserole Cookery
More Perfect Cakes
Whole Meal Cookery
Oven Canning
Seven Ways of Cooking Fish
Salads and Baked Desserts
Balanced Meals
Questions and Answers Daily
Serving

Alcazar
$37.75

A Selection of Tested Recipes Will Be Given Away Free at every Demonstration

HAUERT HARDWARE CO.

307 W. College Ave.

Phone 185

WEEKLY REVIEW OF BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY IN APPLETON

PHONE SERVICE 196
STARTING BATTERIES
BURKE
JIMMIE BURKE
RADIO SERVICE
REPAIRS
PEN EVENINGS
SUNDAYS TO 12 A.M.
Res. Tel. 3343 313 E. Washington St.
Langstadt-Meyer Bldg.

A LUBRICANT For Every Need
MARVEL
OILS — GREASES
Northwestern Petroleum Corp.
Appleton, Wis. Phone 1803

OROSLEY RADIOS
The Height of Home Entertainment
Down Payment as low as $20
VOIGT'S Drug Store
1713 E. Wis. Ave. Tel. 611
(A Wisconsin Accredited Hatchery)

Bauer Printing Co.
Phone 1592 Appleton Press Bldg.
Consult with our representative on your Printing Needs

BADGER STATE CHICKERY
1713 E. Wis. Ave. Tel. 611
(A Wisconsin Accredited Hatchery)

CENTURY TIRES at Lower Prices
30x3 1/2 Economy Cord 31x3 Reg. Cord $6.35
30x3 1/2 Full Sizer $6.85
30x4.00 Balloon — $8.20
30x3 1/2 Tubes — $1.25. All 4 in. Tubes — $2.15
Other Sizes Priced Accordingly
Appleton Auto & Wrecking Co.
Wreckers of Automobiles and Buildings
1419-25 N. Richmond St. Phone 3834

Knoke Lumber Company
Dry Hardwood and Softwood Slabs and Edgings
Phone 868 Linwood Avenue
Appleton, Wis.

C. A. WILKNER
Painter and Decorator
Tel. 389 918 N. Oneida St.

W. HAMM & SON
Manufacturers of Carbonated Beverages, Ginger Ale and Sodas
Tel. 360 623 N. Division St.
Appleton, Wis.

The Hoffman Construction Company
General Contractor
Phone 693
Appleton, Wisconsin

Rubber Stamps
Harriman Stamp Company
PHONE 406.1
APPLETON, WISCONSIN

Kimlark Woven Rugs
Art Moderne Pattern 192
While the last word in Modern Art it is not at all severe. Unusual and attractive settings can be achieved with it in living rooms, sun-parlors, dinettes, club house lounges, etc.
Now on display at the leading furniture and department stores.

See Our Distinctive Display of Pictures in our New Art Shop.
IDEAL PHOTO & GIFT SHOP
208 E. College Ave.

Chas. A. Feuerstein
First Class Upholstering and Mattress Renovating
715 W. Harris St. Phone 408
The Old Location

J. J. Faust & Sons Co.
—Drillers of—
Artesian and Bored Wells
Pumps, Jacks and Gasoline Engines
Phone 158-W Kaukauna, Wis.

Day & Night Towing Service
—and—
Mechanical Road Service.
Phone 82
PEOTTER'S SERVICE

KING RADIO
Exclusive Dealer
Hendricks-Ashauer Tire Co.
513 W. Col. Ave. Phone 4004

HENRY SCHABO & SON
Retail Dealers in COAL, COKE and WOOD
BUILDING MATERIAL
College Ave. & Bennett St.
Appleton, Wis.

BELTING, NEW AND OLD PIPES IN ALL SIZES—CLOTHES LINE PIPE POSTS—CULVERTS AND BARN POSTS—ALL WOOL PAPER MILL FELT BLANKETS—STRUCTURAL STEEL.
I. BAHCALL
Meade-Commercial-Sts., Appleton, Wis. Phone 1794-W

Wisconsin Distributing Co.
Phone 3500
Wholesale Fruits Produce and Sugar
Jelke Good Luck Margarine

TYPEWRITERS ADDING MACHINES
OFFICE SUPPLIES
E. W. SHANNON
1001 COLLEGE ST. APPLETON, WIS.

HARLEY-DAVIDSON
Sales and Service
Harry Macklin
Langstadt-Meyer Bldg.
E. Johnson St. Tel. 5101W

Robert A. Schultz
Masonry & Concrete Work
Ask Us for Estimates
1228 W. Lawrence St. Phone 864

Let us give you estimates on refinishing your car with Duco.
DUCO SERVICE OF APPLETON
728 W. Wis. Ave. Phone 3801

Martin Boldt & Sons
Contractors
Get Our Figures Before Building
Phone 161 217 S. Badger Ave.

M-L-O-TONE RADIO CO.
Repair laboratories for all makes of radios and accessories. We also sell radios—cabinets—tubes—dynamic speakers—eliminators and other radio accessories.
Tel. 3373. 812 S. Kernan Ave.

Riverside Greenhouse
Get your seasonable flowers from the Riverside Greenhouse. Tel. 72 and 3012.

E. Liethen Grain Company
Grain, Flour, Feed and Seed
Phone 103 Appleton, Wis.

SMOKES CANDY
GOLDY'S
"First With the Latest"
Novelty tins are new & amusing
MILKED MILKS HOT DOGS
103 So. Appleton St.

Church Notes
EVANGELICAL
EMANUEL EVANGELICAL — Corner Franklin & Durkee-sts. J. F. Nienstedt, minister. Residence 310 E. Harris-st. Worship (German) 9 a. m. with Easter message by the pastor. Bible school at 10 a. m. Mr. John Trautman, Supt. Easter service in the English language at 11 a. m. Special Easter service in the English language at 11 a. m. Special Easter anthems by the choir. "The Empty Tomb" is the theme of the pastor's sermon. An offering for foreign missions will be taken. An opportunity to unite with the church will be given in connection with the service. The Christian Endeavor society devotion meeting will be held at 7:30 and the following program will be given at 7:30. Selections by the Polka mandolin orchestra. Hymn 130. Scripture and prayer by the pastor. Song, "Sweet is the Message" by two junior classes. Exercise "Easter Witness," given by a junior class. Duet, "Our Lord Has Risen" by A. F. Lund, Miss Maude Harwood and Mrs. N. Zularista. An Easter reading, A quartet consisting of Miss E. Solim, Miss E. Schreiner, Forest Jahn and Raymond Sailerlich will sing "Oh May My Walk Be Close With God" by H. Johnson. Anthem "Supplication by J. Gillingham. Choir. A number by the male quartet. A short Easter meditation by the pastor. Offering and offertory and a closing instrumental number by the orchestra. "I was glad when they said unto me let us go into the house of the Lord."

EPISCOPAL
PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL. All Saints' Church. College Avenue corner of N. Drew Street. Henry S. Gately, Rector. 116 N. Drew Street. Easter Day, March 31—Holy Communion, 7:30 A. M. Sunday school, 9:30 A. M. Morning service and sermon, 11:00 A. M. The music on Easter day will be under the direction of Prof. John Ross Frampton, organist and choir director. The seats in the church are all free and visitors at all services are cordially welcome.

CONGREGATIONAL
FIRST CONGREGATIONAL. Cor. Lawrence & Oneida Streets. Dr. H. E. Peabody, Minister. Sunday—Senior Pastor, Easter morning services at the church, 7:30—Sunrise service, 8:30 breakfast, 9:00 class meetings, 9:45 general assembly of the church school in the auditorium. Music by the Senior department two and song by the beginners department. 11:00 morning worship. Chimes, Prelude, Christus Resurrexit, Ravanello, Anthem. "When the Dawn was Breaking," C. Dickinson. Anthem "He is Risen," by the Senior Department. "Light's Glittering Morn Bedecked the Sky," Parker. Reception of members. Sermon by Dr. Peabody. 4:00 twilight organ recital by Mr. Maesch. 7:00 Easter program by the church school. This includes "The Transformed Cross," a service through which a cross of wood is changed to a cross of flowers. The dramatization by the Senior department of "The Resurrection of Peter" by Mrs. M. E. Waterman and Miss Mueller. Tuesday—2:00 Circle No. 4 will have a social meeting at the home of their captain, Mrs. Hardacker, 1026 E. Pacific. Hostesses are Mrs. Len Smith, Mrs. O. Struck, Mrs. F. Warrington, and Mrs. A. Wilton. 7:15 Boy Scouts. Wednesday—10:30 Circle No. 5. Mrs. Furringer, captain, will have an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. Ed Schmidt, 511 E. South River-st. Mr. E. Schmidt and Mrs. Furringer, assistant hostesses.

ST. JOHN EVANGELICAL (Evangelical Synod of N. A.) Intersection of Bennett St. and W. College Ave. W. R. Wetzeler, Pastor. Residence 126 N. Story Street. Easter Sunday, S. S. at 9:15 A. M. Service of Divine worship at 10:15 A. M. Communion. Reception of new members. Special music. Please bring your special Easter offering.

PRESBYTERIAN
MEMORIAL PRESBYTERIAN. Cor. E. College Avenue and S. Drew Street. Ralph A. Garrison, minister. Residence 314 N. Lawrence Street. Church school at 9:45 a. m. Harold Heller, superintendent. Classes for youth of all ages. Easter lessons and music. Church service of worship at 11 o'clock. The minister will preach upon the theme, "With You Always." Organ selections: Hallelujah Chorus from "Messiah" by Handel, I Know that My Redeemer Liveth by Handel, "Hallelujah" by Gounod. Miss Freda Koppin, organist. Double quartet will sing two anthems, "Alleluia, Alleluia" by Charles Vincent, and "The Dawn of Hope" by Krogmann. Mrs. S. W. Murphy is to be the soloist and she will sing "Hosanna" by Graner. There will be reception of members. During the church service competent workers will be in charge of the Nursery to care for the little children of parents who wish to attend the service. The public is invited. Church night meeting will be held in the church parlor at 7:45 Thursday night.

LUTHERAN
ST. MATTHEW EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH, corner of Lawrence and Mason, West Side, Christian Parochial Day School in connection, Wisconsin Synod. Synodical Conference, Philip A. C. Froehke, pastor. Special Easter services, German at 8:45 A. M. English at 10:10 a. m. Sermon topic "What Think Ye of Christ?" Text Matthew 22:42. Sunday School at 10:10. Classes for all. Bible Class Tuesday evening at 7:30. Subject for discussion: Acts 20. The Church Council meets Wednesday evening instead of Monday. Come. "Sing praises to the Lord which dwelleth in Zion. Declare among the people His doings." Psalm 9:11.

FIRST ENGLISH LUTHERAN
North and Drew Sts. F. C. Reuter, pastor. Easter Sunday. Sunrise service at 6 o'clock. Sermon subject: "Christ is Risen and We With Him." Be with us tomorrow at the rising of the sun to worship and praise the risen Son of God. Sunday school and adult Bible class at 9 o'clock. Festival service with Holy Communion at 10:30. Sermon subject: "The Coming Resurrection." Senior Luther League will meet Monday evening at 7:30. Regular meeting of the Ladies Society Thursday afternoon at 2:15.

TRINITY ENGLISH LUTHERAN CHURCH, United Lutheran church in America, Corner S. Allen and E. Kimball Sts. F. E. Schreiner, Minister. Easter Sunday, 9:15 a. m. Sunday school; 9:45 a. m. Supt. Interesting graded classes for all. Adult Bible Class; Geo. E. Wait, Jr., teacher. 10:30 a. m. Chief Service; theme: "Easter in Every Day Life." Processional, "Christ is Risen, Hallelujah!" In-troit and C. adual song by the choir; Duet, "As Christ Upon The Cross"—Bullard. Misses Dorothy Warner and Lois Schreiner, vocalists. "I Know That My Redeemer Lives." 8:00 p. m. Monday, regular monthly meeting of the Church Council in the pastor's study. 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, Young Women's Missionary Society will meet with Mrs. Harry W. Cameron, 543 N. Clark-st. Hostesses: Mrs. Geo. H. Weese and Mrs. Arthur F. Wendt. Leader, Mrs. Cameron. 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Choir rehearsal. You are cordially invited to worship with us.

SALVATION ARMY
THE SALVATION ARMY, 327 College Avenue. Meetings as follows: Public praise service Saturday evening at 8 p. m. Sunday school Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. Sunday night Easter service at 8 p. m. Midweek service Thursday

BAPTIST
FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.—Cor. Appleton and Franklin-sts. E. M. Salter, pastor. Res. 22 N. Bellair St. Morning worship 11 a. m. Sermon topic: "The Assurance of Life." At 9:45 a. m. the Easter program by the church school in the auditorium. Evening service at 7:30. The ordination of Baptism will be observed, sermon by the pastor, B. Y. P. U. Sr.'s meets at 6:30 in the church parlor, all young people are especially invited to attend. The Easter Sun-rise service will be held at the Baptist church at 6:30 a. m. B. Y. P. U. Jr.'s meets at 6:30 p. m. in the Junior room on the second floor, all juniors are especially invited to attend. The midweek prayer meeting, Thursday evening at 7:30 in the church parlor, the public is invited. Special music Sunday morning, Mrs. Mabel Meyer, soloist. On Sunday morning, April 7, the Sacrament of Lord's Supper will be observed at the close of the morning worship and reception of new members. The public is cordially invited to attend any or all of these services.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Corner Durkee and Harris-sts.—Extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend the Sunday services and Wednesday evening testimonial meeting Sunday service at 11 o'clock. Subject: Reality. Wednesday evening testimonial meeting at 8 o'clock. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Children up to 12 years of age. Reading room 5:30. Wednesday evening, April 3, 7:30 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. except Sundays and legal holidays.

REFORMED
FIRST REFORMED—Corner Lawe and Hancock-sts. E. F. Franz, pastor. Sunday School Easter Sunday at 9:30 a. m. Note change of time for Sunday. Easter service with communion beginning at 10:30 both English and German will be used at this service. Offerings will be for our Home Mission work. Song by male quartet. There will be no C. E. meeting in the evening, because of the Sunrise service at the Baptist church at 6:30 a. m. Ladies' Aid meeting next Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Reinke. Women's Missionary society meeting next Thursday evening with Mrs. H. Meyer.

METHODIST
THE FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Corner Drew & Franklin-sts. Jay Archibald Holmes, Minister. The doors of this church are open to all men of all creeds. Easter program for the Sunday school, 9:45, Sunday school auditorium. Sunrise service, 7:30, Sunrise service, 8:30, Sunrise service, 9:30. The Candle Lighters, Robert Dr. Long and Karl Cast. The program committee: Mrs. O. D. Cannon, chairman, Mrs. F. M. Ingler and Mrs. Edith Wright. Easter morning worship, 11:00. Dr. Holmes will preach. Organ Prelude, Pastorale Symphony (Messiah), Handel, Wm. C. Webb, organist. Anthem: Hallelujah (Mount of Olives), Beethoven, quartette. Offertory: Anthem, "Jesus Lives," MacFarland, quartette. Robert Dr. Webb. Reception of members at the close of this service. No other services for the day.

GERMAN M. E. CHURCH, Corner of Hancock and Superior-sts. A. C. Panzlau, Minister. 9:30 A. M. Preaching service in the English language. Topic: A Great Disappointment to the Disciples. Matt. 26:6. Sunday school 10:30 A. M. A very appropriate Easter program will be given by the Sunday school of Appleton and Clayton young folks at 7:30 Sunday evening. A hearty welcome to our friends. Thursday P. M. 2:30. Ladies Aid at the parsonage. Friday eve 8 P. M. Epworth League at Will Greinert's, Greenville. Leader, Mrs. Emery Ruch. Topic: How to live a Christian Life. A song by the male quartet.

Advertising Brings Results, Says Babson

Babson Park, Fla.—"One of the best indicators of business conditions is the amount of advertising carried by the newspapers and magazines. While theoretically the best time to advertise is when business is poor and sales resistance hardest, practically it does not work out that way. Business men advertise when business is good, and they reduce advertising when times are dull. This has been the tendency shown by the advertising statistics ever since they began to be compiled.

During the greater part of 1927 and up to October, 1928, the amount of advertising carried in the daily newspapers gradually declined. October marked a reversal of this trend; and since that time each month has shown a gain over the corresponding month of the year previous. Latest complete figures are for January, 1929. They show a 3 per cent increase in advertising income over January, 1928. 245 daily papers in 75 cities carried a total income of $22,661,033, a gain of $2,293,811 over the previous January. Preliminary reports indicate continuation of gains for February and March up to the present time. No better proof of current business prosperity can be found.

ADVERTISERS SHOW PROFITS

"Does advertising pay? This question would seem to have been answered in the affirmative years ago; but it still bobs up in the minds of many busy men who for some reason or other, have had disappointing experiences. Wherever advertising has failed to produce the results expected, however, I am convinced that the fault lies not with the general principle of advertising but with the particular application made of it.

Advertising of the right kind, properly directed, and suited to the property, not only pays but pays handsomely. Other than large industrial and mercantile corporations would not be increasing their advertising appropriations year after year.

"Statistics show that the largest advertisers are making the greatest sales and the greatest net profits. For example, it is highly significant that the fifteen companies who spent the most money on national advertising last year showed total net profits of 22 per cent. In 1927, whereas the average of 900 corporations, including large and small advertisers, showed total net profits only 14.7 per cent greater. It may be argued that these fifteen large corporations are the biggest advertisers because they have the most money to spend. But don't put that in the balance scale. It is more due to say they are the biggest and most profitable concerns because they are, and have been, the largest advertisers. Each one of these fifteen companies spent $1,000,000 or over in advertising last year. One of them spent over $8,000,000.

MUST BE HUMAN

"We have recently witnessed a revival of the old 'paid testimonial' type of advertising. This has come in the form of a number of considerable editorial commentaries but it must have a strong appeal of some kind or so many of our prominent corporations would not be risking huge sums of money on it. Personally I believe that the paid testimonial carries no particular convincingness to the average American reader. People know that many of these testimonials are movie actresses, musicians and other popular heroes and heroines are paid for. Rather, I believe the strong appeal and effectiveness of the present testimonial ad lies in the fact that it introduces a personality. This personal element attracts the reader's interest.

Advertising leaves men cold when it lacks a human element. If in time the testimonial ad passes from the picture we must replace, in some way, the personal appeal which it carries. Closer attention must be given to the feature of the testimonial and incorporate the same human appeal in less sensational and possibly more critically advertising copy. This, I confidently expect, will be done.

NEW WINDOW DISPLAY

"A little while ago the National Advertising Association made a test of the value of show window displays. For three weeks one of the largest drug stores took all merchandise and display material out of its windows and substituted simple draperies. The loss in business was at once apparent. Special sales of that store fell off 41 per cent; candy sales 32 per cent; rubber goods 22 per cent; toilet goods 18 per cent; soda 14; stationery 10; and perscription 2.2 per cent. In sales in that three weeks period amounted to $2,669. This proves conclusively the great value of proper window displays in selling goods.

"I believe, however, that the art of window dressing and window lighting is only in its infancy and can be made tremendously more effective. In this connection I am much interested in experiments carried on with a new lighting device based on the ultra-violet ray principle.

"For a long time it has been known that near ultra-violet light could be used to illuminate objects painted with certain chemicals which have fluorescent properties. Only recently, however, has practical equipment been developed for using this light in advertising, but equipment is now available at a relatively low price for installation in store windows. The light rays used

LOCAL PAINTER IN BUSINESS HERE FOR OVER HALF CENTURY

Strenuous Winter Causes Much Damage to Homes, He Says

Charles A. Wilkner, 915 N. Oneida-st., this year is celebrating his fifty-fifth anniversary in the painting and wall papering business in this city. Mr. Wilkner came to this city when he was 15 years old after having been a painter for two years at Fond du Lac. During the past half century he has established himself as one of the most expert decorators in the city and his work is admired by many people.

Mr. Wilkner and his two sons, Harry of this city, and William of Kaukauna, are looking forward to a busy season. The strenuous winter has riddled houses with the exterior and interiors of homes, Mr. Wilkner says. In many cases the paint on houses is blistered and exceptionally dirty due to the snow-fall and continued damp weather.

Walls and woodwork in many houses have been ruined by leaky roofs, which spring leaks under the heavy coating of ice and snow. In some cases entire sections of plaster have fallen from walls after having been soaked with water.

Mr. Wilkner specializes in expert wall papering, interior and exterior painting. The choice of paint and color of interior or exterior decorations is left entirely to the home owner. Estimates are cheerfully given.

This is the time of the year when the home owner should give his house a thorough overhauling. Many homes will need new wall paper or fresh coats of kalsomine or paint. Others will need a fresh coat or two of paint on the exterior. House painting usually is done in May after the wood is dry.

For further information and estimates call at the shop at 915 N. Oneida-st or phone 332.

LOCAL CONCERN HAS SECOND HAND PARTS FOR ANY MAKE CAR

Appleton Auto and Wrecking Company Features Three-fold Business

This is the time of the year when the wise car owner will do all in his power to diminish the cost of overhauling his car. It is quite certain that some cars will need new parts if they are to be put into working order for the summer.

The Appleton Auto and Wrecking company at 1429 N. Richmond-st. carries a complete line of used car parts. Parts are available for every model of automobile, which are guaranteed to offer good service. Why waste a lot of time in ordering, and waiting for parts from distant sections of the country, when you can get the same part at the local garage for half as much money? The proprietors point out.

Three-fold business is featured at the garage, including day and night towing, expert car repairing, and selling of used car parts. When parts are purchased at the garage, they can be installed by expert mechanics, or the car owner may have the parts installed at any garage he desires.

Three wrecking trucks which are kept busy 24 hours of the day are at your service. Towing service to any town or city is featured. It is no longer necessary for car owners to be marooned for any length of time at all, with the new service the wreckers have to offer. You can now have your car towed to any point desired in a short time, and save yourself a lot of anxiety.

For further information regarding the greasing and overhauling of cars, drop in night tow service, or for quality used parts for any make car, call at 1429 N. Richmond-st or phone 3354.

DOCTORS PREFERRED AS HUSBANDS BY STUDENTS

Macon, Ga. —(AP)— Every member of the senior class of Wesleyan college expects to have a husband some day, and most of them expect to have doctors for husbands.

A questionnaire sent members of the class of the girls' high school here revealed no preference for the men without a sense of humor. The seniors preferred men with college educations but did not demand such training, although their husbands must be capable, thoughtful and not wall flowers. Most of the girls expect to go somewhere every night, four or five nights a week, when they are married.

One girl banned golf-playing, and another put up a barrier against traveling salesmen. Not one of the girls said she had rather have a career than a husband. Business men ranked next to doctors in the girls' choice, several wanted civil engineers, some architects, one an ambassador, one a politician and some said: "It matters not, so long as he loves me."

Simplex Piston Rings
Always stop Oil Pumping, Piston Slap, Compression Loss, Oil Burn in the worst worn cylinders. Results guaranteed for 10,000 miles.
Kellogg AC Radio
$122 and up
Tubes & Speaker Included
DISTRIBUTED BY
PUTH AUTO SHOP
827 W. College Ave. Phone 85

GROTH'S
Keys Made, Lock and General Repairing
305 W. College Ave. Phone 272

PETERSEN PRESS
Exclusive Union Printers
General Commercial Printing
601 W. College Ave. Phone 1384

FOR DEPENDABLE AND ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION
RIDE THE BUS COACH LINES
Service between Appleton—Neenah and Kaukauna—and All Intermediate Points
Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co.

701 S. Bounds-St. Tel. 4216
Fox River Boiler Works
General Boiler Repairs, Smoke Stacks, Structural Steel For Buildings, Steel Tanks, Sheet Iron Work.
Located Northwest of Appleton Junction

We Clean and Reblock Hats Correctly 75c
We Dry Clean Caps 25c
—Phone 623—
NOVELTY CLEANERS
215 E. College Ave.

HENRY BOLDT
BUILDER
Phone 1248—Appleton, Wis.

JUNIOR GREENHOUSES
MILES MEIDAM, Prop.
1322 Carver St. Phone 39-R
Floral Designs and Cut Flowers, We Send Flowers by Wire Anywhere!
Member F. T. D. Appleton, Wis.

1891 — 38 YEARS — 1929
That's a long time to stay in the plumbing game and still have friends.
RYAN & LONG
Phone 217

Chris. Roemer Estate
Printers Since 1887
Phone 1790 119 So. Appleton St. Appleton, Wis.

New York Life
W. Frank McGowan, Charles C. Baker
104 E. College Ave., Appleton Phone 84

Ganzen Sign Co.

POST-CRESCENT'S DAILY PAGE OF FUN

MOM'N POP

Easter Bonnets

By Cowan

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Now for Play

By Blosser

SALESMAN SAM

Needs a Brown Suit

By Small

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

Now!

By Martin

OUT OUR WAY

By Williams

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

By Ahern

KOLSTER RADIOLA SONORA MAJESTIC CROSLY

We are receiving large shipments weekly and ask you to call and hear the new models.

Book Of Knowledge

Famous Christians

PHOEBE CARY
Among the names of well known hymn writers are those of the two sisters, Alice and Phoebe Cary. Of these the best known is "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," by Phoebe. The sisters were noted for their beautiful lives and their devotion to one another.

John Mason Neale, who wrote many beautiful hymns, was a Church of England minister who had to give up his pulpit because of extreme views.

Dr. Isaac Watts, an invalid British schoolmaster, wrote many hymns, among them, "When I Survey Thy Wondrous Cross."

Two hymns written by American Presbyterian ministers toward the end of the nineteenth century are well known. They are "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me," by Rev. E. Hopper, and "Stand Up! Stand Up for Jesus," by Rev. G. Duffield. (Next: Story of the Days)

ANOTHER SMILE FOR TODAY

GETTING SHORTER

HE: Another new dress?
SHE: I can hardly bear to see the old ones.
HE: And I can hardly see this new one.—Justig Koelner Zeitung, Cologne.

TRY AN' PINCH IT

COP: Aren't you afraid to leave your raccoon coat there in the rumble seat?
MOTORIST: It's all right, officer. A friend of mine is inside minding it.—Judge.

WEAR AND TEAR

"Hello! Is this the laundry? This is Jones. I didn't get my cuffs back in that package you just delivered."
"We have no record that you sent any cuffs. Are you sure you did?"
"Sure! I got the shirt here they were torn off of."—Judge.

LET'S GO

SHE: Wait a minute, I've forgotten my lipstick.
HE: You've got it on.—Life.

WAUPACA COUNTY

NEW LONDON-CLINTONVILLE-WAUPACA

NEARBY TOWNS

POISONERS AGAIN ACTIVE AGAINST NEW LONDON DOGS

Knapstein Terrier Is Victim — Numerous Cats in City War on Birds

New London — After a respite of a few months the outrages of a dog poisoner again took toll from the canine population. Baldy, the fox terrier friend and companion of Theodore Knapstein died an agonized death on Thursday. Mr. Knapstein declared that he has almost certain knowledge of the identity of the guilty persons. His dying pet was found near Spring and Division streets and was taken to the Walter Stewart home where it soon succumbed.

Baldy was a faithful pal, who, his master declared, often showed much better sense than do a good many people.

Complaints are being registered, especially by citizens of the fourth ward against the great numbers of cats. One family alone is known to have eight full grown cats, all of which are half-starved creatures. "These eight," asserted a resident, "along with the dozen or more which are owned about the neighborhood, average about one and three-quarters cat to every bird in my garden. All the year round I am at some pains to encourage the nesting of birds in my garden, and time after time I have located nests later to find them torn down and the young birds eaten by the sneaking pests which hunt day and night. When I consult with the chief of police as to what could be done I was told that the city has no ordinance against cats.

NEW LONDON SOCIETY

Special to Post-Crescent
New London — The "Busy Bee" group of the Dorcas society of the Methodist church held a sewing bee at the home of Mrs. Sherry Theron Friday afternoon. A benefit lunch was served. The group will serve a public supper in the dining room of the Methodist church Wednesday, April 3.

Mrs. E. J. Freiburger was hostess to the members of the Laif-Lot club Thursday afternoon. Various parlor games provided entertainment and lunch was served.

The Mukwa Schafkopf club was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wing Thursday evening. Prizes for high scores in cards were awarded to Mrs. August Zeltner and Gilbert Kemp and the prize for second score was won by Martin Wing. The next meeting will be held at the Alfred Pocke home.

Mrs. Milton Koebel was hostess to the Friendship club at her home Wednesday evening. Schafkopf was played. Mrs. Louis Hoffman receiving first prize. Mrs. Clara Kell receiving second prize and Mrs. Frank Meating was awarded consolation prize. Mrs. Kellogg will entertain the club Wednesday evening, April 3.

HEAR INDIAN TALK ON HEALTH AT SCHOOL

Dale — "Flaming Arrow," a Pueblo Indian, accompanied by the county nurse, Miss Marie Klein, gave a talk to the children of Dale school Thursday afternoon. Pupils of Cleveland school were present to hear the talk. Several of the parents were present.

Mrs. William Harris and son Billy of Mellen, returned to their home Wednesday after visiting relatives here and at Hortonville.

John Leppia went to Milwaukee with a carload of stock Wednesday returning Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Fritch returned Thursday from Texas where they spent the winter.

Mrs. Arthur Blystad and daughter Barbara of Necedah, are visiting at the Charles Lecky home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cooper of Medina and Mrs. Len Nuttall and daughter Nola and Mrs. Emma Sommer motored to Waupun Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Baerwald and son Neil Gene, of New London, are spending the weekend at the Louis Glocke home.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Glocke entertained the following Sunday in honor of their son Gerhard, who was confirmed: Mrs. Anna Glocke and Dorothy Glocke of Weyauwega, Mrs. Lena Borchardt and son of Hortonville, Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Reier and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Rung and family and William Howelisch, Jr., all of Dale.

Marie Leppia, who attends high school at New London, is spending her Easter vacation at her home here.

Mrs. Lyman Clark of Appleton, spent Friday with her mother Mrs. H. Schultheis.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Christensen and family have moved to Winchester where he will be employed in a garage.

PERSONAL NEWS NOTES OF LEEMAN COMMUNITY

Leeman — Mrs. Clarence Thompson is very ill at her home here.

Misses Lillian Gomm and Marguerite Roemer, Hazel Dinkel, Peter Jaeger, James Sayers and Earl Eoman spent Tuesday evening with Miss Edna Dietzler at the Arnold Knapp home.

Mrs. Fred Falk is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Marx of Menasha.

Mrs. Wesley Marx and Mrs. Roy Zueger of Appleton, visited local relatives Thursday afternoon.

Miss Hilma Nelson spent a few days this week at the home of Mrs.

LIBERTY MOTHERS "PARK" CHILDREN WHILE THEY VOTE

New London — "Children cared for here on election day." This is the promise of Mrs. William Gens in Liberty township next Tuesday. Great interest is being stirred up through the various opposition of candidates for election, and women are being urged to vote. In view of the fact that many mothers have no place to leave their children while they take a hand steering the course of their local politics, Mrs. Gens has offered her home and her maid's services in caring for the youngsters.

NEW LONDON PERSONALS

New London — Mrs. Thomas Roberts and son Teddy who attends Oshkosh normal school are vacationing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Cuff. Her son Thomas is expected to arrive from Westfield to spend the remainder of the Easter vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rogers and children of Minneapolis, former residents of this city, arrived here on Thursday and are guests at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Laux and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoier.

Jack Denzle of Neenah, is spending the holiday week end with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Denzle.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Smith of Randolph, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Koten.

Dr. William Stewart of Green Bay, will be an Easter guest at the home of his son Walter Stewart.

The family of Fred Zaug recently moved its household goods to the former Wright home on E. Cook-st. Miss Gertrude Stowe has arrived from Beaver Dam and with her brother, Clayton Stowe of Appleton, will be a guest over the weekend at the home of their sister, Mrs. Gilbert Tomstedt, Smith-st.

Miss Ellen Cochrane and Donald Cochrane of Chicago, will arrive here next Tuesday to spend several days with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sawall and Walter Brandow Jr., of Milwaukee, will spend Easter Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brandow. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bootz, who have been spending the past two weeks at the Brandow home, will leave Sunday for Rock Island, Ill., where Mr. Bootz will make his headquarters.

Harold Andrews, who has been attending a barber school at Milwaukee for the past six weeks returned to his home here Thursday.

John Deacy, a student at Oshkosh Business college, is spending the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Rose Deacy.

Giles H. Putnam was a business visitor at Oshkosh Thursday.

Mrs. Carl Gruenke of Appleton was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schmalleberg, Thursday and Friday. Mr. Gruenke motored to this city Friday evening to accompany her home.

Miss Vivian Spencer of Appleton, is spending the weekend with her sister, Mrs. Louis Kurszavski and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lindner and family of Hilbert, were recent visitors at the home of the former's brother, C. A. Lindner and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hobbe and daughter of Milwaukee, arrived Saturday to spend Easter with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hebe.

Miss Beulah Kobler, superintendent of schools at Shorewood, will return to that city Sunday after spending the past week with her mother, Mrs. A. W. Kobler.

Miss Leona and William Hoffman are spending the Easter weekend with their parents, Mr. Arthur Park and Miss Elsie Sommers, at Appleton.

Lyle Andrews returned to his home at Antigo Friday after a six weeks visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Andrews.

Mrs. Louis Ravey and granddaughter Virginia Popke left Thursday for Milwaukee for a few days visit with relatives. They will return Tuesday.

Philip Houk of Dousman, has been spending this week with his sister, Mrs. John Denzle, and family.

LEEMAN AUDITING BOARD CHECKS CLERK'S BOOKS

Leeman — The auditing board of the town of Maine met at the clerk's office Tuesday to audit the books of the town clerk and treasurer. The books were found accurate and showed receipts $28,633.20, disbursements of $21,540.10, and a balance of $7,093.10.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Guyette and Mr. and Mrs. Eli Guyette and Frank Sampson attended the funeral of Dave Guyette five months old baby which was held Thursday at Shiocton.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Poole and children spent Wednesday at Appleton.

Frank Knopp, Jr., left for Milwaukee Wednesday after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knopp, Sr.

Miss Esther Nagreen left for Shiocton Wednesday, where she will be employed.

Lester Boman and Dewey Strong were at Nichols on business Thursday.

and Mrs. Henry Nelson at New London.

LIFE'S ODDITIES

By George Clark

"Who do I think will win what pennant?"

TWO CLINTONVILLE CHURCHES TO GIVE EASTER PROGRAMS

Many Take Part in Celebrations Planned for Sunday Morning

Clintonville — A number of Easter programs will be held in the various churches of this city on Easter day. The Methodist church of this city has planned the following program to be given at 9:30 Sunday morning: Call to worship; prayer; "Good Morning," Willy Grebe; "The Children's Easter Offering," Miss Anderson's class; Song, "Master Libes," Carmen Fae Campbell; Eastern, An exercise by Miss Holmes' class; "The Lily's Sermon," Evelyn Bothwell; "A Message of Easter," Betty Jane Wyllis, Isabelle Waga and Beverly Winchester; "Easter Bells," two classes directed by Mrs. William; "The Little Gardens," Miss Eichtner's and Mrs. Schmiedekne's classes; Song, "Wake up," primary department; "On Calvary," Mrs. Kurtz's class; "When He Arose," Mildred Olen; "An Easter Lesson," Virginia Peterson and class; "Easter Moonlight," Dorothy Waga; "Take up Your Cross," Ruth Norman, Edna Mae Jones, Burnedette Shepard and Mr. Wilke's class; Song, "Who Will Follow Him," A group of young people; Class reports and distribution of class papers; Song, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," school benediction.

The following program will be given at the congregational church in this city on Easter Sunday morning: Easter greetings, James Allen; Easter message, Marjorie Stieg; Easter message, Dorothy Davison; Easter Bells, Harvey Thielke; Why I Love Jesus, Lois Mundt; To An Easter Lily, Betty Brohm; Son, primary department; Easter Joys, Jack Meyers; Easter Lily, Gladys Stevens; Easter Day, Lorraine Moser; Easter Message, Tommy Thielke; Easter Sermon, Doris Hall; Easter Exercise, Elsie Stief, May Patterson; I Wonder, Junior Hall; Stories I Like, Jean Hagen; Easter Brightness, June and Joyce Johannes; My Favorite Day, Donald Davidson; Son, All for My Savior, Junior department; Dialogue, Easter Time, Deloris Stevens, Emma Bodon, Lois Gould, Beatrice Finch, Virginia Laahs and Valeria Metzger; Scripture reading, Miss Laahs' class; Song, Lilies of Dawn, junior department, Why Do We Have Easter, Marjorie Mundt and Sylvia Bodah.

Mrs. Mary Stieg, age 60, died early Friday morning at the home of her father, William Dittberner, S. Main-st following a short illness.

Mrs. Lester Keller, New London, and Miss Helen Rohrer, Wisconsin Rapids, were Thursday visitors with friends in this city.

John Mullerkey and Bert Williams were Shawano visitors Thursday.

Mrs. H. J. Meyer, Mrs. Layman and daughter, Mairale, Tigerton were Thursday visitors at the O. R. Williams home.

Dr. F. C. Walsh was an Appleton visitor on Thursday. He was accompanied home by his daughter Lucille who attends Lawrence college and who will spend the Easter holidays in this city.

The first entertainment after Lent will be held at the Masonic temple in this city on Monday evening where the Masons are sponsoring an Easter dance. Music will be furnished by the Harvey Newman orchestra of Appleton.

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO NICHOLS REGION

Nichols — Friends of Mrs. Erven Elk helped her celebrate her birthday Wednesday evening. A dancing party was given at Wines restaurant Wednesday evening in her honor.

Mrs. F. R. Falk and sons left Thursday to spend a week with relatives at Appleton and Menasha.

Marie Killian, who teaches in the local school, was called to her home by the death of her father, Adam Killian of Kaukauna.

Loyal Fraser, student at Appleton high school, is spending his Easter vacation here with his parents.

Crystal Walston left Wednesday for Florida to visit her sister.

The Ladies Community Aid society will hold its monthly meeting and supper Wednesday, April 2.

Alma Falk left Thursday for a visit with friends in Milwaukee and Chicago.

The John Gottchalk home is quarantined for diphtheria, George Gottchalk being ill with the disease.

SHIOCTON STUDENTS PRESENT OPERETTA, THE GYPSY ROVER

Proceeds to Be Used to Help Pay for New Piano in High School

Special to Post-Crescent
Shiocton — The Operetta entitled "Gypsy Rover" presented by the high school students Wednesday evening was attended by a large crowd. The proceeds will be used toward payment for the new piano, which was purchased for the high school during the past week. Following is the cast of characters in order as they appeared.

Meg, (Bob's foster mother) an old gypsy woman, Lucille Miller.

Zara, the belle of the gypsy camp, Emma Schwardt.

Mario, Meg's husband, Martin Van Batten.

Snuf, Gypsy lad in love with Zara, Russell Omholt.

Rob, the Gypsy Rover, Walter Sawyer.

Lady Constance, daughter of Sir George Martendale, Elise Beyer.

Lord Craven, An English fop, "doncha know," Phil Palmer.

Sir George Martendale, an English country gentleman, Charles Middleton.

Nina, Sir George's second daughter, June Pooler.

Captain Jerome, captain in the English army, Charles DeLong.

Lackey, the butler of Sir George Martendale, Clifford Laird.

Sir Toby Lyon, a society butterfly, Tim Mahn.

McCorkle, a song publisher of London, Russell Laird.

Chorus, gypsies, dames etc.

Six Gypsy children, Russell Coe, Bernard Lettman, Carlton Budd, Helen Knorr, Barbara Jean Kuehler, Annabelle Budd.

Time—About 1778, in the reign of George the Third.

The high school orchestra furnished instrumental music throughout the operetta.

The fifth number of the high school paper, "Chief Shiocton's Quill," was issued this week by members of the freshman class. Following is the staff: Editor, Laona Budd; assistant editor, June Pooler; freshman class editor, Arla Volentine; sophomore class editor, Florence Beyer; junior class editor, Lawrence Gilkey; senior class editor, Herbert Palmer; advertising, Adeline Becker; circulation, Gwendolyn Wehrman; advisors, faculty.

The Willing Workers of the Congregational church will serve dinner election day in the church basement. A sale of various articles will take place during the day and a candy sale will also be conducted.

Mrs. Henry Jones was hostess to the Bridge club at her home Thursday afternoon. First prize was won by Mrs. George Skene and the consolation gift by Mrs. Barb Allender.

Mrs. Ella Jones of Hortonville, acted as substitute for one of the members. The club will be entertained by Mrs. Mike Mack next Thursday afternoon.

Miss Doris Washburn, teacher of the fifth and sixth grades entertained her pupils at a party Friday evening at the high school. Games furnished the evening's entertainment.

The quarantines on the homes of John Wagner and Rudolph Schwardt have been lifted. Members of their families who were ill with scarlet fever have recovered.

Mike Mack and son Clinton, were Appleton callers Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norval Hiller were Appleton callers Tuesday.

Edward Ardelt, who was confined to his home with illness the past winter, was able to be out around for the first time last Tuesday.

TWO RURAL SCHOOLS TO HAVE EARLY VACATIONS

Special to Post-Crescent
Waupaca — County School Superintendent C. H. Bacher reports the following two rural schools as the first in the county to close for the summer vacation: The Cleveland School in the town of Caledonia which will close April 12, and the Landrock school in the town of Iola which will close April 13.

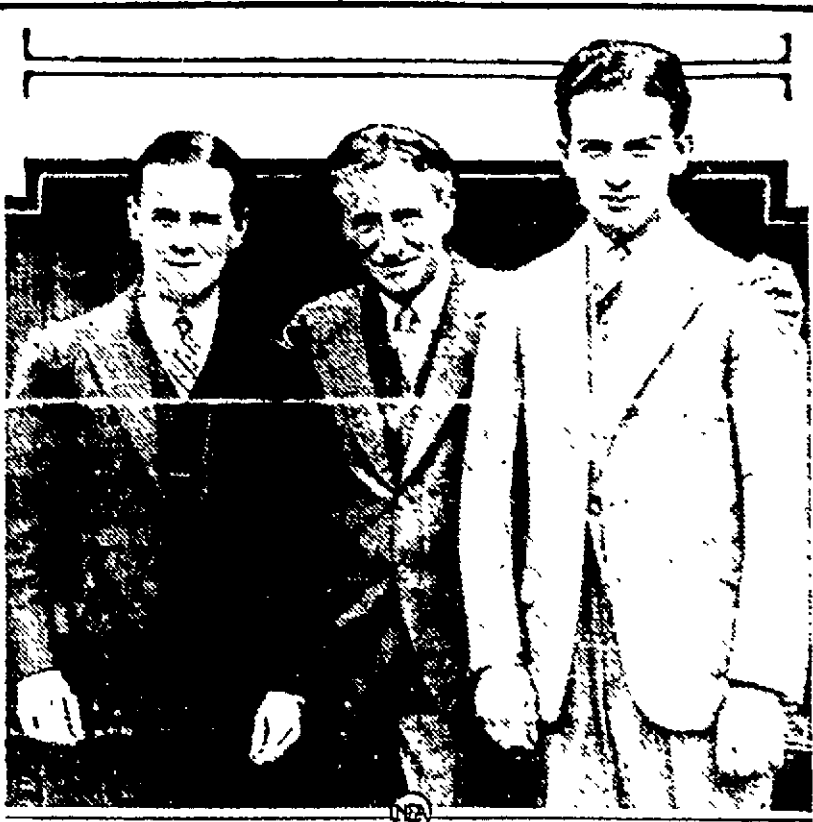

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Delane, accompanied by Mrs. William Hoffman, spent Thursday in Marion. They were accompanied home by William Hoffman who has spent the past week there.

The following young people are spending their Easter vacations at their respective homes in this city: Edwin Godfrey, and Oliver Stratton of Lawrence college, and Kenneth Johnson of Ripon college.

W. W. Nelson of Milwaukee, spent Friday at his cottage in Fremont.

Heiman Johnson has accepted a position as night clerk at the Inn hotel commencing Monday. Clarence Johnson, present night clerk, will be day clerk.

Rubber King and Sons

Here is a new photo of Harvey Finestone, rubber magnate, and his two sons, Harvey, Jr., left, and Russell Finestone, now visiting the Pacific coast. They were photographed at Houston, Tex., where they stopped for a day en route. The sons are associated with Finestone in the rubber business.

BOODRY FUNERAL IS HELD AT SHIOCTON

Shiocton — The body of Mrs. Ella Boodry, 76, whose death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edna Spahr at Tripier, Monday, was brought to Shiocton Friday morning and taken to the Sawyer undertaking parlors. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the South Main church and were conducted by the Rev. N. W. Conkle of the Congregational church, Shiocton. Burial was made in the town of Maine cemetery. The deceased, whose maiden name was Ella Sayers, was a widow of the late James Boodry, whose death occurred at Appleton 19 years ago. Before moving to Appleton the family lived in the town of Maine for about thirty-five years.

Mrs. Boodry also resided at Shiocton for two years after the death of her husband.

Survivors are four daughters and two sons: Mrs. Sadie Spahr, Tripier; Mrs. Lulu Preston, Knoxville, Tenn.; Mrs. Maggie Wing, Iron River, Mich.; Mrs. Frances Linn-deau, Detroit, Mich.; Chester, Tripier, and Thomas, Elcho, all of whom attended the services with the exception of Chester and Mrs. Linn-deau. Four children died in infancy and a daughter, Mrs. Agnes Johnson passed away at Neenah last July.

Twenty grandchildren and sixteen great grandchildren also survive, as do one brother, Leonard Sayers town of Maine, and three sisters, Mrs. Carrie Schaeffer, Kansas; Mrs. Nettie Peachery, Oregon, and Mrs. Susan Rees, Calif., Okla.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT HOLY WEEK SERVICES

Waupaca — Mrs. L. A. Hannon entertained 11 little folks Thursday afternoon in honor of the seventh birthday anniversary of her son Roger.

The Holy Week services held at the Methodist Episcopal church have been very largely attended. Easter

ROYALTON MAN DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Manawa — Christoph Gehrke, 52, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. George Beckmann, in the town of Royalton early Thursday morning of an attack of influenza following a long illness. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon from the Beckmann home and later from St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran church here, the Rev. R. A. Karpinsky officiating. Interment will be in the Manawa cemetery.

Taxes for 1929 in Waupaca-co that have been reported as delinquent to L. J. Stadler, county treasurer, amount to $41,000. This is a greater total than for any year since 1925, but the sum is expected to decrease considerably before May when the delinquent tax list is published. Delinquent taxes in 1928 amounted to $49,000, in 1927 to $27,000, and last year to $36,152.02. The number of parcels upon which taxes have not been paid amounts to 1420, but this will drop to 1,000 or 1,100 before May 1, it is believed.

M. J. Rousseau of this place has been re-nominated as principal of the Oak Grove junior high school in Green Bay for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Mallory, who have been spending the winter with relatives in Medford, Ore., returned home this week.

Both grades and high school closed Wednesday night for a week's vacation. Classes will be resumed next Thursday night for a week's vacation. Classes will be resumed next Thursday morning.

Easter service with its special music and message. There will be reception of members into the church of a large group of both young people and adults. Evening services at 7:30.

Our Many Patrons We Extend Cordial EASTER GREETINGS

John Haug & Son

Dependable Fuel and Building Materials

719 W. College Ave. Phone 1503

The Mortician and His Place

THE family mortician contributes more than a service of preparing for the funeral and managing the attending details. The family mortician has a sympathetic relation, and understanding interest in the affairs of the family. And because of that he becomes a helping hand, a consoling servant, a trustworthy family part when needed. It is in such ideal way that we are the family mortician to many of our city's homes.

Brettschneider Funeral Parlors

"Progressive Funeral Service"

Telephone No. 308 112 South Appleton Street

APPLETON RADIO SHOP

116 W. Harris St.
D. W. JANSEN
1/2 Block W. of High School

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

Terms, cash, or 6 months on note acceptable to bank. Bank of Hottonville and Fred N. Torrey, Owners. Emory Meltz, Auctioneer.

COUNTY ROADS ARE IN GOOD CONDITION, SAYS HIGHWAY HEAD

Only Two Minor County Trunks Are Impassable, He Reports

With the exception of two minor county trunk highways, which are in a practically impassable condition, every other road in Outagamie co. is open to traffic and most of them are in good condition, according to Frank Appleton, acting highway commissioner.

Aided by weather conditions, Mr. Appleton's program of road improvement during the past week has progressed more rapidly than was expected and the increased drive to open every road to traffic has been successful.

The two county trunks which are impassable are FF and M in the town of Deer Creek. The former road was only recently placed on the county trunk system and it was being repaired last fall when winter closed in. The repair work is incomplete and therefore the road is in

AUCTIONS

Auction Directory 90A
DISPERAL AUCTION SALE—Tues. April 16, 10 a.m. at 4 mi. W. and 1/2 mi. S. of Hortonville, 5 mi. S. of New London. Holstein Cattle, Wm. Brahan, Owner. Emory C. Melitz, Auctioneer.

APRIL 3RD—Wednesday. Auction sale on farm 1/2 mi. South of Roesler cheese factory, 2 mi. West, 1/2 mi. South of Hortonville. General farm sale including livestock, machinery, Bank of Hortonville, Owner. Emory C. Melitz, Auctioneer. 9P4 Greenview.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

AUTOMOTIVE

Announcing The Opening of a New Used Car Lot Sat. At Menasha De Pere Street Near Third

Ford 1924 Coach, $100.
Ford 1925 Coupe, $110.
Ford 1926 Coupe, $175.
Chevrolet 1926 Sedan, $225.
Essex 1927 Speedster, $285.
Nash 1926 Special 6 Coach, $385.
Nash 1927 Advance 6 Coach, $765.
Dodge 1927 Coupe, $550.
Pontiac 1927 Coupe, $445.
Pontiac 1927 Landau, $575.
Pontiac 1928 Coach, $595.
Many of these cars have 1929 licenses.
Look these cars over. You will find them to be splendid values.

L & S Motor Sales

E. C. Lyman,
W. C. Strope.
Formerly of Appleton.

USED CARS "with an OK that counts"

S. & O. CHEVROLET CO.
511 W. College Ave. Tel. 859

New 1929 FORDS

HAVE BEEN ADDED TO OUR RENT-A-CAR LINE.

GIBSON'S
211-13 W. College Ave.

FINANCIAL

Loans at Reduced Rate

You save one per cent a month by borrowing from HOUSEHOLD.

HERE IS THE COST: ON LOANS PAYABLE IN 20 EQUAL MONTHLY PAYMENTS

Amount of Loan	Average Monthly Cost
$50	1.22
$100	1.22
$200	2.23
$300	2.24

Other amounts up to $300 at same rate.
Loans may be paid in full at any time, and you will only be charged for the actual time you keep the money. You get the full amount in cash; no deductions of any kind.

NO ENDORSERS. NO EMBARRASSING INQUIRIES

Household Finance Corporation

303 W. College Ave.
Walsh Co. Building
Second Floor
Appleton, Wis. Phone 235

Thought Mate In Jail; Finds She's Mistaken

A certain Outagamie co. woman, who thought her husband was an inmate at the state reformatory at Green Bay, was surprised Friday when she learned the man she thought was her husband really wasn't. But now she is wondering where her husband is.

The peculiar story was revealed when the woman applied for a mother's pension and her application was granted. Her story that her husband was in jail for stealing a car. Last week the woman appeared before County Judge Fred W. Heinemann.

poor shape. There are still some snow banks along County Trunk M which keeps that road from drying up and the patrolmen from making permanent repairs there.

On a few roads it was necessary to place metal rut strips to allow traffic to continue but Highways FF and M are in such poor shape that these strips could not be used there.

Unless weather conditions interfere Mr. Appleton promises that all highways will remain in good shape. Some trouble is being experienced on roads where the frost has not entirely disappeared but this is being remedied as fast as possible.

BRIDGE TROUBLE

Two more bridges, both on county trunk G west of Seymour, have been found to be badly damaged as a result of spring floods and Mr. Appleton has ordered temporary repairs and will report on the condition to the highway committee at its next meeting. The committee is to be taken for a tour of the roads at which time all bridges will be inspected. A report on the inspection trip will be made to the county board so that plans can be made for permanent repairs.

The latest two bridges to be found damaged are an iron bridge about a mile west of Seymour and a concrete bridge on the same road, just beyond the iron bridge.

Mr. Appleton, with N. P. Hayes, an engineer with the division state highway office at Green Bay, were to make a tour of state and federal trunk highways in the county Saturday afternoon for the purpose of planning the summer's improvement and repair service program.

DEATHS

EDWARD J. KUCK

The funeral of Edward J. Kuck, 39, 1220 E. Pacific, who died of suffocation Friday noon when he fell into a grain bin in the Western Elevator Co. on N. Appleton st., will be held at 1:45 Monday afternoon at the residence and at 2 o'clock at Zion Lutheran church. The Rev. Theodore Marth will conduct the services, and burial will be in Riverside cemetery.

Born in this city Dec. 27, 1889, he moved with his parents to the town of Elia at the age of 11. He married Ella Koepke Sept. 11, 1921, and the couple came to this city to live about eight years ago. He became associated with John Peeters in the Western Elevator Co. about three years ago. He was a member of the Men's Missionary society of Zion Lutheran church.

Besides the widow, he is survived by three children, Mildred, Carleton, and Margaret.

LA CROSSE BOXING CLUB IS GRANTED LICENSE

Milwaukee—(AP)—At a special meeting of the State Athletic commission held here Friday, a license was granted to the La Crosse Boxing Club to conduct professional boxing bouts at La Crosse, Wis.

The following sanctions to hold boxing shows were issued:

Professional—La Crosse Boxing club, La Crosse, April 19; Bower City Athletic club, Janesville, April 23.

Amateur—Oshkosh Eagles Athletic club, Oshkosh, April 4; Knights of Columbus Athletics, Fond du Lac, April 10; Elkhorn Legion Athletic club, Elkhorn, April 12.

SANFORD TO TALK AT LIONS MEETING

Dr. Chester Milton Sanford who will be in this city from April 1 to 5 under auspices of the board of education and will speak at the Lions club dinner at the Conway hotel Monday noon. Dr. Sanford is one of the country's leading specialists on vocational guidance.

PERSONALS

George Beckley is in Chicago on business.

Miss Sylvia Schneider and Miss Adelle Reetz are spending the week-end visiting friends at Milwaukee.

Miss Irene Ziegler is spending the week-end with relatives at Brillion.

Miss Beata Bishop is spending the week-end with her parents at Kingston.

Miss Edna Ehlike is spending Easter with her parents at Winneconne.

Miss Effie Melcher is confined to her home with illness.

Mrs. Selma Swails, Pontiac, Mich., is spending the Easter holidays with her mother, Mrs. H. Koletzke, Summer-st.

J. Raymond Walsh has returned from a visit at his home in Beloit.

Miss Appolina Larsen of Green Bay was an Appleton visitor Friday.

Miss Marie Karssboom, city nurse and Mrs. Russell LeRoux left for Wisconsin Rapids Saturday afternoon. They will spend Easter there.

Miss Margaret O'Leary is spending the week with relatives in Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. M. Derens returned Friday from Milwaukee where she spent several weeks visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Clark will spend the week-end with relatives at Escanaba, Mich.

VOTE INTEREST IN BADGER DRY LAWS

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

mandate and action has been postponed pending the outcome of the referendum. The legislature authorized the referendum a month ago when both houses adopted the resolution of which Senator Thomas M. Duncan, Milwaukee Socialist, was the author.

BOTH SIDES ACTIVE

Both sides have made an effort to "get out the vote," which in a spring election is usually very light.

On the side of the dries, the Anti-Saloon league, Women's Christian Temperance Union and the National Prohibition party joined forces in an effort to bring about a referendum on the subject of the attack on the Prohibition amendment.

Major Henry H. Curran, president of the association has joined Dr. J. J. Seelman, state chairman, in the battle of the wets to wipe the state prohibition enforcement set from the statute books. Participating in the dry fight have been Dr. Leigh Colvin of New York, chairman of the national committee of the Prohibition party, and national officers of the W. C. T. U. and Francis E. McGovern, former governor of Wisconsin.

The question as to whether the state enforcement act should be amended to eliminate penalties for manufacture, sale and possession of alcoholic beverages up to 2.75 percent was sponsored by Senator Duncan. It is in line with an amendment to the state enforcement act fostered by Duncan and vetoed as "unconstitutional" by Gov. Fred R. Zimmerman after passage by the 1927 legislature.

FORMER ATTEMPT

The Duncan referendum marks the latest chapter in the prohibition fight in Wisconsin. In 1916 the state asked congress to modify the Volstead act to permit the manufacture and sale of 2.75 per cent beer under government supervision with the provision that no beverage so consumed shall be drunk on the premises where sold. The referendum was carried by a 2 to 1 vote, with all 16 out of 71 counties supporting the request.

While the result of the referendum will not bind the legislature to carry out its mandate, the leaders of both wets and dries have emphasized the bearing the result will have in shaping the course of the legislation.

Riding along with the prohibition questions, are two referendums on constitutional amendments, one of which would permit the legislature to raise the salary of its members. The other is on permitting county sheriffs to succeed themselves. This is not now permitted.

DUNCAN'S VIEWS

Madison—(AP)—State Senator Thomas Duncan Saturday said that if the referendum on repeal of the state dry law results in an unfavorable vote next Tuesday, efforts will immediately be started for a Wisconsin "dilemma for a pint law."

Senator Duncan's statement concerned "the twin force of intolerance, the Klan and the Anti-Saloon league," being an outline of some of the drastic laws enacted in mid-western states, he said, under their guidance.

"The fight now shifts to Wisconsin. If the dries win, drastic legislation like the Jones 'five and ten' law and the life for a pint law will be started Wednesday morning in Madison."

"There is a very real danger that if the dries win on Tuesday Wisconsin politics will sink to the level of politics in Indiana and Illinois."

The remainder of the statement was devoted to discussion of these conditions and the application of the Hoover-Kohler veto in Wisconsin to the dry and wet situation.

BIRTHS

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vandenberg, 1023 W. Lawrence st., at St. Elizabeth hospital Thursday.

Graham-Paige Parade—Sun.

PLANS TO TRAVEL TO POLAR REGION IN SPECIAL U-BOAT

New York—(AP)—Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins, Polar explorer, announced Saturday was considering a voyage across the North Pole by submarine, possibly this summer or next.

Commander Sloan Danenhower, technical expert of the Simon Lake Submarine company, who plans to navigate the craft, said the submersible which is to be used was being fitted out at Bridgeport, Conn.

Sir Hubert said the idea of a submarine trip across the Arctic sea had been in the minds of sub designers and explorers since 1899, when Simon Lake advanced it. Stefansson and Peary both had considered it, he said.

"On the face of it," he said, "it seems risky. Still as a mathematical hazard I consider it no more risky—less so—than an airplane flight over the Polar seas."

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL IS BOUND OVER FOR TRIAL

Wautoma—(AP)—As the aftermath of an automobile trip with Lillian Scott, a president of the senior class of the Hancock high school, Principal Allen Nightingale Busse Saturday awaited trial on a charge of abduction. His bail was raised from $1,000 to $2,000 after a preliminary hearing before County Judge George P. Sorenson Friday afternoon at which Miss Scott was the principal witness.

Miss Scott testified that she willingly accompanied the principal on the automobile trip to northern Illinois three weeks ago, after Busse told her he no longer cared for his wife. She said they decided to run away at the end of the school year in June, but finally decided to leave in March. She testified they spent two nights in a Bloomington, Ill., hotel and one night in Peru, Ill., but occupied adjoining rooms, and that Busse, although he came into her room, made no improper advances.

Busse gave himself up voluntarily when he learned of the abduction for the first time in the morning of March 8, at the home of a married sister in Milwaukee.

COURTHOUSE OFFICES TO BE OPEN TUESDAY

All offices in the county courthouse will be open as usual on election day next Tuesday, according to John E. Hantschel, county clerk. State law provides that county offices should be closed only on September and November election days. Many inquiries have been received by Mr. Hantschel as to whether the county offices would remain open.

REFERENDUM PUZZLE IS EXPLAINED BY DAMMANN

Milwaukee—(AP)—Believing that there was some confusion over the referendum ballot to be cast by each voter on Tuesday, Secretary of State Theodore Dammann Saturday gave out a statement in which he tried to clarify the referendum.

"There are four questions on the referendum ballot, and each voter is entitled to vote as he or she desires on each question," the secretary of state said. "The voter may vote for or against only one question and the ballot cast is legal. I believe the confusion comes from the fact that two questions involving the Severnson act are on the ballot. The voter may 'yes' or 'no' on both these questions and the ballot is legal. There is no way in which the voter may invalidate the ballot by either voting for all questions or neglecting to vote for any."

The speeding fire truck has been tamed a bit in Brawley, Calif. The city council has placed a 30-mile-an-hour speed limit on fire apparatus.

SPECTACULAR FALL AND SHARP RALLY ON WEEK'S MARKET

Call Money Rate Reached Highest Level Since Crisis of 1920

BY STANLEY W. PRENOSIL

(Associated Press Financial Editor)

New York—(AP)—Passing through the worst credit crisis in nine years the stock market plunged downward this week, forcing thousands of margin speculators to liquidate with terrific losses, and then rallied in a spectacular fashion. Based on the Associated Press and other leading indices, the market actually gained ground during the week.

A temporary stringency in call money which sent the rate from 12 to 20 per cent on Tuesday, the highest level since the post war deflation crisis of 1920, precipitated the break in prices.

The money pinch finally was broken by New York bankers who supplied the market with funds in order to keep the rate from going above 20 per cent on Tuesday, and stabilized the rate at 15 per cent the next day. Call money renewed at 15 on Thursday and then dropped to 8.

Despite the drastic shake-out in stock prices, the brokers' loan situation disclosed little improvement. The weekly statement of the New York Federal Reserve bank showed that loans had dropped only $144,000,000 in the week ended Wednesday, which was less than the increase of $166,000,000 to a new high record the week before. No change was made in federal reserve discount rates.

Although the credit situation overshadowed all other developments in the week's market, the market received considerable stimulus from the announcement that all executives had agreed upon a policy of conservation, and from rumors that negotiations were in progress where by the International Telephone and Telegraph company would take over the newly organized RCA communications from the Radio Corporation.

International Telephone soared to a new high at 275 and Radio rallied from a low of 83 on Tuesday to 109, or within a fraction of the top, and then eased to 106 1/2.

Total sales crossed 3,000,000 shares for the first time in the market history or Tuesday, but trading tapered off in the closing days of the week.

SPANISH AVIATORS MAY VISIT NEW YORK

Rio Janeiro—(AP)—Captains Jimenez and Iglesias, the Spanish aviators who made a brilliant flight across the south Atlantic from Spain this week, may visit New York unofficially.

The present flight is being made in connection with the forthcoming international exposition at Seville, Spain. The official itinerary, as announced recently, touches Buenos Aires, crosses to the Pacific coast and then runs northward to Havana, Cuba, where it ends officially. However, the fliers hope to go to New York later.

WOLVES AND TIGERS SCHEDULE TWO GAMES

Ann Arbor, Mich.—(AP)—Michigan and Princeton have scheduled two football games. The first is to be played at Princeton Oct. 31, 1931, and the return game in Ann Arbor Oct. 29, 1932. Other details of the contract were not to be had at the athletic office Saturday.

Michigan and Princeton have met in football only once before that was in 1881 when the Wolverines defeated the Tigers, 31 to 0. Michigan played only three games that season, losing to Yale, 11 to 0, and to Harvard, 4 to 0.

The speeding fire truck has been tamed a bit in Brawley, Calif. The city council has placed a 30-mile-an-hour speed limit on fire apparatus.

Held in Death

Charles A. Belles, above, self-proclaimed "faith healer" of Allenton, Ill., was arrested in connection with the death of 21-year-old Verna Octavia Delp, on whose body were found two cabalistic notes used in "pow-wow" rites. Authorities promised an investigation of witchcraft practices in Lehigh and adjoining counties.

SEES SIGNALS THAT WEREN'T THERE, SO DRIVER IS NABBED

Milwaukee—(AP)—One must be "it up" if one sees traffic lights at Twentieth and Walnut st. Motorcycle Officer Gus Patzke heard a crash and rushed to that corner in time to pull Francis Murray, 19, from the wreckage. The youth had driven through an arterial and struck a parked automobile.

"You can't arrest me, the lights were in my favor," protested Murray.

As there are no traffic lights on this corner, the youth was arrested and charged with driving while drunk.

Markets

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago—(AP)—U. S. D. of A. —Hogs receipts 4,000, including 2,700 dead; market mostly steady to strong with Friday's average; 210 lbs. shipped; 1,500; estimated hold-over 5,000. Butchers, medium to choice 250-300 lb. 11.00-11.25; 200-250 lb. 11.00-11.25; 150-200 lb. 10.75-11.00; 100-150 lb. 10.50-10.75; 50-100 lb. 10.25-10.50; 25-50 lb. 10.00-10.25; 10-25 lb. 9.75-10.00; 5-10 lb. 9.50-9.75; 1-5 lb. 9.25-9.50; 1-1 lb. 9.00-9.25; 1/2 lb. 8.75-9.00; 1/4 lb. 8.50-8.75; 1/8 lb. 8.25-8.50; 1/16 lb. 8.00-8.25; 1/32 lb. 7.75-8.00; 1/64 lb. 7.50-7.75; 1/128 lb. 7.25-7.50; 1/256 lb. 7.00-7.25; 1/512 lb. 6.75-7.00; 1/1024 lb. 6.50-6.75; 1/2048 lb. 6.25-6.50; 1/4096 lb. 6.00-6.25; 1/8192 lb. 5.75-6.00; 1/16384 lb. 5.50-5.75; 1/32768 lb. 5.25-5.50; 1/65536 lb. 5.00-5.25; 1/131072 lb. 4.75-5.00; 1/262144 lb. 4.50-4.75; 1/524288 lb. 4.25-4.50; 1/1048576 lb. 4.00-4.25; 1/2097152 lb. 3.75-4.00; 1/4194304 lb. 3.50-3.75; 1/8388608 lb. 3.25-3.50; 1/16777216 lb. 3.00-3.25; 1/33554432 lb. 2.75-3.00; 1/67108864 lb. 2.50-2.75; 1/134217728 lb. 2.25-2.50; 1/268435456 lb. 2.00-2.25; 1/536870912 lb. 1.75-2.00; 1/1073741824 lb. 1.50-1.75; 1/2147483648 lb. 1.25-1.50; 1/4294967296 lb. 1.00-1.25; 1/8589934592 lb. 0.75-1.00; 1/17179869184 lb. 0.50-0.75; 1/34359738368 lb. 0.25-0.50; 1/68719476736 lb. 0.00-0.25; 1/137438953472 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/274877906944 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/549755813888 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/1099511627776 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/2199023255552 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/4398046511104 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/8796093022208 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/17592186044416 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/35184372088832 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/70368744177664 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/140737488355328 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/281474976710656 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/562949953421312 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/1125899906842624 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/2251799813685248 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/4503599627370496 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/9007199254740992 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/18014398509481984 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/36028797018963968 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/72057594037927936 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/144115188075855872 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/288230376151711744 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/576460752303423488 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/1152921504606846976 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/2305843009213693952 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/4611686018427387904 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/9223372036854775808 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/18446740073709551616 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/36893480147419103232 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/73786960294838206464 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/147573920589676412928 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/295147841179352825856 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/590295682358705651712 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/1180591364717411303424 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/2361182729434822606848 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/4722365458869645213696 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/9444730917739290427392 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/18889461835478580854784 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/37778923670957161709568 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/75557847341914323419136 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/151115694683828646838272 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/302231389367657293676544 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/604462778735314587353088 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/1208925577470629174706176 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/2417851154941258349412352 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/4835702309882516698824704 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/9671404619765033397649408 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/19342809239530066795298816 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/38685618479060133590597632 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/77371236958120267181195264 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/154742473916240534362390528 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/309484947832481068724781056 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/618969895664962137449562112 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/1237939791329924274899124224 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/2475879582659848549798248448 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/4951759165319697099596496896 lb. 0.00-0.00; 1/990351833063939419

Fierce Fiery
Loves of
The Desert

John Gilbert in "Desert Nights"

His Greatest Romantic Triumph

4310

754
755

274

3373

557

BRIN'S
APPLETON
THEATRE

Easter Brings To You

These Glorious Talking and Sound Attractions,
Perfectly Reproduced and Synchronized as It is Possible Only
With the Marvel of Modern Science.
The One and Only VITAPHONE and MOVIE TONE

— SUNDAY — MONDAY and TUESDAY —

JOHN GILBERT In Thrilling Glorious Sound in DESERT NIGHTS
— With —
ERNEST TORRENCE
MARY NOLAN

FIERCE hates, fiery love, sweep across the burning African desert with John Gilbert in his most virile romantic role. A girl, alone with two men, where the last vestiges of civilization drop off, and primitive passions rule!

FOR BEST SEATS, ATTEND THE MATINEES AND AVOID EVENING CROWDS

STAN LAUREL—OLIVER HARDY
in "We Faw Down"

807

— WEDNESDAY —
PETER B. KYNE'S FINEST STORY
NOW A FILM OF 1001 THRILLS

TIDE OF EMPIRE

— With —
RENEE ADOREE
George Duryea
Fred Kohler

— THURSDAY — FRIDAY and SATURDAY —
HEAR HAINES AND HOW!
Wise-cracks and All

WM. HAINES — JOAN CREWFORD
in the Talking Sensation

THE DUKE STEPS OUT

— CONTINUOUS PERFORMANCE DAILY —
ADULTS ..... Mat. 35c — Eve. 50c
CHILDREN—Week-Day Matinees 10c; Eve. 25c

TRI - CITIES ONLY VITAPHONE EQUIPPED THEATRE

EVERY SUNDAY
BARGAIN HOUR
11:30 to 12:30 ..... 25c

490

104

4410

1515

299

3850
3851